BLOODY WAVE OF FANATICISM SWEEPING OVER ASIA MINOR

FANATICS SPREAD DEATH OVER LAND

Fearful Uprising of Moslem Hordes is Growing Hourly More Serious and Murder is Rampant.

ONE VILLAGE IN WHICH NONE WAS SPARED

Five American Missionary Women are in Desperate Situation--One From Elkhart, Ind.

Constantinople, April 22.—(Asiatic Turkey)—The situation in Asiatic Turkey, according to the latest intelligence received here, is distinctly threatening. The wave of fanaticism which originated at Adana some ten days ago, and found its expression in the killing of Christians, apparently is spreading generally through the eastern provinces. Upward of ten thousand Armenians where massacred in Syrian towns and villages principally in the vilayet of Adana, during outbursts of fanatical zeal that took place at the time of the spring festival in honor of Mohammedans upon the receipt of news of the overturn of the "heretical" government at Constantinople. One embassy places the estimates of killed as high as fifteen thousand.

Trying to Quell Mobs.

The government has sent urgent commands to the Vali of Adana that the mobs must be put down and the leaders harshly dealt with. The attacks on the Armenians appear to have been instigated solely by the reactionaries.

A dispatch received from Mersina, dated yesterday, says the Armenian town of Hadjin, in the northern part of the Adana vilayet is beleaguered by Moslem tribesmen, who are only awaiting sufficient numerical strength to rush the improvised defenses erected by the Armenians. The Armenians, however, are well armed and will put up a vigorous defense. Up to the present time two persons have been killed at Hadjin. British, French and German vessels of war have arrived at Mersina.

A dispatch from Antioch, dated April 19th, via Aleppo, April 20th, and received here today, says that when the message was filed murder and plundering in the city were still going on.

Situation in Tarsus.

Another message has been received from Tarsus. It is dated April 20th and was sent by courier to Mersina. It sets forth that the missionaries at Tarsus, which were giving shelter to three thousand refugees, were well protected. Martial law had been declared and the situation was showing some improvement. Five hundred houses had been burned in the Armenian quarter of the city, where fifty persons had been killed. Others had been killed in the surrounding villages.

Aleppo under today's date, reports the situation of all Americans there to be dangerous. No mention is made of any one being killed or injured. There is great insecurity even in Aleppo owing to the arrival in the city of bands of furious tribesmen. Collective consular representations have been made to the governor general of the district, urging him to relieve the situation in the terrorized territory. The governor-general promised to do all in his power, but he admitted that he was not able to accomplish much as there were only 400 soldiers in the city.

MASSACRED TO THE LAST BABE

Aleppo, Asiatic Turkey, April 20.—The entire population of Kirskan, located between here and Alexandretta, even to the last babe, has been massacred.

The French mission at Ekbase is besieged by fanatical Moslems.

The Armenian village of Deurtyul is surrounded, and according to a messenger who crawled through the Arab lines at night and made his way here for help, the situation there is hopeless. The buildings on the edge of town already were in flames when he escaped.

The massacres are being carried out with the greatest violence. Neither women or children are spared. The motto of the Moslem is "No twig of the accursed race shall be suffered to live."

The Armenians, recognizing that the massacres have been organized and carried out by adherents of the old Turkish regime, are looking to the Young Turks for future protection.

MR. MAURER MAY BE SAFE.

London, April 22.—A message received here from Tarsus, referring to the casualties there, says:

"D. M. Rogers was killed. The others are safe."

This communication is taken to indicate that Henry Maurer, who was reported to have been killed at the same time as Mr. Rogers, may still be alive.

It was sent by Thomas D. Christie, a missionary at Tarsus, at midnight of April 21, to the Bible Lands mission here, and was in reply to an inquiry regarding the fate of missionaries at Adana and Tarsus.

FANATICISM IS SPREADING.

Constantinople, April 22.—Grave news was received here this morning from Erzerum, the principal town of Turkish Armenia. The transports of delight of the people at the proclamation of constitutional government are now being supplanted by a movement in favor of the sheri laws and the sultan which, it is feared, may lead to a conflict between Christians and Moslems. The wave of fanaticism which originated at Adana some ten days ago, apparently is spreading generally through the eastern provinces. The Christian villages in the vilayets of Aleppo and Sivas have been attacked by Kurds, Circassians and Nomads, and the inhabitants are imploring the porte to send troops for their protection.

BLAST OF DYNAMITE FAILS TO MOVE ICE GORGE

Situation at Niagara is Now Said to be Somewhat Improved.

Fort Niagara, N. Y., April 22.—The first attempt to break the ice jam made at 12:45 p. m. was an apparent failure. Two charges of fifty pounds each floated under an ice bridge lying between shore and the head of the jam, but failed to open a channel.

SITUATION A BIT IMPROVED.

Lewiston, N. Y., April 22.—A slight change for the better has come in the critical condition which for several days has threatened the towns along the Niagara river.

The force of the river current, crowded with loose lumps of ice, evidently has ground out a smooth subway for itself beneath the main mass of the floe for the water in the cellars rose only five inches during the night and receded an equal distance in the early dawn.

The ice plowing the upper banks, uprooting huge trees and smashing docks and boat houses is still poised on its lofty level, but the middle line of the surface of the floe apparently has dropped a few feet. The jam is of appalling proportions. It is twelve miles in length and in many places sixty feet in depth and represents millions of tons and a strength powerful enough to annihilate the four villages along its border if it should start to go out all at once. Another element of terror is its pestilential nature. Mingled with the slushy ice and cast high on the banks is a week's sewage from all the cities along the Niagara frontier.

The plan of Henry A. Kunzie, assistant superintendent of public works, and Charles A. Tuttle, an expert on high explosives, who yesterday afternoon decided on a method of procedure and in the evening obtained the permission of the state to carry it out, is first to blow off the head of the ice pack now projecting into Lake Ontario, by an enormous charge of dynamite. Other sections will then be successively separated from the whole and allowed to drift out into the lake. Three wagon loads of dynamite were sent from Buffalo last night for this purpose and are now safe in Youngstown at the mouth of the river. Captain Mitchell, officer in command of Fort Niagara, has offered the assistance of his 120 men. Captain Nelson, in charge of the life saving station at Youngstown, and his crew of seven men will also help in the breaking of the jam.

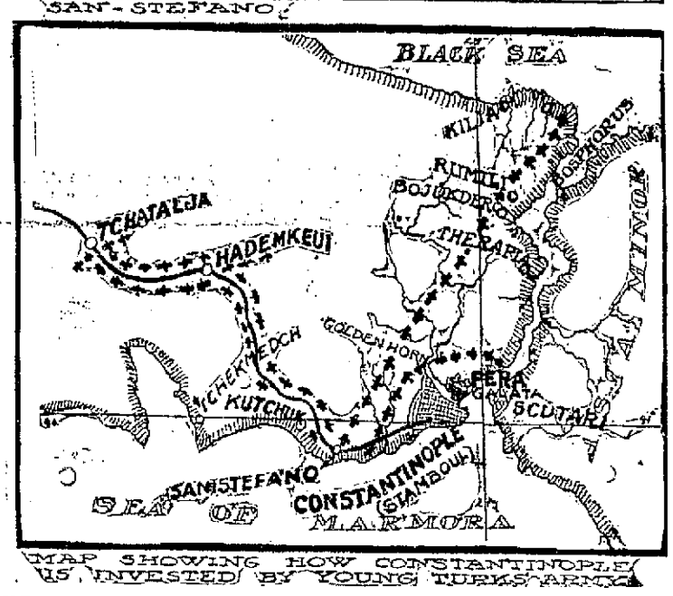

KLING RECOMMITTED.

Peter Kling became violently insane at his home, 2513 John street, last night and was taken to the county jail and held until this morning when an affidavit was filed upon which he was recommitted. He had been an inmate of a hospital for insane previously.

STRANGER WILL NOT TELL POLICE A THING

Refused to Give Name or to Account for Some Leather.

A man whom the police say refuses to give his name or any account of himself was arrested today by Patrolman Dickson and identified as a stranger who left some valuable leather at the store of S. Freiburger & Bro. on East Columbia street several days ago and failed to call for it again. He had offered it for sale at a ridiculously low price and the firm asked him to return.

In the meantime the police department was notified and a watch was kept for the man, but he did not show up. Today the patrolman saw him enter a saloon on Calhoun street and after he had been identified by a man from the leather house he was taken to headquarters and held for investigation.

The police profess ignorance as to where the leather came from. It is of a very fine quality such as is made into fine shoes and there are ten or twelve skins worth in the neighborhood of $25. They were offered for sale at $5. The man who offered them said he found them in a car with his household goods which were shipped in here and he had had them a long time.

The man under arrest said that he knew nothing about the leather and that he is not the man who tried to sell it. He refused to give his name or tell the police anything about himself.

MUST EMPLOY UNION MEN.

Remarkable Order to Receiver of An Arkansas Coal Mine.

Fort Smith, Ark., April 22.—Judge J. V. Bourland issued an order of court here yesterday that is probably without precedent. In the appointment of R. A. Young receiver for the Hiawatha Smokeless Coal company, of Coaldale, Ark., he ordered that the receiver employ none but union men in the mine, or sell it.

Judge Bourland is judge of the chancery court and at a banquet of the Arkansas State Federation of Labor here some months ago stated that he would never grant an injunction against a labor union in the interests of a corporation.

DEADLOCK IS UNBROKEN.

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—The roll call on the 74th joint ballot for the election of a United States senator left the candidates in the same relative position. Former Senator Hopkins received 72 votes as against 78 given to him yesterday. There will be no quorum present when the roll is called tomorrow and the next actual ballot will be next Tuesday noon.

Sultan and Chiefs of Constitutionalists Come to Agreement.

RULER'S POWERS ARE RESTRICTED

Liberal Army Has Constantinople Now Completely Invested.

Constantinople, April 22.—The sultan of Turkey and the chiefs of the constitutional party have reached an agreement under the terms of which his majesty remains as sovereign of the empire, but with powers somewhat more restricted than before the palace conspiracy of April 13.

WILL NOT BE DEPOSED.

London, April 22.—A private telegram received here today from a well informed source at Constantinople says that the deposition of the sultan is by no means a certainty.

FIVE WOMEN IN PERIL.

Beirut, April 22.—Five American women missionaries are in danger at Hadjim in the vilayet of Adana, Asiatic Turkey. One of them, Miss Lambert, has sent a message down to the coast asking for immediate help. The women are entirely alone and defenseless. The villages surrounding Hadjim are in flames and Hadjim itself is invested by nomad tribes. Messages from the interior are being suppressed by the authorities.

The situation in the country north, east and west of Alexandretta arising from the anti-Christian outbreaks is most serious. There has been massacre and pillage at Antioch and rioting at Birjik.

The town of Kirkian, a short distance east of Beilan and southeast of Alexandretta, has been sacked and burned.

Quits Mombassa and Makes Start for Interior of Africa.

WELL RECEIVED AT MOMBASSA

Is Guest of Honor at Dinner and Makes a Speech in Usual Spirit.

Mombasa, April 22.—Theodore Roosevelt and the members of his party left here on a special train at half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon for Kahiti, whence they will be conveyed to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease for their first shooting trip. The party is accompanied by F. J. Jackson, acting governor of the protectorate.

Before leaving Mr. Roosevelt telegraphed to King Edward thanking him for the message of greeting read by Mr. Jackson at the dinner given in Mr. Roosevelt's honor at the Mombasa club last night.

Had a Guard of Honor.

A guard of honor composed of marines and bluejackets from the Pandora was at the railroad station when the Roosevelt party arrived and was inspected by Mr. Roosevelt. A number of officials and civilians also were present and the station was decorated with flags.

Mr. Roosevelt spent the morning at the government house, where he was the guest last night of Mr. Jackson. Kermit Roosevelt, J. Alden Loring, Edmund Heller and Major Mearns spent their time up to the leaving of the train in driving about the city.

From Mombasa Mr. Roosevelt dispatched a cablegram to the emperor of Germany, saying: "I desire to express my appreciation of my treatment on board the German steamer Admiral under Captain Doherr and my admiration of the astounding energy and growth of the mercantile and colonial interests of Germany in East Africa."

The Roosevelt party will go by

CORNER IS BUSTED; PATTEN HAS QUIT

May and July Wheat Almost 9 Cents Below Last Week's Highest Figure on Board.

BULL KING HAS ABANDONED THE FIELD

Millions Wiped Out by Breaking of Corner--Patten in Colorado Has Beautiful Grouch.

Chicago, April 22.—A further tremendous drive at the so-called wheat corner today to many traders spelled the end of the big bull market. July near the close touched $1.09⅝ and May $1.20¾. May closed at this figure and July only fractianally above the lowest.

Has the bull campaign in wheat, so far as the public is concerned, been abandoned?

Has the bull leader, James A. Patten, now on his way to visit the ranch of a friend in Colorado, changed his views?

These and other questions, unthought of a week ago, were rife on the board of trade today when the slump in wheat continued, prices reaching a point eight to eight and a half cents below the record price of last week, when Mr. Patten declared wheat was worth intrinsically every cent paid for it.

Market Abandoned by Patten.

Meanwhile James A. Patten, who has been the inspiring leader of the bull movement, was reported on his way to a ranch in Colorado, leaving the market to work out its own destiny.

Four prominent houses are said to have sold an aggregate of seven million bushels of wheat during the day.

Stop loss orders poured into the pit in such abundance that brokers seldom were able to execute the orders within ⅛c of the price aimed at.

The week's decline of nearly nine cents has wiped out millions of dollars of profit, not all of it paper. It is not difficult this afternoon to read the loss of fortunes on the faces of customers who were long of wheat. Many of them who had, at the top, handsome profits, but waited for still more, were bitter.

Justly or unjustly, much blame was placed on Mr. Patten for apparently leaving the market to itself before the bull campaign had reached a safer stage.

Patten Denied Corner.

Just a week ago May wheat here sold at $1.29¼ and July at $1.18⅞.

Repeatedly asked if he had a corner in the two deliveries Mr. Patten emphatically denied that he had, asserting, amidst the quotation of crop statistics and prospects that actual users of wheat were responsible for the high price and that the cereal was worth all that was being paid for it.

"Even were I entirely out of the market prices would be as high, or higher, than they are," said the bull leader.

Since then the market has been declining in a way which the ordinary followers of Mr. Patten have been unable to explain. Then instead of the recovery expected after the six cents decline of Tuesday and Wednesday, the market opened extremely nervous and weak. May sold at $1.21⅛ early, 3⅞c under yesterdays closing, and 8⅛c below the high price last week. July, in which the bulk of the trading has been done recently, declined to $1.10⅝, 3½@⅝c below yesterday's close, and 8½c under the record price last Friday.

Bears Pressed Forward.

At these prices the market steadied, but showed no evidence of recuperative powers. Bears jubilantly pressed their advantage, pointing to the weak foreign market as indicative of the correctness of the bear view that there is no world-wide shortage of wheat. Stop loss sales were numerous.

Armour, who in a recent interview, upheld Mr. Patten's bullish servey of conditions and whose house was credited with buying yesterday, was rumored to be selling on the Liverpool market.

In the Bartlett-Patten offices it was stated that there was no reason to change any statement previously made by Mr. Patten. The break in prices was characterized as a flurry. The lost ground, it was said, would be regained without any manipulation. Timid holders, it was declared, were unloading, frightened at the decline, or because their resources were insufficient to maintain them in the market.

They Looked to Patten.

It was this class of traders mainly who expressed curiosity as to Mr. Patten's present views. Despite his assertion that he is not manipulating the market, they expected that he would prevent any such slump as the present one. Among Mr. Patten's allies and intimates, however, the word "wait" was spoken optimistically, although some of them said "it looked funny the way the market acted."

The eight cent decline has made a big hole in paper profits, although no one can say, as no one knows, the extent of the long lines held or at what price purchased. Also there have been heavy actual losses among traders whose resources have given out and their trades closed.

PATTEN IS SORE.

Trinidad, Colo., April 22.—James A. Patten, Chicago's "wheat king" who was reported yesterday to have deserted the battle in the wheat pit to inspect for himself the wheat situation in the central west, arrived in Trinidad this morning and left shortly afterwards for Tercio, Colo., a little post station near the New Mexico line. From there Mr. Patten will drive twenty-five miles overland to the ranch of W. H. Bartlett, near Vermejo Park, New Mexico. The trip will not be a pleasant one, for a blinding snow storm is prevailing today and the 25-mile ride must be made over the mountains through heavy snow drifts. Mr. Patten appeared tired, and extremely nervous and he was not in the best of temper when approached by a reporter.

"None of your business," was his answer as to his mission in Trinidad. "I've been hounded to death by reporters for weeks."

Asked concerning the report that he had experts gathering data on July wheat throughout the west, Mr. Patten refused to make answer. It is understood Mr. Patten will spend some time at the Bartlett ranch and as it is remote from telegraphic and railroad communication, his desire for rest and relaxation probably will be gratified.

Drives Reporter Away.

Mr. Patten displayed great anger when the reporter persisted in questioning him regarding wheat conditions.

"It's none of your business what I think," he snapped. "I want to forget wheat and I'm tired of reporters. Get out."

That settled it.

Mr. Patten reached Trinidad at 3 o'clock this morning and left here at 3 o'clock after a short rest at a hotel. He is traveling alone.

At the hotel where Mr. Patten rested for a few hours he was warned by the clerk that it would be dangerous to attempt the overland trip from Tercio to the Bartlett ranch today as a furious blizzard is raging in the mountains.

"I don't care," said Mr. Patten, "I want seclusion and rest and I'm going after it."

The stage cannot reach the Bartlett ranch before nightfall and the roads are in a dangerous condition as a result of the almost unprecedented snowfall, tremendous slides being of frequent occurrence.

FLEEING FROM PUBLICITY.

Hinchinson, Kas., April 22.—James A. Patten, the Chicago wheat bull, passed through this city late last night enroute to Trinidad, Colo., to visit at the ranch of a friend near Trinidad. Mr. Patten said he has been making no personal investigation of the wheat fields, but was fleeing from newspaper publicity.

SLUMP IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 22.—The New York wheat market dropped rapidly today, prices at noon being 3@3½c lower than yesterday's closing. The decline came on heavy selling, some of it attributed to Chicago interests. A number of stop loss orders were uncovered at the lower quotations.

THE WEATHER.

Chicago, April 22.—For Indiana and Illinois—Generally fair weather, except probably showers in extreme south portion tonight or Friday.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday.

Ohio—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday.

$500-WIFE DEMANDS DIVORCE FROM HINES

She States That He Does Not Provide for Her and Child.

Esther M. Hines evidently resents the implication that her love and affection and ability to make a home happy are not worth more than $500, as she filed suit in the superior court today against John Hines asking for a divorce and the custody of their child. A few days ago the husband entered suit against Charles Monsdorfer alleging that he had enticed her away from home and asking $500 as damages.

In the divorce suit Mrs. Hines says they were married on February 29, 1905, and lived together until last Sunday. She charges that he has failed for more than two years to make reasonable provision for her and that his child has been left to charity to be cared for. She wants the custody of the child because, she says, he associates and allows the little one to associate with and be handled by immoral and lewd people. She also says he has threatened her with bodily harm in event of her refusal to return to him and she wants a restraining order.

Drove His Wife Out.

Thelka Reiling charges in her divorce suit against George Reiling that he refused from the time of their marriage in 1897 to provide her with any money with which to buy clothing for herself and that she was compelled to work for the neighbors to earn her clothes.

She charges that on October 2, 1898, he went home so drunk he could not help himself and that when she tried to assist him he grabbed her by the throat, struck her, called her bad names and chased her out of the house and she has since been afraid to go back to live with him. She wants to be restored to her maiden name of Burkhardt. Albert E. Thomas is her attorney.

Court Notes.

A. W. Hamilton and R. W. Stine, attorneys from Bluffton, were in the circuit court today fixing up the issues in a suit brought by the Indiana Bermudez Asphalt company against the City of Bluffton.

The damage suit of John Neuman against the Fort Wayne Electric works was put on trial before a superior court jury. He demands $1,999 for the loss of three of his fingers.

Judge Heaton ordered the Willow Creek ditch to be established and appointed County Surveyor David Spindler as superintendent. The drain with its branches will be about fifty miles in length and will extend into Allen, DeKalb and Noble counties.

Because his wife will not live with him Daniel D. Miller, a fireman in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, has asked for a divorce from her. Her name is Rosa M. Miller and McAdams & Hartzell filed the suit.

MILKMAN TAKES HIS FIGHT INTO THE COURTS

W. F. DeVilbiss Secures a Restraining Order Against City.

While Mayor W. J. Hosey was hearing evidence in the cases of the milkmen who refused to allow their cows to be subjected to tuberculin tests and the revocation of whose licenses the health department is seeking, he was served with a restraining order this morning, secured by W. F. DeVilbiss, to prevent him from revoking his license. Testimony was taken in the DeVilbiss case, but the matter went no further.

The complaint in the case was filed in the circuit court by Atorney E. V. Harris, who recites that DeVilbiss was given a license on May 6, of last year, under an ordinance passed by the city council August 27, 1907, and the ordinance and all its amendments are set out in full.

Then the complaint recites that a demand is being made upon him to permit his cattle to be subjected to a tuberculin test without having first had the herd examined by the state veterinarian to determine whether or not any of the animals are diseased. He says notice to this effect has been served upon him by Mayor W. J. Hosey at the instance of Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, secretary of the city health board, and that in its proceedings the city assumes that he must permit the tests without an examination by the state veterinarian.

This, it is alleged, is contrary to the laws of the state and in this the validity of the ordinance is attacked. The matter will come up for a hearing in ten days and the action is for the purpose of trying to show that the ordinance is in conflict with the state laws. It will also determine the rights of the city in the matter.

Craig License Revoked.

The hearing on the cases of M. Faugh & Sons, Nelson Craig, Christian Prange and W. F. Devilbiss continued without a noon recess until late this afternoon. It was shown that Craig had refused to have the tuberculin tests applied to his cattle and at the close of the testimony the mayor announced the revocation of his license.

The evidence against the Flaugh firm was also heard and after the finding in the Craig case had been announced Judge S. M. Hench, who represented the dairymen, made a statement in which he said his client had decided to follow the provisions of the ordinance and asked that the proceeding be withdrawn. There was an objection to this as the license is about expired and no great hardship could have been inflicted by its revocation.

Christian Prange announced he would put up a fight on the ground that no request had ever been made upon him in the matter and he had not refused. The dairymen were evidently inclined to follow the law and it is possible that there will be no general movement against the milk ordinance.

ROOSEVELT GOES AFTER BIG GAME

train to Kapiti Plains station, whence they will be conveyed to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi river. Sir Alfred is already there awaiting the coming of his guests. The party probably will remain at the ranch for one week, making it the base for shooting expeditions, and then move on to Naironei.

Mr. Roosevelt, his son Kermit, Edmund Heller, F. C. Selous and R. F. Cunninghame, the general manager of the expedition, were entertained at dinner last night by the members of the Mombassa club.

King Edward's Greeting.

The acting governor of the protectorate, E. J. Jackson, in proposing the health of Mr. Roosevelt, read the following telegram from King Edward:

"I bid you a hearty welcome to British East Africa, and I trust that you will have a pleasant time and meet with every success."

Continuing, Mr. Jackson said Mr. Roosevelt had left the "big stick" at home and after seven strenuous years as president of the United States had come out to Africa to make use of the rifle. In conclusion he promised the distinguished visitor an immense variety of game and good sport.

When Mr. Roosevelt arose to reply he was enthusiastically received with full high and musical honors. He began with a tribute to the British people for their energy and genius in civilizing the uncivilized places of the earth. He said he was surprised at what he had heard of the progress of British East Africa, but he warned his hearers that they could not expect to achieve in a short time what it had taken America twenty generations to accomplish. He then emphasized the necessity of leaving local questions to be solved by the authorities on the spot and commented on the fact that the people at home knew little of affairs abroad. In this connection he instanced the United States and the Philippine Islands.

Believes in Peace.

Continuing, Mr. Roosevelt expressed his great pleasure at the welcome given him yesterday by the British cruiser Pandora, whose rails and masts were manned by cheering sailors when the Admiral came into the harbor. He said he believed in peace, but considered that strength meant peace, and he hoped that all the great nations would provide themselves with this means to the end.

In conclusion, Mr. Roosevelt referred briefly to his future plans and gave some of his first impressions of the country.

Mr. Roosevelt was followed by Mr. Selous, who expressed the hope that Mr. Roosevelt would in the future use the power of his position to bring about an entente between Great Britain and Germany.

J. Alden Loring and Major Mearns did not come ashore from the Admiral yesterday because of the heavy rains. They disembarked this morning.

Arrival at Mombasa.

Ex-President Roosevelt arrived here last evening on board the steamer Admiral. Mr. Roosevelt was in the best of health, as were all the members of his party. The Admiral entered Kilindini harbor flying the American flag at her fore and main masts. She dipped the German ensign while passing the British cruiser Pandora, whose rails and masts were manned by cheering sailors. The Pandora saluted the ex-president, who was on the bridge watching with interest the coming into port.

The people of Mombasa were in a great state of expectancy throughout the day, and the first word of the sighting of the ship brought them in crowds to vantage points where they might catch a glimpse of the distinguished visitor. The Admiral, however, came slowly up to the harbor, and it was dark when the ex-president, accompanied by his son, Kermit, and the captain, made a landing. They were brought ashore in the commandant's surfboat and carried to a place of shelter in chairs on natives' shoulders.

Eager to Hunt at Once.

There was a perfect deluge of rain, but in reply to the expressions of regret at the weather Mr. Roosevelt said he was glad to get ashore in any weather. He added that he was in splendid health and that the start for the hunting grounds could not come a minute too soon. The governor's aid boarded the Admiral and extended a welcome to Mr. Roosevelt, who received another cordial greeting on shore from the provincial commissioner, who conducted him to the government house. S. F. Cunningham, the hunter and field naturalist, who is in charge of the expedition, was also on hand at the pier.

The former president seemed highly pleased when he observed the military guard drawn up. He replied to the guards' salute by doffing his hat and smiling broadly. The crowds on shore pressed eagerly forward to see Mr. Roosevelt. They were composed of Europeans and Indian natives and presented a picturesque appearance. While genuinely hearty in their welcome of the former president of the United States, the people were not in any way demonstrative.

Dinner Given Roosevelt.

The Admiral left Aden a week ago and the voyage to this port was interrupted only by a brief stop at Mogadiscio, in Italian Somaliland. The trip was without special incident, the most interesting feature of it being the captain's dinner to Mr. Roosevelt on Tuesday. The saloon was artistically decorated on this occasion, and much enthusiasm was shown over the speeches, in which there were exchanges of good fellowship and good wishes. In toasting the ex-president the captain wished him Godspeed and a safe return to the United States. Mr. Roosevelt replied in a characteristic speech, first in English and then in German and French.

It had been the intention of the party to remain in Mombasa for two days, but the floods have been heavy and it was deemed advisable to change this plan. The special train which will carry Mr. Roosevelt and his party to Sir Alfred Pease's ranch on the Athi river will leave here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

WHISKY AND DOPE.

Combination Too Much for Traveling Salesman—City Court.

James R. Martin was hauled into the city court this morning suffering from an overdose of opium and whisky and as he was too drunk to be tried he was placed in a cell. He is a traveling salesman, and later his condition became serious and he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment. He was found dead drunk on a physician's porch on West Wayne street.

James Ivy, a plain drunk, was fined $1 and costs, and Joseph Diamond, who wouldn't go home when the police gave him a chance but persisted in bumping into people on the street, got $5 and costs.

The case against Christian Smith, who was charged with trespass because he went too often to the home of his divorced wife to see his children, was continued thirty days and he promised not annoy the family.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

Veterans of Twenty-Eighth Indiana Battery Select Post Name.

C. A. Zollinger post will be the name of the new organization of Spanish-American war veterans now in process of organization from the ranks of those who served as members of the Twenty-Eighth Indiana battery during the Spanish-American war. Application will be made in a few weeks for a charter.

Officers chosen at a meeting held in the court house assembly room Wednesday evening were: Capt. W. F. Ranke, commander; W. C. Cleary, vice commander; J. H. Murphy, junior vice commander; M. F. Nagel, chaplain; B. Hedekin, adjutant; J. C. Scheffer, quartermaster; M. Hewitt, officer of the day; F. W. Ranney, officer of the guard; C. C. Weller, O. S. Jones and F. J. Meyer, trustees.

Another meeting of the post will be held at the assembly room on next Wednesday evening at which time the work of organization will be carried a step further. It is the intention of the new post to take an active part in the Memorial day celebration.

SHOW HORSE LEAPS FROM TRAIN.

Peru, Ind., April 22.—A trained horse, shown in vaudeville theaters and circuses, and valued at several thousand dollars, jumped from a fast express train between Chicago and Peru. A telegram received here says that a searching party today found the animal at North Judson, Ind., and that it is unhurt except for a few cuts on the head.

ANOTHER YEAR WILL SEE MANY MORE TOLL LINES

Much Progress Shown in This Direction by 'Phone Men—Umbach Secretary.

The reports of the various telephone men in meeting here today showed that the various companies in the nine counties comprising the 2nd district are doing a good deal in the way of erecting toll lines and it is said that within another year Fort Wayne will have long-distance connections with a great many more cities within a radius of fifty miles. The meeting was the annual one of the phone men in the 2nd district of the Indiana Telephone association and there were about twenty-five here. A committee room in the Elks' Temple served as the meeting place.

Officers of the Second district were also chosen, William L. Moellering, general manager of the Home Telephone company being re-elected president and Martin Umbach, now traffic manager for the local independent company, being chosen secretary and treasurer, vice E. M. Popp, resigned. G. E. Spake, of the Monroeville company, presided at the meeting.

It was expected that the visiting telephone men would arrive in the city early in the day, but many of them did not come until afternoon and the greater share of them returned to their homes about 4 o'clock. Among those here were Harry Wilder, of Angola; A. A. Adams, of Columbia City; Virgil A. Geiger, of Churubusco; J. B. Mager, of Garrett; W. O. Taylor, of Andrews; E. E. Richard, of Roanoke; A. T. Neizhart, of Albion; Harry Inks, of Ligonier; F. W. Schirmeyer, of Decatur; Dr. Asty, of Geneva; G. E. Spake, of Monroeville; A. Klopfenstein, of Leo; John Emrick, of Huntertown; John Fackler, of Hoagland; R. H. Minnich, of Nine Mile, and M. A. Kehrer, of Butler.

The annual meeting of the state association is to be held in Indianapolis next month, for which the companies are making preparations to send representatives.

ABDUL HAMID WILL KEEP HIS THRONE

gulf of Alexandretta, 418 murders have been released from prison. They at once joined the mob and began committing depredations.

Thousands of persons have been killed, houses have been burned and there are today five thousand persons without homes.

Several natives pastors from Aintab were killed while on their way to attend the district missionary meeting at Adana.

MISS LAMBERT FROM ELKHART.

Elkhart, Ind., April 22.—Miss Rose Lambert, a missionary at Hadjim, who has asked for protection for the mission there, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George Lambert, of this city. She has been a missionary of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ ten years and is thirty years old. Her father has been in Europe a year and is now on his way home.

Mrs. Lambert is informed by her daughter that she and two sisters named Baldwin, whose home is in Michigan, have charge of an orphanage school in which there are about four hundred children and that the school is a haven for Christian Armenians.

Miss Lambert determined to become a missionary at a revival meeting conducted by her father, who declared that every one should answer the call of God when he heard it, no matter to what field. He was astonished when his daughter proceeded to the platform and announced that she would go to Turkey, but he did not oppose her. She had been a typesetter in the Mennonite Publishing house.

BASIS OF NEGOTIATIONS.

Constantinople, April 22.—Negotiations are proceeding this morning between Nazim Pasha, the commander of the first army corps, which garrisons Constantinople, and the commanding general of the army of investment on the following points:

The disbandment of five thousand time expired men in the Constantinople garrison and the replacement of the remainder of the garrison by Saloniki troops; the punishment of soldiers according to the degree of their guilt in the revolutionary movement of last week, and the transfer of the policing of Constantinople to the reformed Macedonian gendarmerie, all of these conditions to be executed with care and moderation in order to prevent bloodshed.

The investment of Constantinople by the constitutionalists is practically complete. Contingents of the third army corps have been sent to points in Asia Minor, notably Eski-Shehr, a station on the Anatolian railroad, to intercept fugitives and cut off communication with the capital on this side.

NEW MEMBER OF STATE BOARD.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—Dr. E. B. Bryan, president of Franklin college, today resigned from the state board of education and Governor Marshall appointed Prof. George Lapy, of Wabash college, as his successor.

Mrs. D. C. Martin, who has been a patient at the hospital for the past two weeks, returned to her home in Bourbon, Ind., today.

The allied body of the C. B. L. of I. will give a reception and dance on Friday evening, April 30, at the Mulqueen dancing academy, Washington boulevard east.

Services at the synagogue will be held tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock at which time Rabbi Harry Ettelson will deliver a sermon on "Society and the Individual."

Theodore Witte, of 721 Locust street, submitted to an operation for appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital this morning.

The Women's Relief Corps will serve tea at Painters' hall, 1022 Calhoun street, Friday from 4 to 7.

PENNSYLVANIA NOW HAS CONTROL OF THE NORFOLK

Purchase of $19,000,000 of Bonds of That Road is Announced.

New York, April 22.—Announcement was made in this city today that Kuhn, Loeb & Company, have sold approximately $19,000,000 worth of the stock of the Norfolk and Western Railway company to the Pennsylvania Railroad company. This, together with the previous holdings of the Pennsylvania company and its subsidiaries give the Pennsylvania possession of about $37,500,000 or 37½ per cent of Norfolk and Western stock and practical control.

SEVEN LIVES LOST BY TORNADO IN CLEVELAND

Loss of Life and Damage to Property Had Been Underestimated.

Cleveland, O., April 22.—A careful survey today of the result of yesterday's storm shows that the early reports underestimated the extent of the damage wrought.

The revised list of dead places the number at seven. Of these six are in Cleveland and one at Ashtabula.

In addition to the dead, scores of persons were injured, several of whom probably will die.

The property damage will aggregate more than a million dollars.

utes in passing a given point, but during that brief period it was as dark as night, hail battered in windows, lightning set fire to hundreds of buildings, one-fifth of an inch of rain fell, and the wind, which reached a velocity of sixty-six miles an hour, razed buildings and chimneys, tore off roofs, laid low many telegraph and telephone lines, and demoralized traffic upon steam and electric railways.

Warning of Storm Given.

As early as 10 o'clock storm warnings were given out by the local weather bureau. The squall started in Indiana and gained force as it traveled rapidly eastward. It had gathered full force when this city was reached, and passed over Lake Erie a few miles east of the city.

One of the dead is an unidentified young woman, who was thrown into a pond at Wade park by the force of the wind and drowned. A man was hurled to death from a crane, another was killed by a flying timber, and a boy met his end in the falling ruins of St. Stanislaus' Catholic church, which was demolished with a loss of $100,000. At least four persons were injured in the ruins.

The loss was especially great to school property. Twelve school buildings were damaged. Many pupils had remarkable escapes, but none was seriously hurt. The Dike, Walton, Fairmount, Scranton, Old Mayflower, Clark Avenue, Downing, Pearl Street, Milford Gilbert, Rice, and Giddings school buildings were damaged. The roof was lifted from the main building of the Case School of Applied Sciences, and buildings at Adelbert college sustained damage.

Fifteen men were hurt at the plant of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Engineering company, and four of them were injured by the falling of a roof at the plant of the Standard Tool company.

Machine Plant Is Unroofed.

At Wellington, south of here, the wind unroofed the plant of the American Machine company, partially unroofed the Big Four freight station, and knocked chimneys down and otherwise damaged about fifty houses.

When the storm struck Ashtabula one man was killed, a dozen persons injured, and heavy property damage resulted. The plant of the Ashtabula Foundry company was wrecked, the roof blown from the Lyceum theater, and barns and outbuildings demolished. Electric traction was tied up by debris tossed upon the tracks.

CHARACTER IS APPROVED.

French Lick High School Gets a Belated Recognition.

Indianapolis, April 22.—The state board of education, at last satisfied that the people of French Lick, Ind., have been converted from the gambling spirit, today issued its certificate of approval to the high school of the town. Heretofore the certificate has been withheld because the board was advised that the high school students habitually gambled, that most of them carried dice or cards in their pockets, and that the school authorities and the students' families had not taken effective reformative measures for the reason that the community was infected morally by gaming at the big French Lick and West Baden resorts. Under Governor Hanly it was necessary for the state authorities to raid the gambling rooms, but recently they were closed by the local officials at only a suggestion from Governor Marshall.

LAWS STRICTLY OBEYED.

Richmond, Ind., April 22.—Since the victory of the "wets" in the local option election the liquor laws have been strictly obeyed, and lately the police have made an effective crusade against billiard rooms in which minors were permitted to play. Retaliating, the keepers of these places complained to the public prosecutor that minors were playing in the pool and billiard rooms of the Y. M. C. A. The prosecutor today decided that no action could be taken against the Y. M. C. A. because it was a private club.

WILL NOT RECEIVE RENTSCH AGAIN AT ASYLUM

Indianapolis Man Freed of Forgery Charge in Chicago Not Wanted.

Indianapolis, April 22.—It was denied here today at the sheriff's office that a deputy sheriff was sent to Chicago to bring back Edward H. Rentsch, who was released in Judge Clifford's court yesterday after he had escaped from an asylum. Rentsch had some financial trouble some time ago and was subsequently placed in an asylum, but his escape and his release yesterday are believed to have been the work of confederates.

The superintendent of the Julietta hospital for the incurable insane in this city said today that Rentsch had been at large for three months and that he should not be received in the asylum again except that he be committed as a new patient. The authorities have made no effort to capture Rentsch as an escaped lunatic. Rentsch is said to have had inherited a fortune of $100,000. Whether or not all his funds are exhausted is not known here.

WILL BE SENT TO INDIANA.

Chicago, April 22.—Edward H. Rentsch, against whom a charge of forgery was dismissed here yesterday, when his identity as an escaped insane patient was learned, spent last night in the county jail. State's Attorney Wayman said today that there was no doubt as to the identity of the prisoner and stated that Rentsch would be returned to the asylum at Indianapolis by Detective Sergeant Chatt, of Chicago. Dr. W. O. Krunn examined Rentsch today. He declared that the latter was suffering from paresis and had not much longer to live.

The report that Rentsch was not wanted by the Indiana asylum will keep Rentsch in jail here for another week pending the outcome of official correspondence between the Chicago and Indiana authorities. It had been planned to take the prisoner to Indianapolis today.

Rentsch several years ago suffered heavy financial losses in building an athletic arena in Indianapolis, in which he hoped to hold prize fights and athletic contests. His enterprise was stopped by the then mayor, and some time later Rentsch was committed to the Marion county asylum for the insane, his mind having broken under his money losses.

Last February he escaped from the asylum and came to Chicago. He was arrested here charged with forging a mortgage on which he secured $1,000.

Those who came in contact with him here never suspected that he was a victim of paresis, which is alleged to be his malady.

The case was called in Judge Clifford's court room today but the charge against him was dismissed when Deputy Sheriff Nelson, of Indianapolis, appeared with evidence of the prisoner's identity. He will be returned to the asylum.

THE DEATHS.

VOLTZ.

David Voltz, a saloonkeeper by occupation, residing at 1311 Lafayette street, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at his home at the age of 47 years, 10 months and 28 days. Death was due to dropsy and Mr. Voltz had been in failing health for two years.

He was born in Germany and came to Fort Wayne four years ago. Surviving relatives include the wife and a daughter, as well as three brothers and three sisters residing in Germany.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence; interment at Lindenwood.

BAUCH.

Delferd Morris Bauch, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Bauch, of Brooklyn avenue, died at 6:30 o'clock this morning from pneumonia at the age of seven months. The father is employed by the Horton Manufacturing company.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Blakely.—Funeral services of Otto Blakely will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the residence on the Covington road.

UP-SIDE DOWN MINSTRELS.

Inverted Order of Events Will Delight Large Audience.

If the reports of the managers, the expressions of the performers and finally the sale of tickets may be taken as a criterion, the first evening's performance of the Up-Side Down minstrels at the Library hall this evening will be a success. The youthful aspirants for histrionic honors made their debut in the realms of minstrelsy several seasons ago and hence tonight and Friday night with their program "the best ever" will seek to add new laurels to their past glories.

Attractive and novel specialties, good singing, individually and collectively, a spontaneity of humor, new jokes and clever comments by the end men will work more wonders than a spring tonic in behalf of those who may be fortunate in securing tickets for the spectacular production. Tickets are at sale at A. C. Aurentz's for both evenings.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

William J. Kaeck, 40, bartender, and Carrie Griebel, 40.

Frank Fox, 34, laborer, and Lydia A. Etts, 31.

Clarence J. Sanger, 25, real estate dealer, and Daisy R. Striker, 22.

William J. Roehrs, 35, coal dealer, and Mathilda Louise Hobrock, 27.

Mrs. Anna Runser passed through an operation performed at St. Joseph's hospital today very satisfactorily. Her home is at 1520 High street.

HERMAN MILLER AND JOHN STOUT ON RECORD

Supplemental Motion for New Trials are Put on File.

Herman Miller and John Stout filed in the circuit court today through Judge R. K. Erwin and P. B. Colerick supplemental motions for new trials based upon the admission of Clarence Omo that he had testified falsely against them in detailing a conversation that he said had taken place in Joe Boegenscheutz's saloon on East Main street.

No other action was taken during the day than the formal filing of the motions which are in writing and which cover the evidence on this particular point. It will be remembered that Omo said he saw Stout and Miller together in the saloon after the murder and that one said "Oh, forget it; we have fixed him all right and they can't get us."

Judge Erwin procured evidence to disprove the Omo story and finally he confessed that he had been testifying falsely after he had been arrested. Affidavits were procured from Stout and Miller at Michigan City and an affidavit is attached in which Omo swears that he lied on the witness stand.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire in this manner to thank the pastors of St. Mary's church, friends and neighbors for their assistance and sympathy during the death of our daughter and sister.

MRS. TERESA ANGST AND CHILDREN.

SHAH URGED TO REFORM.

Teheran, April 22.—The British and Russian diplomatic representatives were received in audience by the shah today and advised his majesty to proclaim amnesty to all political offenders and to restore the constitution. The shah promised to reply within a few days.

RADIUM KILLS BIG TUMOR; PATIENT RECOVERS

Remarkable Cure Reported from Test in New York Hospital.

New York, April 22.—What physicians pronounce one of the most remarkable cures through the agency of radium in the history of medical science has just been confirmed by the examination of a patient who was expected to die six months ago when he went to Flower hospital with a malignant tumor, the size of a child's head, in his abdomen.

The large mass which threatened his life has disappeared and the small remaining knot in its place has lost its character as a tumor and is simply scar tissue, which has not been removed by the process of absorption.

Drs. William H. Dieffenbach and William Tod Helmuth, who have had the case in charge, claim for Flower hospital the discovery of the method employed, which was the injection of gelatine impregnated with radium into the tumor itself after the seat of the trouble had been reached by opening the abdominal cavity. The practice in the only other similar case on record, one performed in Europe some days ago, was to enclose the radium in a glass tube, which was sewed up in the tumor.

Operation of No Avail.

When the patient, who is a prominent resident of Westchester county, was taken to the hospital, Dr. Dieffenbach called in Dr. Helmuth with an idea of performing an operation for the removal of the tumor. After a thorough examination Dr. Helmuth found the tumor to be so large and its roots to have invaded so much of the abdominal tissue that he refused to operate.

A counsel was held and it was decided to treat the patient with the X-Ray for the purpose of preventing the spread or growth of the tumor. By this method the physicians succeeded in checking the tumor, but after three months of the treatment the skin of the patient became so irritated that the application of the X-Rays had to be discontinued.

Another examination proved that any operation for the removal of the mass would prove futile, and as a heroic attempt to save the life of the patient Dr. Dieffenbach proposed that the tumor be exposed and that radioactive gelatine be injected into the diseased parts.

The patient was placed under the influence of an anaesthetic and the gelatine, which had been impregnated with $100 worth of radium, was injected in three places in the tumor. The incisions were closed with a purse string suture and the abdomen was closed.

Improvement is Rapid.

When the tumor was disclosed the surgeons pronounced it a round cell sarcoma, a most malignant variety of tumor, but cut off a small piece of the mass for analysis. A later examination of this portion by Drs. Hertzmann and Kellogg, eminent pathologists, confirmed the opinion of the operators.

The reaction from the operation was unusually severe and at times it was feared the patient would not rally, but after a few days an increase in strength was noted, and at the end of five weeks the patient was so much improved in general health and the tumor was so greatly reduced in size that he was permitted to go to his home.

While greatly elated over the results of their efforts, the physicians did not allow their enthusiasm to overcome them; it was only after a thorough examination of the patient by Dr. Helmuth last week that they allowed a report on the case to be made public.

This last examination has revealed an apparently healthy condition in the affected territory. Only a small lump remains in the place of the tumor and this, the physicians say, retains none of the characters of a tumor, but is simply a nodule of scar tissue, such as remains after the healing of any moderately sized wound.

Action of Radium.

The efficiency of the treatment by the radio-active gelatine lies in the artificial irritation which it induces in the tumor, says Dr. Diffenbach. Contraction of the tumor and a change in its character results.

The physicians were moved to their decision to try the radium treatment by their observations of the beneficial results that have attended the treatment of superficial skin ulcers at the hospital by the application of radium.

The method employed in this case is declared to be superior to that in Europe in which the radium was enclosed in a glass tube. In the latter case $5,000 worth of radium is reported to have been used, while the cost of the material used in the case at Flower hospital was one-fiftieth as much. It is thought also that in this case the activity of the radium is much increased.

Dr. Dieffenbach has prepared a thorough history of the case which is to be published in the Chironian, the official journal of the New York Homeopathic college and Flower hospital.

IDENTITY OF WOMAN OF WHITLA BOY IS FIXED

She is Anna McDermott, of Chicago, as at First Was Charged.

Mercer, Pa., April 22.—Mrs. Boyle, the alleged wife of James H. Boyle, abductor of Willie Whitla, is a mystery no longer. It is now known—as published at the beginning of the case—that the woman is Anna McDermott, of Chicago. Other subsequent stories to the effect that she was a member of a prominent and wealthy family are without any foundation.

Last night Attorney T. C. Cochrane, representing the prosecution, admitted that Mrs. Boyle was Anna McDermott. Her family resides in Chicago, and has been prominently mentioned in connection with the case since the woman's arrest at Cleveland. She is the daughter of William McDermott and Kate Farquar McDermott, formerly of 162 Seminary avenue, Chicago, where Anna was born twenty-two years ago. The mother has been dead several years.

Known Under Various Aliases.

The daughter for three years has been wayward and is said to have borne these aliases: Mrs. Frank Yorke, Helen Yorke, Helene Parker, Mrs. Frank A. Minor, Helen McDonough, Mrs. R. G. Faulkner, Mrs. R. G. Walters, and Mrs. Jones.

Her photographs are found in the rogues' galleries of Kansas City and Springfield, Ill. At the former place she was arrested in company with Frank A. Parker on May 2, 1903, on a charge of forgery. On Sept. 13, 1906, she was arrested at Springfield on a similar charge. In each case she escaped prosecution.

Only a few days after Yorke and Anna McDermott disappeared from Chicago a couple calling themselves Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Parker appeared in Kansas City. They lived there for some time and had business transactions with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gatewood, who afterwards identified rogues' photographs of the two as the ones with whom they had dealings.

"The case of the McDermott woman is one of the strangest on record," said a detective last night. "Her brother some time ago came from Chicago and had a long conference with a local priest over the affair. He knew it was his sister at Mercer, but did not see her at that time. What advice the clergyman gave him I don't know, but he returned to Chicago and did not come back here until two days ago, when he walked in on us and gave us the testimony wanted to clinch the identity of Helen Boyle as the former Anna McDermott, of Chicago."

Foley's Honey and Tar is a safeguard against serious results from spring colds, which inflame the lungs and develop into pneumonia. Avoid counterfeits by insisting upon having the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar, which contains no harmful drugs. Dreier & Bro.

DAVID TURPIE.

The last of an earlier school of statesmen who gave Indiana a fame that not soon will perish has just passed away. David Turpie was the lone survivor of a group of great men that embraced Morton, Hendricks, Benjamin Harrison, Voorhees, McDonald, Lane, Holman and others, who during the long period comprehended between the breaking out of the civil war and the closing years of the last century shed mighty renown on Indiana and gave her by the character of her representation in the congress of the United States no less than by their participation in the home affairs of the commonwealth a name that was spoken with respect throughout the country.

Judge Turpie was in some respects a very great man. In the senate of the United States he achieved wide repute as one of the "intellectual giants" of that body in a period when it contained such men as Hoar, Edmunds, Morgan, Sherman, Ingalls, Vest and other great men who wrote history and whose names are historic. To a vast learning and a mind that went to the bottom of things and was positive in its convictions Judge Turpie added the quality of tremendous earnestness. His powers of expression by words were amazing. Few men of his time had made the English tongue so completely and at once facile instrument and terrible weapon. His diction was clear, pure and incisive and marked by all the graces of a most various scholarship. He was a pitiless master of invective and sarcasm when there was occasion for employment of these rhetorical weapons and he used them with a refinement that sometimes made them most cruel. He was no orator. Volume, sonorousness and music of voice and charm of presence had been denied him by a nature that had in all other qualities of the publicist endowed him with singular gifts. Yet he could compel attention by the sheer force of his masterly intellect where another so handicapped in power to please by graces of speech would have been appallingly a bore.

Those who would read something worth while in the fashion of long sustained mental performance should turn to the official record of Senator Turpie's three days' speech in the senate about a dozen years ago and give some time to a perusal of his argument against the Nicaraguan canal, which route had been strenuously urged by Senator Morgan of Alabama in a seven days' speech to which Senator Turpie's prolonged effort was given in reply. Senator Turpie greatly wearied those who sought to listen to him because of his infirmities of speech which at that time had become very pronounced; but he nevertheless was accorded an almost solemn attention. And when he had finished he had completely summed up what could be said against the Nicaraguan canal route. His knowledge of the matter was amazing, his marshalling of facts overwhelming, his conclusions incontestible. Through all that long speech there were the same polish, the same solicitude for correct statement, the same care for fine diction, the same flashes of wit, the same keen and deeply cutting strokes of sarcasm, the same mighty invective that so often marked his discussions in debate of public questions. It is worth turning to now and then, not to read in full, for that would be an appalling task to undertake, but to find here and there many things worth reading.

Personally Judge Turpie was a man of great native courtesy and of most kindly disposition. But he was not a seeker for popularity or the kind a great many public men so much cultivate by means ingratiating if not always sincere. Judge Turpie either could not or would not "mix." His worth and his ability, however, stood him in much better stead and maintained him full in the confidence and high regard of the people. He was a democrat of very determined convictions and of unswerving party loyalty. Nothing ever put upon his honor the smallest blemish. His name from first to last in a half century's career remained untarnished and his character unaspersed. He died a poor man, though his talents might greatly have enriched him. During his public service he gave no time to the practice of law, devoting his time and efforts to the public which paid him.

MR. PATTEN AND WHEAT.

Last week, with May wheat selling on the Chicago board at a fraction above $1.29 and July wheat selling at a fraction above $1.18, James M. Patten, the most recent edition of that more or less fabled personage known as the "king of the grain pit," with some show of irritation denied that there was any "corner" in wheat. He repeated with added emphasis that a world shortage which he had long previously foreseen, was responsible for the steady bulge in price for several months past. He had "seen it coming," and had prepared to take advantage of it, which he was then doing.

Since that day there has been a slump of about 8 cents a bushel in both the May and July options. The "wheat king" has abandoned the grain pit and hied himself far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife and has sought a lodge in some vast wilderness, there doubtless to gain a much needed rest and count his money.

At all events, the bottom of the wheat market has gone much lower and if not actually dropping out is giving a rather interesting and correct imitation of that performance. Meanwhile, Mr. Patten and his world shortage and his "corner" have disturbed markets, given a fictitious value to one of the commonest of life's necessaries and added very appreciably to the cost of living. The price of flour and the toll on the loaf will not tumble as rapidly as the price of wheat.

SLAUGHTER IN ASIA MINOR.

As more detailed news comes through from the scenes of the anti-Christian outbreaks in Asia Minor the clearer is it that an epochal horror has transpired. In the region of Adana alone it is now said ten thousand people have been put to death by fanatical Moslem hordes. Moreover, this is by no means the worst phase of the matter, for the wave of fanaticism is rolling over a rapidly widening area and the slaughter to come bids fair to greatly surpass that of which we have already heard.

A Moslem religious uprising against the "enemies of the true faith" is something that in the horror of its atrocities no language can describe. Men, women and children share a common fate. None is spared who can be found. With fire and sword the country is scourged. Far and wide as with the very besom of death the land is swept and to murder are added such horrors as may not be named.

With the Turkish government at such a crisis fully occupied with the problem of its own preservation, there is not much to hope for in restraint of this frightful outbreak of fanaticism unless the nations—America with others—are prompt to reach out the arms of their power and call a halt on widespread and indiscriminate murder and rapine. There has been a frightful slaughter and there will be worse if action be not prompt.

Truth, the iconoclast, has shattered another charming romance in the life of one of the sweetest and most interesting of our lady criminals. Mrs. "Jim" Boyle, of Whitla kidnaping fame, is not the daughter of wealthy and aristocratic parents. Her people live in Chicago, are very respectable and merely well-to-do. 'Tis a most wearying shock, when so much had been expected.

There is one fine feature of an income tax. Those who cannot afford to pay it are in no wise burdened and those who do pay it can afford to. Chief objection to it now is that it would raise a lot of money that Nels Aldrich wouldn't know what to do with.

Bull King Patten has gone west to seek rest. So very thankful is not to seek the rest.

We claim no merit of discovery in stating that land unimproved can be bought cheaper than the other kind. To state it differently, now is the time to go hunting park sites and getting options.

At all events, the abdication of Ab appears to be a debatable question.

MAY END MINE DISPUTE.

Anthracite Miners and Operators Seek Agreement.

Philadelphia, April 22.—The renewed activity of the national and district officers of the mine workers' union and the unexpected conference here between them and representatives of the operators leads to the belief that a settlement of the difficulties between the mine workers and their employers may oprators kids to th belief that a settlewas made last night when the officers of the three anthracite districts issued a call for another convention at Scranton next Tuesday, the same day the general committee of the operators meets in New York.

National President Lewis, of the miners' union, with District Presidents Ryscavage, Waters and Fahy again met the representatives of the operators today at the Reading Terminal and continued the conference begun yesterday.

WAR HEROINE MAY DIE.

Woman Who Saw Service as Spy in War Fatally Hurt.

Washington, April 22.—Mrs. Sarah E. Thompson, aged 71, who served as a spy during the civil war, and is said to be the only woman carried on the pension rolls as a soldier, was so severely injured here yesterday by being knocked down by a street car near the capital that she may die.

She rendered conspicuous service to the union cause during the civil war by the discovery of the whereabouts of the noted confederate general, John T. Morgan. Mrs. Thompson, who was a native of Tennessee, was employed in the postoffice department.

WANTS TO WED WHITE GIRL.

Colored Man Makes Three Futile Attempts to Get License.

Columbus, Ohio, April 22.—Willis Marcand, colored, made a third demand in probate court yesterday for a marriage license to wed Stella Cunningham, white, and was again refused by Clerk Edward Morris. It is said that proceedings in lunacy may be instituted against the girl, and the persistence of Marcand in demanding a license has created considerable feeling here.

PRAYERS WERE NOT GRANTED.

Cass County Couple Hoped to Live to See "Drys" Win.

Logansport, Ind., April 22.—Chris G. Schutter and his wife Elizabeth, both of whom prayed in public many times that they might live long enough to see Cass county vote for the abolition of saloons, died within two weeks after Cass county, in a local option election, voted to retain saloons for two years.

Although more than 90 years of age they attended all the "dry" meetings during the campaign that closed April 6, and at all meetings where prayers were in order prayed that they might live long enough to see saloons prohibited in this county.

HURT IN EXPLOSION.

James Moffett, of Kendallville, Injured in Blowing Stumps.

Kendallville, Ind., April 22.—James Moffett, about 55 years of age, was painfully injured Wednesday afternoon while engaged in blowing stumps on the farm of James Montgomery, north of this city. Moffett's right cheek was nearly torn from his face.

LISTENED TO PROCTOR.

Author of Bill That Failed Talks for Lafayette Wets.

Lafayette, Ind., April 22.—Before an audience which crowded the Grand Opera house last night J. E. Proctor, state senator from Elkhart, delivered an address under the auspices of the Tippecanoe County Taxpayers' league on the subject of "Prohibition from an Economis and Religious Standpoint."

Mr. Proctor gave many pronounced views why the county should retain the licensed saloons. During his remarks he made some hot thrusts at President Stone of Purdue university. Senator Proctor said he supported Purdue, but did not know he supported a chair of prohibition.

The county option election will be held here April 30.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

Louisville, Ky., April 22.—John W. Sweeney, of Campbellsburg, Ind., agent for the Atlas Produce company of Lafayette, Ind., was arrested here last night charged with the embezzlement of $500 from that concern. He was taken to Lafayette to stand trial. A former stenographer of the Atlas company went with Sweeney and the officers. The woman is said to be Sweeney's wife. Sweeney was the Louisville representative of the company and shortage in his accounts is charged.

CHARTERED CAR FOR QUICK RUN TO BLUFFTON

B. C. Whitney, Theatrical Manager Was in Hurry to Reach Muncie.

Bound for Muncie and reaching Fort Wayne five minutes too late to catch the regular interurban car Wednesday evening, B. C. Whitney, widely known as a theatrical manager, chartered the special car Lawton for a quick run to Bluffton, where connections were made that landed him in Muncie in time to witness the production of one of his musical shows in that city.

With Mr. Whitney was a theatrical associate. The order for the special car was given and in ten minutes it was ready for the start with Master Mechanic Jaques as motorman and Shop Foreman Noble Graham as conductor. Mr. Whitney hurriedly secured material for a lunch at the interurban station, jumped aboard the car and the start was made at 6:01 o'clock. There was a delay of seven minutes at Kingsland, where an Erie freight train held the crossing, but Bluffton was reached at 6:56, in time for Mr. Whitney to make the transfer for Muncie.

Putting in New Crossing.

The traction company is installing a new crossing at the Nickel Plate, and passengers on the city lines have been transferred around the point today. By the use of one track the Toledo and Chicago interurban cars were enabled to enter and leave as usual, but with some delay.

The Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley company will shortly bring an engineering expert to make an examination and report on the rebuilding of the Robison park dam.

C. H. Worden is at Indianapolis on a business trip.

Over thirty dozen Manhattan shirts were placed in stock last week. The patterns are very pretty.

ELECTRIC TALKS

No. 88

Our Police Shortage by Figures

Following up talk 87 and comparing police numbers, street mileage and degree of street illumination in ten cities—including the eight whose paving figures we gave in talk 82—we find interesting results.

As these ten cities range in population from 45,000 to 78,000 each and average exactly the population of Fort Wayne, it is hardly necessary to complicate the figures by considerations of population in each case. The average can be used.

Taking, then, the street mileage and number of day police, let us see where Fort Wayne stands with its force of thirteen day policemen on 207 miles of streets as compared with South Bend, Terre Haute and Evansville, in Indiana; with Harrisburg and Erie, in Pennsylvania; with Peoria, Ill.; Kansas City, Kan.; Springfield, Mass.; Portland, Me.; and Yonkers, N. Y.

These ten cities have a total street mileage of 1,440 and a total force of day police of 254, not counting reserves.

This means that in those ten cities the day police average one to each five and two-thirds miles of streets, while in Fort Wayne the average is one day policeman to about fourteen miles of streets, and this, too, in a city remarkable for its large number of street car, interurban trolley and steam railway crossings at grade and the extensive use of the streets by the heavy teaming of the factories.

Were Fort Wayne to increase its day force of police to bring it up to the average of the ten cities named, therefore, it would have to increase it from thirteen men to thirty-seven.

That would mean twenty-four additions to the day force; and, if these were all patrolmen and paid on the 1907 scale of wages—$780 each—would mean an annual addition to Fort Wayne's outlay for police protection of $18,720.

Such an increase of the patrol force would undoubtedly necessitate a certain increase of the desk, station and patrol-driving force and addition to the department equipment.

In all probability it would mean an annual increase in department expenditures annually of about a round $22,000.

Whether or not that would be entirely adequate to Fort Wayne's needs would depend on those incidental considerations which we named in talk 87 and which differentiate one city from another of its class, according to the favored vocations of its people, their respect for law, and the location of the city on the great thoroughfares of rail transportation.

But the addition of twenty-four patrolmen to our day police force and the addition of about $22,000 annually to police department expeditures should give us as good an average showing in the day policing of Fort Wayne as we find in other cities of its class.

Let us see next what other additions to the force are required by the exigencies of night policing of the city, if we would make our ENTIRE COMMUNITY as safe as in these ten cities named

The Ladies' society of Plymouth Congregational church will hold a social meeting on Friday afternoon, April 30, at the home of Mrs. F. R. Fahlsing, Masterson avenue.

The Interdenominational Bible class will meet at the home of Mrs. Roges, 1151 Harmer street, on Friday afternoon from 2:30 until 3:30 o'clock.

FRIENDS DEFEND BAINBRIDGE.

Council Bluffs Hears He Was Hounded to Death by Employe.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, April 22.—That William E. Bainbridge, of the American diplomatic service, who committed suicide in Paris, was hounded to his death by a discharged employe of the office is now charged by relatives of Bainbridge in this city, where Bainbridge made his home. They state this man, whose name they refuse to give, was dismissed by Secretary Shaw. He exerted influence, and was reinstated by Secretary Cortelyou after Shaw's retirement, and the first Bainbridge knew of the reinstatement was when he walked into the office with his commission. From that moment this enemy began secretly working against Bainbridge. Full details of the entire affair are shown in letters from Bainbridge, which are in possession of his family in Council Bluffs, and these letters will be referred to the department for an investigation.

THREE NAMED FOR RECTORSHIP.

Trustees of Catholic University Will Send Names to Rome.

Washington, April 22.—The board of trustees of the Catholic University at their meeting yesterday selected three names which were sent to Rome today and from which the permanent rector of the university will be chosen. The names will not be made public, though it is stated that the provisional rector, Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, received cordial indorsement from the professors and that many of the trustees are his friends. It is believed that Rev. Edmund T. Shanahan also was included in the list. It was said at the university that it was expected the successful candidate would be known in about three weeks. Some highly important measures were considered in regard to the future scope of the institution. Among these was the establishment of a teachers' institute to be conducted by the professors as an affiliated branch.

A. HART M'KEE'S GARB SEIZED.

Wardrobe Taken to Satisfy Claim Against Ex-Wife's Automobile.

Paris, April 22.—The personal effects of A. Hart McKee, of Pittsburg, were seized this morning at a local hotel to satisfy an overdue insurance premium on an automobile. Mr. McKee and his wife, who was formerly Mrs. Hugh Tevis, were separated by divorce in this city last May. Mr. McKee said today he had not paid the premium bill because since the divorce his former wife had been using the machine, and he considered that she should meet the indebtedness.

The Paris papers today publish long lists of the property seized as an example of the wardrobe of a rich American. The clothing includes twenty-two colored vests, innumerable shirts, silken underwear, hundreds of pairs of gloves, large numbers of cravats and handkerchiefs, suits of every color for every occasion and a collection of walking sticks.

BRYCE HONORS JOHN CALVIN.

Ambassador Denies, However, That Reformer Was Liberal.

Baltimore, Md., April 22.—The principal speaker last night at the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the birth of John Calvin was Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain.

After referring to the enormous influence of Calvin's views, Mr. Bryce said: "But though Calvin was more than any one else the modern founder of a republican system in the church," continued Mr. Bryce, "he was by no means a liberal in the modern sense of the word. He justified and approved in practice religious persecution, as indeed did nearly all the great reformers of the sixteenth century, and held the state bound to obey in many things the orders of the church. Not till long after his time was the doctrine that the state and the church ought to be entirely distinct and that religious opinion should be entirely free proclaimed in England and in North America by Roger Williams, the illustrious founder of Rhode Island."

GOVERNOR LILLEY IS DEAD.

Connecticut Executive Loses Long Fight With Death.

Hartford, Conn., April 22.—George Leavens Lilley, governor of Connecticut, died here at 6 o'clock last evening. His illness had been of long duration. The body will probably be taken to his home at Waterbury, Conn.

Mr. Lilley was born in Oxford, Mass., August 3, 1859. He was educated in the common schools of Oxford, at the Worcester High school and had one year at the Worcester Polytechnic institute. He served on the republican state committee since 1901, served in the house of representatives and was elected to the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth congresses. Last November he was elected governor of Connecticut on the republican ticket.

AT 77 TAKES FIRST TRAIN RIDE.

Martin County Woman Rides on "Steam Cars" to Bedford.

Bedford, Ind., April 22.—Although she is 77 years old, Mrs. Charlotte Hampton, of Dover Hill, Martin county, was a passenger on a railroad train yesterday for the first time in her life. She came to Bedford, accompanied by her daughter, to attend the funeral of Perry Fitzgerald, who was killed in a stone quarry mill Tuesday.

LEADING FIGURE IN KOKOMO BUSINESS LIFE DEAD

James Johnson, Banker and Financier, Has Passed from Earth.

Kokomo, April 22.—James B. Johnson, forty-nine years old, president of the Kokomo Trust company and of the Trust company branch of the Indiana Bankers' association, died of Bright's disease at his home in this city at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Johnson had been a conspicuous figure in the business circles of Kokomo for twenty-five years. When only sixteen he entered the employ of a local abstract and loan company, where he showed such energy and skill that he became its president. Seven years ago he organized the Kokomo Trust company which, under his management, has grown into one of the leading institutions of its kind in this part of the state.

The beginning of his illness was eighteen months ago, when he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, due, it is thought, to overwork. He soon became better and his condition improved so greatly that a year later he went back to his business with his old time energy and application. The final breakdown resulted, it is believed, from the shock of an accident which befell his daughter, Miss Nina Johnson, a student in Wisconsin university, last December, who was terribly burned in an explosion in the chemical laboratory of the university and who is now hovering between life and death at her home.

Soon after this accident occurred Mr. Johnson began showing marked signs of physical decline. On advice of his physician he went to Florida in February, but the change failed to bring any improvement. Realizing that he was growing worse, Mr. Johnson returned home two weeks ago, straightened out all his business affairs and went to bed. Last Thursday he lapsed into unconsciousness and continued in that condition practically all the time until he died.

He is survived by a widow and eight children, two sons and six daughters, all of this city.

TEN TIMES WED WITH NINE DIFFERENT HUSBANDS

Polly Weed Baker, Etc., Goes to Altar at Evansville—An Odd Career.

Evansville, Ind., April 22.—Mrs. Polly Weed Baker, of Newburg, aged 68 years, is today happy with her ninth husband. Her tenth marriage ceremony was performed yesterday when she wedded Simon Shippert, aged 60 years, a real estate and insurance man of Burlington, Iowa. The reason for the disparity between husbands and marriages is that she married one man twice.

Mrs. Shippert, despite her years, is agile as a girl and she does not look like a woman who has seven husbands in the grave, one divorced and one yet alive. She owns considerable property in Newburg. She has refused to have help in her house to assist in the work and her work preceding the ceremony yesterday was to milk her cow, feed her chickens and then adorn herself in a plain white dress she had made with her own needle. Asked why she did not use one of her previous wedding gowns she said she feared bad luck.

The ninth husband is a man of good appearance and is the owner of real estate in Burlington. He has no children, but has been married before and lost his wife by death. The bride has no children, either, to show for her eight previous husbands. A reporter who searched the rooms for pictures could find none. Mrs. Shippert said she had never had a picture taken and that she destroyed all of the photos of her past husbands.

Can't Recall Names of Mates.

Mrs. Shippert has had an interesting career. Five times she has been divorced, one husband died in a mysterious manner and another killed himself by poison. Mrs. Shippert can not recall all the names of her husbands and dates of marriage and divorce without referring to a scrap book.

Her last husband, William Baker, aged 40 years, an electrician of Evansville, deserted her after two weeks of married life in the fall of 1906. She secured a divorce from him in the court at Booneville. She accused him of marrying her for her money. To a friend Baker admitted that he thought she would soon pass away and leave him her property. After living with her for two weeks he said he was convinced she would live to be 100 years old.

Her first marriage was to a farmer boy, Henry Fuquay. After seven years he left her and secured a divorce. She went back to her father's farm and vowed to shun men thereafter and never to marry again.

In a few months James Fuquay, cousin to the first husband, came marching home from the civil war and won her heart. Nine months later he came home drunk, shot at her three times and left.

"Father's" a Good Place.

She divorced him. Again she went back to her father's. There she met James Henry Robinson, a dashing young widower. She married him because her father liked him. Three days later the sheriff of Warrick county put him under arrest on a warrant sworn out by a neighboring girl. She divorced him.

George S. Boyden, a traveling salesman for an Evansville firm, was husband No. 4. He had a morbid disposition and after ten years she divorced him because he adopted a child from the orphans' home.

Four years later she married S. R. Weed, of Newburg. This union, the happiest of her life, terminated in his sudden death after four years of bliss.

She then hunted up Boyden, her former husband, in Evansville, and married him again. They lived together eight years. He ended his life by drinking poison and jumping into a cistern.

Three years later she married R. E. Edwards, of Newburg. They were divorced three years ago. When she went to marry Baker three years ago the ministers of this end of the state refused to perform the ceremony, but she got a justice of the peace. Squire Crawford married her yesterday to Simon Shippert.

"I hope he lives as long as I do," she said when the ceremony was finished.

TARIFF DEBATE AGREEMENT.

Washington, April 22.—A further consideration of the understanding under which the senate is considering the tariff bill today resulted in an agreement by Mr. Aldrich that at any time while the measure is being considered for amendment, any page in the bill under consideration may be reverted and be subject to amendment without the necessity of resorting to any formal parliamentary procedure.

The bill was again taken up soon after the senate convened, and the reading of the measure by paragraphs was continued.

STATE'S ATTORNEYS ASSAIL COOPER DEFENSE

Three Claims of Defense are Riddled as Having No Force.

Nashville, Tenn., April 22.—The second day of arguments in the motion for a new trial for Duncan B. and Robin J. Cooper, convicted of the murder of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack, and sentenced to serve twenty years in prison, began today. Captain Fitzhugh, for the state, was the first speaker.

"The defense," he said, "have assigned forty-seven reasons for a new trial. If they had found one good reason for a new trial they never would have given these forty-seven varieties. We are not going to review the case in detail. We feel that the evidence abundantly justifies the verdict.

Three Points of the Defense.

"The defense seems to depend upon three points. First, that Robin Cooper shot in self defense and therefore was not guilty; secondly, that D. B. Cooper did not fire a shot and his guilt or innocence depends upon Robin's guilt or innocence; thirdly, that the court failed to set out this hypothesis in its charge.

"Now, we maintain that the evidence shows that Colonel Cooper crossed the street deliberately for the purpose of bringing on a difficulty which would serve as an excuse for murdering Senator Carmack. Therefore, Robin went along as a party to the affair. Robin knew his father's intentions, for he knew of the threats. He knew his father was armed and he knew all this so well that he went out and armed himself with the most deadly weapon yet invented. He says he went over with his father to protect him.

"Why, if his father was going on a peaceful mission as they both say he was, did Robin have to go along to protect the father? Under our law, this means that Robin went along to share with his father in the responsibility of whatever happened."

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

The heaviest produce receipts of any middle week day in the past two months were on hand today, accredited most largely to the rains of the night before making it impossible for the farmers to do any work on their fields. If anything, demands strengthened and eggs advanced to a straight 20c per dozen, while chickens and butter were so eagerly sought for that it is hardly possible those markets will decline for some time. There were some oats and corn receipts also on hand today, the former going at 55c per bushel and corn at 73c, though this latter price is really not the market value.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of G. H. Crouse & Co., this morning: "The buyers are hoping that the farmers will turn out again tomorrow as they did today, for there is room for everything that can be brought in. The egg market will rule heavily at the 20c mark tomorrow with the other lines also well up in the strong column."

No other changes were recorded today.

The night of January 9, 1836, the night that the "big wind" broke over the Emerald isle, shrieking death and ruin in its wake, no old son of Erin can ever forget. It is the night of all nights fresh in his memory. Mrs. A. E. Hoffman, of 634 West Wayne street, issued cards today for a reception she will give on Thursday afternoon, April 29 from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The announcement of the coming wedding of Miss Charlotte Stier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Stier, of 943 West Wayne street, was made last evening at the entertainment of a club of young women to which Miss Stier belongs, at her home. The groom-elect is Harry Smith, Jr., of Chicago, but he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, of Lafayette, and is in business with the Preston manufacturing company of Chicago. The date of the wedding is to be May 26. The company of last evening played bridge and at supper found the date of the marriage announced on a tiny card hidden in a pink rose, one at each plate. The table was decorated with roses and candles under pink shades and tulle bows of pink tied to the holders. The ice cream was served in pink rose form and vases of pink and white flowers decorated both parlor and diningroom. The tally cards were watercolor drawings and were very pretty souvenirs of the party. The guests were Misses Anna Sullivan, Augusta Parnin, Bernadette Monahan, Florence Fry and Charlotte O'Rourke.

Mrs. W. A. Kunkel, of Bluffton, who has been the guest for a week of Mrs. Harry Perfect, will return home tomorrow. Mrs. Kunkel has visited here before and has a number of intimate friends, each of whom has done something towards entertaining her. This evening the members of the Evening Bridge club will be entertained by Mrs. Peter Pickard and Mrs. Harry Perfect at the home of Mrs. Pickard.

Miss Elizabeth Hockemeyer, of Washington boulevard west, entertained the five-hundred club of which she is a member on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. A. Close, of Huntington, and little daughter, Katherine, were guests today of Mrs. Walter Close, of Elmwood avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Coulter, jr., returned to Bloomington, Ill., today after a visit with their sister, Mrs. E. Ralph Yarnelle.

The Philomath club will be entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. P. F. Dixon, 1609 Cass street. There will be important business to transact and a full attendance of the members is desired.

Mrs. Clara Zollars Bond returned yesterday from a few days' visit in Chicago. Mrs. Bond heard several grand opera performances, among them "La Boheme," "Marriage of Figaro" and "Parsifal."

Miss Sophia Hormann, of Wapakoneta, Ohio, is visiting William Ropa and Mrs. C. L. Daseler, of 1007 Wall street. Miss Hormann's father and Mr. Ropa were school friends sixty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geller, of Portland, are to be guests soon of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Geller, of Bloomingdale. Mr. Geller has been away from Fort Wayne for nineteen years and during the visit here a reunion of the Geller family will be held.

The Optimist club members were pleasantly entertained Tuesday by Mrs. Fred Lambert, of Woodland avenue. The guests were Mesdames Wagner, J. Heiser, L. C. Moore, Hite, Jackson, Lehman, Loechler, Gross, Finch, George White, W. White and Kaehn. Mrs. Heiser won the honors in a contest.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Frost, of South Calhoun street, are going to Riverside, Cal., to live and with their son, Frank, will leave for that place on April 29. Miss Minnie Frost has been teaching in Riverside for two years and her parents have been waiting to dispose of their residence property in order to join her. The sale of the property has just been made.

Miss Tillie Wild, of Calhoun street, was given a surprise party last evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. A fine supper was a feature of the pleasures of the evening which was enjoyed by all the company. There were present Misses Audrey Amos, Emma Graves, Alma Niemeyer, Clara and Flora Diffenbaugh, Margaret Barvey and Messrs. Herman Martin, Edward Kline, Fred and Bert Yergens, Edward Dornte, Albert Binyard, Henry Brueggeman, Louis Kramer, J. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Fricke.

Sanger—Striker.

The wedding of Miss Daisy Striker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Striker, and Mr. Clarence J. Sanger, of this city, was a pretty home affair of Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride, 123 West Leith street. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Dr. H. P. Welton. Miss Lydia Kemp played the wedding march as the bride and groom, unattended, entered the parlor and took their places in front of a grouping of small palms, ferns and pots of blooming Marguerites. As the bride and groom plighted their troth with a ring Miss Kemp played softly, "Hearts and Fowers." The bride looked very handsome in a stylish gown of white messaline silk, trimmed with real venise lace. In her hair the bride wore a white rose and she held a shower bouquet of bride roses and ferns. Immediately after congratulations had been extended the guests, who numbered about forty, were served a buffet supper. Assisting Mrs. Striker at that time were a club of particular friends of the bride, consisting of Mrs. Albert Bowser, Mrs. Arnold Curdes, Mrs. Edgar Pfeiffer, Miss Null, Miss Matson and Miss Edith Monahan. The house was prettily trimmed with smilax, baskets of flowers, which hung between the archways, and vases of white carnations and Marguerites. The chandeliers were draped with smilax and the lights were shaded in green. In the livingroom the carnations were a delicate pink and in the dining room red was the predominating color. The table was decorated with a large bowl of red carnations during the wedding, but at supper time the flowers were removed for a place for the bride's cake. Festoons of white tulle added further beauty to the decoration. The guests were received at the house by Mrs. Arnold Curdes and during the felicitations Mr. and Mrs. Striker received with Mr. Sanger's father and brother, C. M. and Nelson Millhagen, of St. Joe, Mich. Mrs. Millhagen, mother of the bridegroom, was unable to attend the wedding on account of illness. Mr. Wilder, of Farmer Center, Ohio, an old family friend; Mrs. Norway, of Cleveland, and Mr. Flertag, of St. Joe, Mich., were other out of town guests. The bride and groom will not take a trip at present but will go to housekeeping at 2603 Oliver street. Mr. Sanger is with the C. E. Hadsell American Investment Development company and has lived in this city about two years. Mrs. Sanger is both pretty and charming. Mr. Gunder, of Marion, Ohio, was a guest at the wedding.

Braiding on white net is much used this season for trimming swiss and batiste frocks in lingerie style, for the heavy braiding on the filmy material is rich in effect and makes a pretty and unusual decoration.

The braided net in this gown is combined with imitation Irish lace and a narrower entre deux of German val., and though the arrangement of the lace and braided net motifs in Vandyked effects seems intricate and elaborate, the pattern is really simple in design.

CONVENTION WAS SUCCESS.

Delegates Express Deep Interest in Joining State Federation.

The primary object in the convention of women's clubs of the Twelfth district, which was held in this city on Wednesday was to interest unfederated clubs in the state organization with the expectation of their early affiliation with that body. The delegates present from such study clubs as are not already in co-operation with the Indiana State Federation of Clubs were unanimous in saying that they should go home and do their utmost in efforts to have the clubs in which they have individual interest join the state organization.

The sessions of the district convention were free from any feeling of dissatisfaction whatever and there is no question of a new and livelier interest being awakened in local club circles, as well in other towns of the district. The underlying motives of women's work in study clubs was well expressed yesterday by Mrs. Walter Olds, who rose to offer an amendment to a resolution which had been presented. Mrs. Olds declared that the club women of the state have important work in trying to better sanitary conditions and helping industrial reforms and their actions should be governed by reason and justice and not by mere sentiment. For such reasons she proposed an amendment to a resolution that had been offered to ask the Indiana State Federation of Clubs to petition the legislature to repeal a law giving the bodies of paupers to the state for clinical purposes. The amendment was seconded by Dr. Jessie C. Calvin. Further remarks strengthening those of Mrs. Olds were made by Mrs. M. S. Mahurin, and when put to a vote the amendment was carried unanimously and the resolution was killed. Resolutions adopted were those thanking the local committee for entertainment, endorsing Miss Hoagland's recommendations for library extension and Mrs. Josephine Page Wright's outline of work in the literary department of the state federation.

IN THE THEATERS

The book of the Purdue play, "The Junior in Command" to be presented at the Majestic tomorrow evening, is by Frank Harsh, of the class of 1902, the lyrics are by Dave Reel, '09 and the music is by George Ade Davis, a nephew of George Ade. Jess Andre is leading man, Kenneth Quivey and Paul Robert have principal solo parts. There is a cast of sixteen people and a chorus of thirty-six. The book is said to be witty and the music catchy. The play is tropical in scene and deals with the adventures of a Purdue man in Mexico. The stage settings are patterned after the ancient Aztec scenes.

The career of "The Great Divide" to be seen at the Majestic Saturday matinee and night has been epoch-making in American theatrical history. Here at last is a play which is splendid literature, great drama technically, and at the same time fascinating to the spectator, and of almost unprecedented commercial value. Undoubtedly, it is as big in conception and broad in treatment as the picturesque portion of the far west in which the first two acts are laid—the Rocky mountains, the great divide between our east and west. The different roles portrayed by the two leading players are most human and sincere, yet highly dramatic withal. A superb company has been provided.

John Drew and "Jack Straw" will be the double attraction at the Majestic Monday, April 26. Mr. Drew is always a favorite, no matter what his play may be, and in this case he is said to have one of the best comedies that has been produced on the American stage in a very long time. Its author, W. Somerset Maugham, had "Jack Straw" and three other pieces all running at once in London last season and they were all successes too. "Jack Straw" was the first of the quartet to be done in this country.

Large audiences are witnessing "Brown's in Town," the clever farce that the stock company is playing at the Majestic this week. The closing performance of the farce will be given tonight. Mr. Atchley is singing the illustrated song this week.

FARMERS ARE GETTING ACTIVE.

Several Societies May Be Formed to Care for Legislative Interests.

An effort is being put forth in Allen county to form several farmers' societies to be chartered under the American Equity society, the prime purpose of which would be to look after the legislative interests of the members and also to comprise the pushing power to any matter that might mean benefit to the soil tillers. While the societies would be affiliated with the State Federation of Labor, they would not be connected with the American Federation. Several meetings are being planned with the view of immediate organization.

MASONS WILL SOON FINISH.

Stone Work on Scottish Rite Cathedral Nearing Completion.

With the efforts of the next four or five days, the stone work on the new Scottish Rite Cathedral, on the corner of Clinton and East Washington streets will be completed and the interior work will then be taken up. The last few rows of stone are being laid now and the roof is nearly done. From the present outlook, the building will be ready for occupancy by the Scottish Rite lodges soon after the first of October.

FINAL HEARING MAY 18.

Five Bankruptcy Petitions to Come Up for Action.

Five bankruptcy actions are scheduled for final hearing on May 18 in the federal court. They are the petitions of Cyrus Swank, of Fort Wayne; John F. Schoenauer, of South Whitley; Lewis S. Waiser, of Bluffton, and Charles E. Hunt, of Liberty Center.

Ed M. Wilson returned this morning from a business visit of a few days in Fon du Lac, Wis.

Curried Cauliflower.

Wash cauliflower in cold water, throw it into boiling salted water and cook in an uncovered saucepan thirty minutes. Drain, cut cauliflower in small pieces. Put two tablespoonfuls butter into a asucepan, add one chopped onion and cook till onion is browned then add two tablespoonfuls flour, one teaspoonful curry powder, one teaspoonful salt and one teaspoonful meat extract, then add gradually one pint boiling water, allow to boil for five minutes then add cauliflower; cover saucepan and cook slowly twenty minutes. Serve with plain boiled rice.

Savarin a la Chantilly.

Put one yeast cake into a cup with one teaspoonful sugar and one teaspoonful flour, add half cupful lukewarm water and milk, allow to remain in a warm place for fifteen minutes. Sift half a pound of flour into a basin, allow it to get warm, add pinch of salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one ounce blanched and shredded almonds, three tablespoonfuls melted butter, not too hot, and three well beaten eggs. Beat ten minutes with your hands, pour into well buttered mold, which has a hole in the center of it. Allow to rise in warm place till double in size. Bake in hot oven for three-quarters of an hour. Serve cold, with whipped, sweetened and flavored cream in the center.

HEADS PROGRAM AT BIG MASONIC BANQUET

William Geake to be Toastmaster at Dedication in Indianapolis.

William Geake, of this city, has been asked and has accepted the invitation to preside as toastmaster at the big banquet to be given by the Indiana Grand Lodge of Masons on the occasion of the dedication of the new home on the 24th of next month. In the gathering at that time will be a number of prominent Masons from all parts of the surrounding states and it will probably be one of the most elaborate Masonic functions held in many years.

Mr. Geake's selection as toast-master is considered an honor not only to himself but to the Fort Wayne lodges of Masonry which he will represent. Invitations are being received by other Fort Wayne Masons to attend and it is likely a number of them will do so. The grand lodge building is being erected for the use of all Masons not affiliated with the Scottish Rite degrees. A new Scottish Rite building was recently dedicated in that city.

HISTORY HARD THIS TIME.

The manuscripts of those who took the examination for eighth-grade students from the country schools on last Saturday have been corrected as far as the history by Superintendent Felger. Until he began on the history questions Mr. Felger was hopeful that nearly all would pass, but he says there will be a number of failures in that study. The papers will all be corrected probably by the end of this week.

Advices from the Hope hospital are to the effect that Judge Allen Zollars continues to rapidly improve and it is believed he will not have to be confined in the hospital many weeks longer.

New Style Evening Hood

Carlier was the originator of the big hood bonnets, built on reeds, which keep the hair in order when one travels to an evening festivity in an automobile. The outside of this hood is ofshirred chiffon, a frill of which falls in front over the wide velvet ribbon which continues downward to form the strings. Tiny bunches of pink roses make the bonnet very coquetish.

Experiments in Player Pianos

Our Player-Pianos have been a success from the start. There has been no experimenting at the expense of our customers. Every player Piano we have ever sold is giving satisfaction and is as valuable today as it was the day it was bought. This is not the case with many others that have been sold here.

65 or 88 Our Player-Pianos are made in 65-note or 88-note and a combination of both. The exclusive features for using the new standard 88-note music are absolutely indispensable and not found in any other Player Piano.

Our five-year guarantee with every Player we sell, together with the quality we give at the price, are matters you should seriously consider. We invite the most critical examination, feeling confident our Players will do all any other Player will and a few things more.

Prospective purchasers cannot afford to buy without first seeing our Players.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Northern Indiana News and Gossip

Hoagland will soon have a bank with Dr. Smith as president.

Enos Vian, prominent farmer, is dead at his home near Corunna.

Mayor Voris, of Crawfordsville, favors the whipping post for wife-beaters.

Linn & Patton were the lowest bidders on the proposed new city hall at Decatur—$10,619.

Winona expects to have free mail delivery before the assembly session opens this year.

The North Manchester opera house is installing a fire-proof curtain in order to comply with the state laws.

Ray Moon, an 8-year-old lad at Peru, had his right hand blown off while exploding a railroad torpedo at play.

Joe Williamson, jr., near Auburn, was kicked in the eye by a horse, but will not lose the sight of the optic.

Jacob Palmer, a pioneer farmer of Huntington county, is dead at the home of his daughter in Huntington.

Newton Depew, jr., of Garrett, was attacked by two bulldogs at the same time Wednesday and was painfully bitten.

Burglars who entered the Rice grocery at Garrett, carried away nothing but eight cents from the cash drawer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, of Altona, stumbled and fell while carrying a pail of boiling water and was painfully scalded.

Surveyors are outlining a route for the proposed interurban line from Wabash to Warsaw, by way of North Manchester.

R. D. Oliver, near Millersburg, fell against a buzz saw which he was operating, and his right hand was amputated at the wrist.

"Patsy" Shields, a Garrett character, was blown from the top of a box car by the high wind Wednesday, and his back was broken in his fall.

Bert Bixler, of Kendallville, has just been advised that he has unquestioned rights to extensive holdings of lands in Oklahoma through his Indian relatives.

Michael Hogan, pioneer resident of Lagro, died at his home in that village from stomach trouble. He was 67 years of age and a veteran of the civil war.

Wabash has organized a Chautauqua association to give a series of addresses and entertainments in the City park this summer. Bryan will speak there August 7.

Rev. L. L. Carpenter, the veteran Wabash minister, has dedicated a total of 741 churches and is still actively engaged at the work. He is a member of the Christian denomination.

A baseball team composed of patients and attendants at Longcliffe insane asylum, Logansport, has been organized and has issued a challenge to any similar team in the United States.

But one saloon remains in Avilla, and it is doing a land-office business with four bartenders supplying drinks to patrons from surrounding "dry" towns. The license of the place will expire early in June.

The Auburn Building and Loan association has been organized with a capital stock of $100,000, with W. H. Schaab, George A. Bishop, H. B. McCord, J. E. Buchanan, E. T. Cochran, J. W. Sheffer and M. E. Garrett as directors.

Mayor Odum has returned to Peru and denounces as ridiculous the rumors that he had left to avoid appearing before the grand jury. The mayor says he first was at Logansport on business and then at Lagro attending the funeral of a friend.

The Vandalia railroad management has turned down cold the petition of the citizens of towns along the old Eel River line to withdraw the order taking off one passenger train each way daily and requiring patrons to travel on stock and coal trains.

It is said that since returning to Roann, Dr. G. E. Snearly, indicted on a charge of wife-poisoning, has been very busy with his practice, and his office has been crowded with patients nearly every day since his release on bond. The friends of the doctor are as active as his enemies.

Capt. Brooke, of the South Bend Salvation Army, now in jail in that city for blockading the streets with his meetings, is holding services in his cell. The ministers of that city have come to the aid of Capt. Brooke's family and they will be supported while the husband and father is in jail.

The latest attempt to find Mrs. Bella Gunness at Winnipeg, Man., has ended in a colossal fizzle, the same as all of the other attempts made to show that the murderess is alive. Most people believe, statements from Laporte lawyers to the contrary, that Bella Gunness burned to death in the fire that destroyed her home about a year ago.

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hefty, seven miles east of Auburn, was burned to death Tuesday evening. The mother left the little one asleep on a bed when she left the house for a few minutes and returned to find him in an adjoining room, his clothing in flames, and the mother was badly burned in an attempt to save the child. It is presumed the lad awakened, went into the adjoining room and was playing about the stove when his clothing caught fire.

VARNELL COMES FOR A LOOK AT HIS TEAM

Nothing on Hand, Says He, In Deals for Players.

Owner Claude H. Varnell dropped in this morning to look over his ball team and to see that things at the grounds are moving along in a way to give the public entertainment in as much comfort as it is possible to incorporate in grand stands and bleachers and said that he had nothing special on hand and is here just for a little sociable call. He will stay a day or two to see the club work in the games scheduled with Van Wert today and with Anson's Colts Saturday and the Shamrocks on the day following.

He has never seen his left-handed outfield in action and has not gotten a chance to obtain a line on Lester Channell, the new member of the outer guard. He is pretty well satisfied with his club and says he and Manager Hendricks have no deals on.

Charlie Alberts rolled into camp this morning and during the day it is likely he will hold consultation with Manager Hendricks and sign his contract. He has been working out some at Grand Rapids and looks to be in fair condition although in this respect he is nearly a month behind the other players on the club. His contract this season calls for an advance over last year and his differences with the management are really trivial.

Fort Wayne wants to hold him because he is a good pitcher and ought to advance. The first year that he satisfies himself with conditions and goes in to work the best he knows how will be his last year in Class B, if some mighty good judges who have seen him work are right in their estimates of his ability as a pitcher. He had not talked contract up to this afternoon.

Offers have been received from La Cross, Wis., for both Fogel and Romain, and although the deals were not closed both will be sent there if they are satisfied to go. They will be sold on option agreements and will report to Fort Wayne again in the spring of 1910.

WILL ORGANIZE FRIDAY.

A meeting will be held at the Elks' temple Friday night at which the lodge's ball club for the season will be organized. It is requested that all who want to make the team attend the gathering.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints, causing rheumatism. Dreier & Bro.

JEFFRIES SURE HE CAN TAKE OFF FLESH

Big Fellow Sensitive About Inability to Train Down.

New York, April 22.—Now that Jim Jeffries has agreed to box Jack Johnson, the big fellow has commenced to grow sensitive about allusions to his condition, particularly to his girth, and yesterday he came out with a statement to the effect that he would be in good shape when he faced the black spārrer.

"I wouldn't have decided to meet Johnson unless I knew I could get back in trim," he said, "and all this talk about my immense size and weight is unfounded. I have always taken on flesh rapidly. When I was a boiler-maker I had to drink abundantly of water and beer to keep perspiring.

"In that trade, especially when a man is working in the roller mill end of the game as I did for a time, it is necessary to have a free flow of perspiration to keep in good shape. This is especially the case when a man is handling the molten metal. Sometimes I have taken a gallon of water in the course of a couple of hours. This may have had a tendency to make me stout. But I know that the way I pick up flesh is not because of overeating or laziness. I can get it off, all right, but it is far easier for me to take it on.

"I picked up some weight in the saloon business, but because I have a big girth doesn't show that I'm soft down there. Take a poke at it and see."

Jim expanded himself at this stage and proved that he still has the old "washboard" formation beneath the skin, which is still somewhat flabby.

Jeffries is getting close to the 225-pound mark, but still looks too portly to be sufficiently agile in the ring to meet a fast boxer like Johnson. It is said that Billy Delaney may sidetrack Al Kaufman's ambitions for the time and devote himself to getting Jeffries in shape once more.

Jeff has decided to take up the temperance movement at once and says that as soon as he cuts out the occasional glass of wine with friends he will reduce more rapidly.

Reports wired from Pittsburg to this city to the effect that Johnson might drop the bout with Ketchel altogether, in case Jeffries decided to get back in the ring inside of ten months, drew a howl of protest from Willus Britt, who is looking after Stanley's interests.

"We had Johnson signed up first," he said," and we will hold him to his word. He posted $5,000 and we covered it, and we surely will claim the forfeit unless he agrees to battle. I think he is afraid to meet Ketchel, he is so ready to drop that match. But he will have to pay for it if he does."

Holders of the forfeit which Johnson posted here may find themselves in a perplexing situation, as the big colored boxer, with the utmost equanimity in the world, has been promising all those who sought a bout with him that he would surely meet them so long as they covered his money.

EVANSVILLE TO BAT IN ABOUT SAME ORDER

Team is Not as Strong as It Was in the Season of 1908.

Evansville, Ind., April 22.—Manager Charles "Punch" Knoll, of the champions, will preserve in as far as possible the line-up of last season, having made the rather unique record of having gone entirely through the year without changing his batting order, a fact to which he attributes more or less of his success in winning the Central league pennant.

Unless some of the young players on the team develop unusual and unexpected strength the club will not be as strong when it enters the league race next Thursday with a game against Fort Wayne as it was when it went on the field a year ago.

In the first place Jimmy Wacker, who is really Charles Wacker and is so known now that he is in better company, will be missing from the pitching staff without a probability that either of the new men will show the form he displayed last season. As a matter of fact his pitching was one of the chief elements of the winning last year. Then it must be remembered that in the forty-two games he played he hit .321, which also helped to bring the bunting to this city.

Without Charley French the infield will be much weaker, although his absence will make the only change in the inner defensive works. Spangler will be at first, Crowder at short and Sager at third, while the keystone sack will be covered by Henry Butcher, who was purchased from the Chicago Cubs. He played last season at Rockford in the Wisconsin-Illinois league and evidently cut some figure in the organization or Frank Chance never would have thought of drafting him.

The records show that he hit .260 in a class D league as against .339 for French in a class B organization and that he fielded .944 while the man whose place he is to fill got .961. Emil Grefe showed pretty well last season for a young catcher and ought to do better this season, but neither he nor Cady is in the same class with Joe Dunn either as a backstop or a batsman. This leads to the belief that the team will not be as strong behind the bat.

Frank Norcum is a good man in the outfield, barring his weak throwing, and the manager himself is all right. He is there at all stages of the game with the bells, both in the matter of fielding and hitting, but there will be some difficulty in filling Julius Kustus' shoes. West looks like the likely candidate for the place and with a couple of old heads on each side of him he ought to do good work if he has anything in him but he will not hit as hard as Kustus.

With hard hitting clubs behind them Ferrias and Pearson won the majority of their games last year, although the latter barely got the balance on the right side. Ferrias won a bigger percentage of his games, but the stick work and the fielding behind him this year will be below that standard of 1908, and while Manager Knoll is himself firm in the belief that he has a club that will keep at the top in the pennant fight the patrons here are a bit skeptical, although they are all with him and will pull hard to bring another bunting to this city.

RAGGED GAME TO CARDINALS.

Bresnahan' Braves Wallop Reds 9 to 5 on a Wet Field.

Cincinnati, O., April 22.—In a game filled with errors St. Louis won from Cincinnati on a wet field, which was responsible for much of the misplaying. Bases on balls early in the game proved costly for the local team. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1 0 1 2 5 0 0 0 0	9	7	3
Cincinnati	0 0 0 3 2 0 0 0 0	5	11	1

Batteries—Rhodes, Beebe and Bresnahan; Karger, Dubuc, Ragen, Gasper and Roth and McLean.

Two-base hits—Huggins, Oakes. Sacrifice hits—Evans, Delehanty, Rhodes. Stolen base—Byrne. Double plays—Enright, Charles to Konetchy. Bases on balls—Off Rhodes, 3; off Karger, 4; off Dubuc, 3. Hit by pitcher—Roth. Wild pitches—Karger, 1; Rhodes, 1. Hits—Off Karger, 1 in 3 innings; off Dubuc, 4 in 3 innings; off Ragen, 1 in 2 innings; off Gasper, 1 in 1 inning; off Rhodes, 6 in 4 innings; off Beebe, 5 in 5 innings. Time of game—2:15. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

PILED UP 22 RUNS IN SIX-INNING BATTLE

Kansas City and St. Paul in Queer Struggle—Other Games.

Kansas City, April 22.—On a muddy field Kansas City and St. Paul in a six-inning game piled up a total score of 22, 12 going to St. Paul and the remaining ten to the home team. The game was called to let the St. Paul team catch a train. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Kansas City	3 0 3 3 0 0—10	9	1
St. Paul	0 1 0 7 0 4—12	15	1

Batteries—Essick, Wright and Brady and Sullivan; Gehring, Leroy and Leise and Yeager and Carisch.

Hits—Off Essick, 6 in 3 innings; off Wright, 2 in 2 innings; off Brady, 7 in 2 1-3 innings; off Gehring, 3 in 1-3 inning; off Leroy, 6 in 3 innings; off Liese, none in 2 2-3 innings. Two-base hits—Love, Cross, Carisch. Three-base hit—Murphy. Home run—Beckley. Sacrifice hit—Bean. Stolen base—Shannon. Struck out—By Essick, 3; by Brady, 1; by Leroy, 1; by Liese, 3. Bases on balls—Off Essick 3; off Wright, 3; off Brady, 1; off Gehring, 1; off Leroy, 3; off Liese, 2. Wild pitch—Leroy. Time of game—2:00. Umpires—Sullivan and Conahan.

INDIANAPOLIS, 11; COLUMBUS, 4.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—Columbus was in the lead up to the seventh inning when the home team started a great batting rally, eight runners scoring before the side was retired. Umpire Owens was seriously injured in the seventh by a foul tip. He was unconscious for some time. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	0 1 0 1 1 0 3 0 *—11	16	3

Batteries—Linke, Taylor and Parson and James; Slagle and Knepper and Howley.

Two-base hits—Miller, Howley, Burke, Carr. Struck out—By Slagle, 1; by Knepper, 3; by Linke, 1. Double plays—Wrigley to Miller. Hit by pitcher—D. O'Rourke. McChesney. Umpires—Owen and Eckman. Time of game—2:00.

TOLEDO, 3; LOUISVILLE, 1.

Louisville, Ky., April 22.—Toledo won the closing game of the series from Louisville by consistent batting. Robinson allowed the locals but four hits, while Packard yielded eight, three of which were secured by Hickman. A heavy hailstorm stopped play for five minutes in the first inning. Hickman's batting was the feature. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toledo	1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—3	8	3

Batteries—Packard and Peitz; Robinson and Clark.

Stolen bases—Sullivan, Delehanty. Sacrifice hit—Doubert. Three-base hits—Quinlan, Hickman. Double plays—Quinlan to Sullivan. Smoot to Nill. Struck out—By Packard, 3; by Robinson, 4. Bases on balls—Off Packard, 2; off Robinson, 6. Time of game—2:00. Umpire—King.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The Bowser Grays and the Bowser Blues will meet in a practice game tomorrow afternoon on the Lawton Park grounds. The regular line-up of both teams will be picked from the men playing in the game and therefore all candidates are requested to be present. Both teams were out for practice a little while last Saturday afternoon, but tomorrow's game will be the first real workout this season. There are plenty men working for positions on both teams and from the looks of things at present Bowsers will be well represented this year.

The Fort Wayne Garlands have organized for the season with a lineup of seventeen of Fort Wayne's fastest amateur players and the club is anxious to hear from any fast teams of the surrounding towns. Answer through these columns.

ATHLETICS LOSE TO BOSTON IN THE OPENER

State Officials Attend the Game—Cincinnati Loses.

Boston, Mass., April 22.—The local American league season opened yesterday, Boston scoring a victory over Philadelphia, 6 to 2. The visitors played a ragged game in the field and could not hit Chech when there were men on bases. Boston showed great speed. There was a sensational triple steal by Lord, Speaker and Gessler, Lord scoring. The all-around playing of Speaker was a feature.

The customary flag raising and march preceded the game. Besides Lieutenant Governor Louis A. Frothingham, who threw out the first ball, Governor Eben S. Draper and former Governor Curtis Guild, jr., were present. The score:

Batteries—Chech and Spencer; Plank, Schlitzer and Lapp.

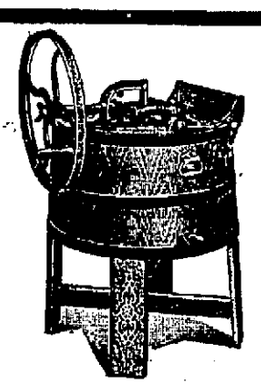

Two-base hit—Hartzell. Three-base hit—Stahl. Hits—Off Plank, 4 in 5 innings; off Schlitzer, 2 in 3 innings. Sacrifice hits—Nicholls, Speaker. Stolen bases—Hartzell, Speaker (3), McConnell, Gessler (2), Strunk, Lapp, Lord (2). First base on balls—Off Chech, 5; off Plank, 3; off Schlitzer, 1. Struck out—By Chech, 3; by Plank, 3; by Schlitzer, 1. Passed ball—Lapp. Time of game—1:52. Umpires—Egan and Connelly.

SEVENTH U. S. INFANTRY TO PASS THROUGH FORT WAYNE

Famous Regiment Starts for Pacific Coast Next Week.

The Seventh regiment, U. S. infantry, will pass through Fort Wayne over the Wabash route Friday afternoon, April 30, en route from Detroit to San Francisco. The twenty-seven cars comprising the two trains will be two buffet standard sleepers, one twelve section standard sleeper for the officers, fourteen tourist sleepers, two tourist kitchen cars and eight baggage cars. The first train will leave Detroit at 9 o'clock in the morning and the second train at 9:30 o'clock and they will reach Fort Wayne at 2 o'clock and 2:30 o'clock respectively, stopping here about fifteen minutes each. At Kansas City the soldiers and officers will be delivered to the Santa Fe road, to make the trip to San Francisco over that line. This will be the largest body of soldiers carried through Fort Wayne for several years and a crowd will assemble at the depot to see them.

NEW CANDIDATE IN FIELD.

C. C. Tripp Asks Honors From G. R. & I. Employes.

Tony Gerard, general yardmaster at Grand Rapids for the Grand Rapids and Indiana company and the present member of the Pennsylvania Volunteer Relief association's advisory board, announces that he is not a candidate for re-election, though he has held the office only one term. His time is too much occupied by the duties of his office with the company to permit of devoting the attention to the committee duties they should receive and on this account he will retire at the end of his present term. C. C. Tripp, night yardmaster at Grand Rapids, has entered the field and will have no opposition, so far as can be learned at this time. So far only two candidates have announced for the office on the Western division of the Pennsylvania—Conductor O. Irvin, the present incumbent, and J. G. Roper, a blacksmith in the shops in this city. There was some talk about Conductor William A. Current making the race again this year, but he has not yet formally announced his candidacy.

COPPER THIEF SENTENCED.

N. J. Ettinger Gets Thirty Days in Work House.

Captain Henry Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police force, has been advised of the fate of N. J. Ettinger, the young man who stole copper wire from the Pennsylvania company at Lima and was arrested by Patrolman William Doehrman April 17. Ettinger received a thirty days work house sentence and was taken to Toledo this morning to begin serving time. David Pees, who was associated with Ettinger in the crime, plead not guilty and has been bound over to the probate court. The men stole about 600 pounds of copper telegraph wire, valued at about $75, and cut it into short pieces so they could handle it better than in the big rolls of the original packages. The wire was recovered.

RUNNING TIME REDUCED.

Thirty-Six Hours Lopped Off Schedule Express Trains.

The Harriman and Gould interests have completed arrangements for transcontinental express service which will lessen the time from coast to coast by thirty-six hours, it is claimed. The time from New York to San Francisco now is about seven days for express packages, there being but one complete transcontinental system. Arrangements completed are for the Baltimore and Ohio to be used between Pittsburg and the Atlantic coast, the Wabash-Pittsburg terminal to the main line of the Wabash, and then through Chicago, Kansas City, and Denver to Salt Lake, where the Western Pacific, soon to be completed, will rush the express matter into San Francisco.

GRAND OFFICER COMING.

A. P. Kelly Will Address Firemen Tonight.

A. P. Kelly, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, arrived in the city this afternoon and will attend the meeting of A. G. Porter lodge, No. 141, this evening and make an address. News of Mr. Kelly's coming was not received in time to announce it at the regular meeting of the brotherhood last week, but he will be greeted by a great number of the members who will receive the notice through this item. A. G. Porter lodge is enjoying the greatest era of prosperity in its history, having over 800 members.

TAKES POSITION OUT WEST.

F. C. Steinman, a Nickel Plate telegraph operator, who went west on a pleasure trip, will reside in Los Angeles. Immediately upon his arrival in that city, three weeks ago, he was offered a position with the Southern Pacific and he accepted. Mr. Steinman's experience is only a repetition of the experience of a number of other good telegraph operators who have gone west the past two or three years. There is a demand for operators out there and all who are so inclined readily find employment.

DISCUSSING EXCURSION.

E. J. Bryant, of Toledo, traveling passenger agent of the Lake Shore road, is in the city this afternoon, in the effort to induce the employes of the Fort Wayne Electric company to go to Cedar Point over his line on the occasion of the annual excursion. The Nickel Plate is also seeking the business. The committee on arrangements for the excursion will bring the matter of date before the Relief union at the meeting tomorrow night, when it is hoped that question will be settled.

JOHN PAGE IMPROVING.

John Page, the Pennsylvania baggageman who has been very sick for a year or more, is improving and now gives promise of complete recovery. He has not been able to work since last November, but if the present improvement continues he will be at work again in a few weeks. Mr. Page resides in Crestline, but he formerly lived here. He is a brother to William G. Page, machinist at the Pennsylvania round house.

TRAIN JUMPER FINED.

To please some nervous people residing in Pierceton, Captain Stoll has applied drastic measures in the suppression of the train jumping offense at that place. Two young fellows, aged seventeen years, who were previously warned by serving them with trespass notices, were arrested yesterday and taken before a 'squire, who assessed a fine of $1 and costs against each.

FLYER KILLS A HORSE.

Pennsylvania train No. 28, the westbound eighteen hour flyer, struck a wagon on a crossing at Clark at 8 o'clock this morning and killed the horse that was pulling the vehicle. The driver saw the approaching train in time to get out of reach of it and was not injured. Clark is a small station and the flyer passes through it at the rate of sixty miles an hour.

BIG DERRICK IN SHOPS.

The big steam derrick which was damaged in an accident while en route to the scene of a freight wreck on the Detroit division of the Wabash a few days ago, was brought here yesterday and taken into the shops for repairs. The mammoth machine was not badly damaged and it will be in as good order as ever by tomorrow night.

WILL GO WEST TO STAY.

O. C. Frederick, for the past two years a helper in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, has decided to go to Montana to reside. He resigned his position at the shops this morning and will leave for the west in a few days.

NEW PENNSY PATROLMAN.

Captain Henry Stoll has added Dayton F. Abbott to the force of patrolmen on the Western division of the Pennsylvania. Mr. Abbott was formerly employed by the Bell Telephone company.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. Rohler and W. E. Parker, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

J. Lansdown, a Pennsylvania car builder, went to Chicago today for a visit with friends.

O. Henning, S. S. Metcalf and D. Binkley, Pennsylvania brakemen, are sick and off duty.

Boilermaker William Heuer, of the Bass shops, was at Dunfee, Ind., yesterday repairing a steam plant.

W. A. Hopkins, chief electrician of the Wabash, was in the city today looking over the company's power plant.

W. M. Brown and J. A. Burns resigned positions at the Wabash shops this morning. Burns was a steam hammer operator.

Herman Hoeppner, who was married a few days ago, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania round house this morning.

M. A. Goggett, who has charge of the Pennsylvania pumping station at the St. Mary's river, is sick and off duty. He resides in Monroeville.

H. C. Walda, a painter, reported for work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning, after an absence on account of sickness of four or five days.

Charles Adamson, representing Adams & Westlake, dealers in car supplies, was in the city today calling upon Pennsylvania and other railway officials.

J. R. VanBuskirk, a Pennsylvania painter, is taking a two weeks' vacation which he will spend with friends at Terre Haute, Ind. He left for that city today.

Motive Power Superintendent E. F. Needham and Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of the Wabash, went to the Buffalo division today on business for the company.

A temporary falling off in the volume of freight over the G. R. & I. has been followed by ten of the youngest brakemen on the road taking a thirty days' furlough.

Louis Schmoe, of the Craig Biscuit company, is recovering from an illness that has confined him two weeks. He expects to resume his calls upon his customers next Monday.

Foreman M. W. Kemp, of the Pennsylvania lumber yards, was summoned to Altoona last night to confer with other men from the car and lumber department on matters of business.

Chief Clerk W. L. Wilt, of the Pennsylvania motive power office, who has been sick several weeks, spent a good portion of today at his desk, though he has not fully recovered his health.

In getting off an engine at the Wabash shops yesterday, William Story, a pipefitter apprentice, stepped upon a nail and severely injured one of his feet. He is off duty as a result of the accident.

The several industries in Fort Wayne where women are employed are complaining of a shortage in help. It is asserted that 500 girls could find employment in the factories in Fort Wayne.

The storm which played havoc at Cleveland yesterday severed telegraphic connection on the Nickel Plate lines with that city. A number of the poles were thrown down and in other places the wires were badly mixed.

Yard Conductor John Malone, of the Wabash, went to Decatur, Ill., this morning to have an injured eye treated by the company's oculist. Conductor Malone has suffered several weeks with the affected optic.

General Claim Agent C. H. Newton, of the Wabash, was in the city awhile yesterday looking after some matters connected with the department he represents. Mr. Newton is kept busy shaking hands with old friends when he visits in Fort Wayne.

Kent Blair, night ticket agent of the Nickel Plate, who has been sick several days, is improving and may resume work tonight.

N. G. Kucher, who resigned a position at the Bowser works last week, will establish offices in the Pixley-Long block and engage in the real estate business. He expects to be ready for business by next week.

The Relief Union of the Fort Wayne Electric works will hold its annual meeting in Schroeder's hall Friday evening. President J. J. Bauer has issued a bulletin to that effect and calls attention to the necessity for a full attendance on that occasion.

W. W. Moring has resigned a position at the Pennsylvania car shops to take a position with the Union Pacific Tea company. Mr. Moring worked at the car shops about eighteen months. Prior to that service he was employed by the traction company on the city street car lines.

A seven car train, bearing several hundred people who went to the old country a few months ago to visit, will pass through the city over the Nickel Plate at 6 o'clock tonight, westbound. The passengers are chiefly residents of Wisconsin and Minnesota and many of them are quite well to do.

F. B. Marshall, for 28 years train dispatcher of the Toledo division of the Pennsylvania, has been promoted to division operator, with jurisdiction between Toledo and Newcomerstown, and the Sandusky-Columbus division, known as the Short Line. C. J. Hickox succeeds Mr. Marshall.

Fred Lenz, the tool dresser at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is in a bad way physically as the result of a fall at his home some weeks ago. One of his hips was injured and refuses to respond to the treatment so far given it. He will go to Indianapolis early next week to consult a specialist and possibly take a course of treatment. Mr. Lenz has been employed in the Pennsylvania shops a number of years and this is his first serious experience with sickness or injury.

The local Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union are in receipt of a communication from Homer D. Call, international secretary and treasurer, who is in Omaha at present. The letter stated that Mr. Call would be in Fort Wayne in a few days and the local men hope he will arrive in time to attend the meeting next Sunday, when the new by-laws and constitution will be read for adoption. Mr. Call was due here last week, but he was called west and sent word that he would come later.

BREAK COALING RECORD.

Men of Cruiser Milwaukee Perform Remarkable Feat.

Seattle, Wash., April 22.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from the navy yard, Puget Sound, says:

"Spurred on by the record made by the sistership, St. Louis, the cruiser Milwaukee yesterday smashed all records for coaling ship. Officers, as well as men, stripped down and heaved coal. In nine and a half hours the crew took aboard 1,500.7 tons. A total of 218 men, including those who weighed and tallied the coal, took part in the task. The average taken aboard per hour was 158 tons and the best record made for one hour was 208 tons. The world's record heretofore was held by the battleship Virginia."

A NEAR BEER INCIDENT.

Mansfield, La., April 22.—To buy the stocks of the several near beer dealers of Mansfield and pour the same into the gutters was the plan adopted by a mass meeting here which sought to get rid of the traffic. The dealers have announced that they will not accept the proposition on the grounds that such a step would be an admission of violating the law, which they strenuously deny.

SPEAKERS FOR COMMENCEMENT

Bloomington, Ind., April 22.—Announcement wac made today that President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford university, will give the commencement address at Indiana university June 23. The address to the law school will be made by Governor Hadley, of Missouri. Governor Thomas R. Marshall will preside during the exercises.

HAS LOCKJAW.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 22.—Roy Tryon, working before the fire in the Root Glass factory, stepped aside to take a drink of water and later was found unconscious on the floor. His jaws were tightly locked, but he revived sufficiently to be able to write his address. Several physicians that have examined him today say that he has not tetanus, that his lockjaw was caused by the shock of drinking cold water and that he will recover in a day or two.

WANTS PARDON FOR PARENT.

Paroled Son Now Seeks Release of His Father.

Indianapolis, April 22.—The members of the state board of pardons saw an example of the faithfulness of a son for the cause of his father yesterday afternoon when Hiram Hobbs, a man of 40 years, appeared before them to plead for the release of his parent, who has served twenty-two years in the Indiana reformatory. The son was convicted at the same time as his father and served fifteen years of a life sentence. The younger Hobbs was paroled seven years ago and he now desires that his father receive a similar favor from the board.

The story of the crime for which the two were convicted dates back to 1887, when Thomas Hobbs, the father, shot and killed a man named Fultz in Perry county. The son went to the scene of the shooting and was arrested and later convicted of being an accessory.

The board also heard other pleas at its session yesterday. They are: Chauncey Steele, sentenced from Adams county for forgery; Chauncey AA. Garver, sentenced from Elkhart county for forgery; Carl Farina, sentenced from Starke county for manslaughter; William Woody, sentenced from Lawrence county for assault with intent to kill; Ralph Drake, sentenced from Bartholomew county for murder; Andrew Koerner, sentenced from Marion county for murder. The latter has served twenty-five years.

THE SECRET OUT.

"What made my lovely complexion? I do not like to tell, for it was medicine, but the nicest a woman ever took. It was Lane's Family Medicine that did it." Danderine

GROWS HAIR
PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

CARNEGIE ALARMED; SEES BLOOD ON THE MOON

He Declares a Spark Would Start Anglo-German Conflict.

New York, April 22.—Andrew Carnegie, in his annual address before the New York Peace society at the Hotel Astor yesterday, declared that only a spark is needed to plunge England and Germany into war. Never in his lifetime, he said, has the world's peace seemed to be so seriously threatened as now.

Mr. Carnegie pictured two gigantic fleets of England and Germany as operating within a small radius, often in sight of each other.

"The topic of constant discussion in every shape," he added, "will be their relative power and the consequences of battles. The crews of the respective navies will regard each other with suspicion, jealousy, and hatred in this, representing only too truly the feelings of their countrymen. Under such a strain a mere spark would suffice.

"A few marines ashore from two of the ships, British and German, would be enough—a few words might pass between them, an encounter between the two, both probably under the influence of liquor, begins; one is wounded, blood is shed, and the pent up passions of the people of both countries would sweep all to the winds."

Situation Disproves Old Axiom.

Mr. Carnegie contended that the present critical situation among the nations of the world is proof in his mind that the old axioms such as "If you wish peace prepare for war" had proved ineffective. Present conditions among the nations were likened to the days of "'49" in California, where every man went armed to the teeth to prevent attack with the result that there was no end of fighting deadly feuds until the arming of men was prohibited by law.

Mr. Carnegie enumerated as among the many valid objections to the policy of armament the challenge to other nations, arousing their jealousy and fears, which every increase of naval military power proves to be. The result, even if a collision is avoided, a thing he termed miraculous, is that peace loving nations would have to go on building excessive navies through the extortion of millions from a people already near the verge of starvation.

"Hence," he said, "to save the nations from themselves there sooner or later must emerge from the present unparalleled increase of armaments, a league of peace embracing the most advanced nations, proclaiming since the world now has shrunk into a neighborhood with instantaneous communication with its total commerce yearly exceeding $28,000,000,000 all civilized nations are deeply interested in world peace, that the time has passed when any one or two nations can be permitted to break it."

Mission of United States.

He conceived it to be the mission of the United States to lead the world in a reign of peace under the law. He expressed a hope that the president, without being intrusive, may find a way to exert his influence in favor of peace, asserting this country's right to speak, if not protest, in behalf of its own imperiled interests and perhaps to invite the leading naval powers to consider a practical agreement "which would avert the appalling dangers which today threaten to convulse the world in a not distant future."

Society Adopts Suggestions.

Mr. Carnegie's address was followed by the adoption of these resolutions, designed to make his suggestions ultimately effective:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Peace Society of New York a rivalry between Britain and Germany in constructing ships of war, the action of one being contingent upon that of the other, affects the position of other naval powers so seriously as to call for their prompt consideration.

Resolved, That it should not be permissible for any power to compel all other naval powers to increase their armaments correspondingly, or, as the only alternative, permit themselves to become practically defenseless.

Resolved, That we earnestly hope that the president of our republic, whose peace loving congress repeatedly has refused to build more than one-half of the battleships asked for by the chief executive, may find it advisable to take the question into serious consideration with the view to exert his vast influence to avert either of the two alternatives stated.

Resolved, That in the league of peace suggested by the prime minister of Britain to the last peace conference in London, this society sees the most feasible solution of the problem.

Other speakers were Mlle. Vere de Vere of Paris, W. H. Short, executive secretary, and Rev. Frank Lynch. The latter in discussing the propaganda for the society favored a peace lobby at Washington to offset the lobby of the navy league.

MADE WELL AND STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bardstown, Ky.—"I suffered from ulceration and other female troubles for a long time. Doctors had failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I decided to try it. It cured my trouble and made me well and strong, so that I can do all my own work." Mrs. JOSEPH HALL, Bardstown, Ky.

Another Woman Cured.

Christiana, Tenn.—"I suffered from the worst form of female trouble so that at times I thought I could not live, and my nerves were in a dreadful condition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me, and made me feel like a different woman. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold to suffering women."—MRS. MARY WOOD, R.F.D. 3.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ills, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years this famous remedy has been the standard for all forms of female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, fibroid tumors, ulceration, inflammation, irregularities, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Fort Wayne People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Fort Wayne residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

J. F. Rempis, 515 Holman street, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "I advise anyone afflicted with kidney trouble to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. I suffered from this complaint for three years and was unable to find relief. The pains in the small of my back were terrible, especially at night. I also felt tired and languid and was subject to dizzy spells. The least cold I caught settled in my kidneys and caused the secretions to pass too frequently. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use and two boxes made a complete and permanent cure."

HAIR WHITE AS SNOW

Restored to Natural Color with One Bottle of

ALMOST A MIRACLE

My hair was as white as snow when I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer. One bottle restored my hair to its natural dark brown color. As I am now 70 years old, I consider the result most remarkable. It is an agreeable and refreshing hair dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy, without being in the least greasy or sticky.

WM. WESTLAKE,
210 West Main Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Why hesitate when WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is daily producing just such results?

After years of study and analysis of the hair, we have been able to produce an ideal Hair Tonic and Restorer, which contains an actual constituent of hair, combined with ingredients of recognized merit for treatment of hair and scalp diseases. It makes and keeps the scalp clean and healthy, gives life, strength and lustre to the hair, and restores faded and gray hair to natural color.

IT IS NOT A DYE

No matter how long and thick your hair is, WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will make it longer and thicker. It will remove every trace of dandruff in a few days, stop falling in one week, and start a new growth in from one to three months.

These are facts that have been proven in scores of cases. WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed to do or the price will be refunded.

THE MARKETS

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., April 22.—Wheat prices broke sharply again today, the July delivery selling off to a point more than one cent below the low mark reached during the sensational bear raid of last Tuesday. Borne down by a general selling pressure that option today declined to $1.11, which was nearly 3c under the final quotations of the preceding session. Prices then advanced about a cent on covering by shorts.

Liquidation was the order of the day and tremendous lines of wheat were thrown into the market. Prices had severe sinking spells all day and in the final quarter hour July dropped to $1.09⅝ and May to $1.21. The close was weak at almost the bottom, with July and May each showing net losses of 4c at $1.09⅞@1.10 for July and $1.21 for May.

The market opened weak, influenced by additional foreign news of a bearish character and by the generally favorable weather for the new crop in this country. An official estimate on the week's exports of wheat from Argentine placed the amount at 2,800,000 bushels, which was nearly half a million bushels more than the actual shipments of the previous week. The Liverpool market also was weak, with prices off a penny. Opening quotations here showed declines of ⅝@⅞c to 1⅛c. July being at $1.12⅞ to $1.13½ and May at $1.23⅛ to $1.24⅛. On the break July dropped to $1.11, while May declined to $1.23. July then rallied to $1.12.

The market slumped with wheat, May dropping to 70⅝@70¾c. The close was weak with May down 1⅛@1¼c to 70½@70⅝c.

After touching a new high mark for the season at 72c, corn for May delivery broke nearly 1c on profit taking brought out by the slump in wheat. The opening was firm with prices ¼c lower to ⅜c higher with May at 71⅛c to 71⅜c. After selling at 72c, May dropped back to 71¾c. Local receipts were again small and prospects for any material increase were slight.

Oats were firm at the start, but weakened along with wheat and corn. May opened ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher at 56⅛c to 56⅜c and sold off to 55⅞c.

Provisions were quiet and firm. A 5c to 10c advance in the price of live hogs, offset for a time the easier tone of grain. Prices at the start were 5c to 7½c higher.

The Close.

Prices at the close were as follows:

Wheat—May, $1.21; July, $1.09⅞@1.10; September, $1.02⅛@1.02¼; December, 1.00⅞.

Corn—April, 70½c; May, 70½@70⅝c; July, 68¼@68⅜c; September, 67⅛c; December, 57⅞c.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, April 22.—Prices started up with the beginning of business at the stock exchange today. The transcontinental railroad stocks were prominent, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred, Norfolk & Western and Southern Railway preferred rose large fractions and Chesapeake & Ohio 1 point.

Outside of a rise of 1½ points in Union Pacific there was practically no reflection in the active stocks but the vigorous advance in the industrials and minor railroads. In fact, Reading showed heaviness, reacting a point from its best price. Mackay Companies improved 2⅝. Great Northern Ore Certificates 1⅜, Colorado & Southern first preferred 1¼, and the second preferred 1⅜.

The price movement was sluggish and frequent fluctuations showed its uncertainty. Gains of a point or more were made by Southern Pacific, New York Central, the American Can stocks, American Ice and Allis-Chalmers preferred. Atlantic Coast Line declined 1. Lackawanna sold at an advance of 5 points and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha declined as much. Bonds were strong.

Speculative sentiment was more cheerful, as there was a brisk demand for Union Pacific and other representative stocks. New York, Chicago & St. Louis rose 3 points, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific 2, New York Central 1⅝, Norfolk & Western 1½ and Texas & Pacific, American Sugar and Pittsburg Coal 1. American Hide and Leather preferred, St. Louis Southwestern and Colorado Southern yielded 1 point.

Further advances were made, although the buying was of a limited character. Union Pacific continued in the van, touching 189, a rise of 2⅜. The metal stocks showed more general strength following the rise of a point in United States Steel. New York, Chicago & St. Louis moved up 4 points.

The market closed irregular. The advance carried up Utah Copper 2½, Pullman 2, Colorado Fuel 1¾, United States Steel and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis 1½, Amalgamated Copper and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 1¼, the preferred 4½ and American Smelting and the Republic Steel stocks 1. Profit taking sales took a fraction off top prices, but the selling was not pushed far. Reading was an exception, giving way again to near the lowest.

CITY BREVITIES.

Justice L. P. Huser spent the day in Chicago, attending to some business affairs.

Guy Mahurin is in Columbus attending to some business matters for the architectural firm of Mahurin & Mahurin.

Justice Tancey yesterday officiated at the marriage of Herman Hoepper and Miss Belle M. Hughes, both of this city.

Dr. Allen Hamilton is home from Baltimore, Md., where he spent the last month studying in the Johns Hopkins institute.

Miss Frances Fryer, formerly of the Claypool hotel at Indianapolis, has been given the place of clerk at the Baltes hotel cigar stand lately resigned by Norman Stevens.

C. A. Wilding has sold his residence property at 910 West Wayne street to Arthur Hall, of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company. Mr. Wilding is building a new home on the corner of Wayne and Jackson streets.

Thomas J. Twining, a paralytic cripple, was run down by a big touring car at the corner of Clinton and Main streets Wednesday evening. Twining was not seriously injured and was taken to his home on North Clinton street, by persons passing by.

A Franklin automobile has been purchased by Al Riegel, the cigar man.

The building committee of the Anthony Wayne Memorial association will hold a public meeting in the court house assembly room this evening. Every one is invited to both hear and give suggestions.

HOW TO CURE SKIN DISEASES.

The germs and their poisons which cause the disease must be drawn to the surface of the skin and destroyed. Zemo, a scientific preparation for external use, will do this and will positively cure Eczema, Pimples, Dandruff and every form of skin or scalp disease. See photos of many remarkable cures and show case or window display at Meyer Bros. Co. Three Drug Stores. Ask for sample.

WANT ROLLING MILL SCHOOL.

Fathers in That District Present Petitions to Township Trustee.

Petitions signed by sixty-three fathers, heads of families in the rolling mills district, asking for the establishment of a school in that district, were presented Wednesday afternoon to Township Trustee Branning. The petitioners set forth that the children are now forced to go a long distance to an existing school and that there are enough of them to warrant the establishing of a school in their midst. On the petitions are a number of Macedonian, Bulgarian and Roumanian names as well as those of the American residents. As all the signers live outside the city limits, a district school would have to be established. Trustee Branning states that he does not know what can be done.

ECZEMA IS NOW CURABLE.

Zemo, a clean liquid for external use, stops itching instantly and permanently cures eczema and every form of itching skin or scalp disease. Meyer Bros. Co., the druggists, say they have been shown positive proof of many remarkable cures made by Zemo and that they endorse and recommend it and believe Zemo will do all that is claimed for it. Ask for sample.

INDIAN TRADING POST

Under the auspices of the local Red Men lodge a trading post will be held at Princess rink from May 3 to 8, inclusive. It will far surpass the posts previously held in this city. The entertainment will be full of interest to all and will consist of tableaux and dances representing the early life and customs of a race of people that can truly say they are Americans—the primitive Red men. There will also be fancy dancing by Miss Helen Fox, songs by Mr. Otto Lenz, Miss Georgia Killen and chorus of Indian maidens and braves.

The drill by Indian maidens, which was so highly complimented by the patrons of the previous trading posts, will also be one of the features, with many other meritorious attractions.

Mr. L. W. Jones, with the able assistance of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bireley, Mr. C. R. Hudson and Mr. C. H. Arnold, will have charge of the entertainment, and promises the public an excellent program.

NEW SISTER TO LUCKY BALDWIN

Woman at Warren, Ill., Claims She Can Prove Relationship.

Freeport, Ill., April 22.—Mrs. Ida Baldwin Foval, of Warren, has undertaken to prove relationship to the late E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, of California, and to establish a claim to his fortune. Mrs. Foval is a half-sister of "Lucky" Baldwin, she says, and a half-sister of Mrs. Mary Ellen Morin, of this city, whose announcement that she is a sister of "Lucky" caused surprise several weeks ago. Mrs. Foval has retained Attorney R. J. Carnahan, of Freeport, and Attorney George Glasgow, of Warren, to look after her interests, and they already have taken the matter up with Los Angeles attorneys. Mrs. Foval states that she will do anything possible in this matter. Mrs. Foval denies the charge that Baldwin left home because of an abusive stepmother (her own mother), but says it was because he failed in business in Warrren.

DIES ON HEARING SAD NEWS.

Patient in South Bend Hospital Follows Friend to Grave.

South Bend, Ind., April 22.—Grief because of the death of his life-long friend, John P. Butler, street commissioner of South Bend, is said to have caused the death of Thomas O'Rourke at St. Joseph's hospital on the day of Butler's funeral.

Up to the time he heard of Butler's death O'Rourke, who was ill with pneumonia, appeared to be rapidly recovering. When told of Butler's demise he fell back in his bed and stated that he, too, would die; that he had only one wish, and that was that he could be with his old friend. The wish was gratified. O'Rourke was buried yesterday.

THE GREAT SENSATION SPREADING

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY BECOMING THE TALK OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY.

Sensation upon sensation, follows in rapid succession at many points in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Many of our exchange papers contain accounts of wonderful cures the great remedy, Root Juice, is making. The reporter of one paper claimed that he knew fifty-six people of his town, who claimed that a few bottles of the remarkable medicine completely cured them of some of the most stubborn cases of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, rheumatism, kidney troubles and nervous weakness. It would take a whole newspaper to publish the testimony of even a small percentage of those who are praising the remedy to the skies.

The demonstrations that have created so much talk, throughout the country, will begin at Bradley Bros. Drug Store, 627 Calhoun St., (Wagner's old stand), next Saturday.

The Juice is sold for $1.00 a bottle, or three for $2.50. The scientist can prove every claim.

A Perfect Machine is the Simplest

The Indian, Thor and R. S. are simplest ever made.

They have no unnecessary parts to care for, and the necessary parts are so designed as to do their work accurately, perfectly, reliably. That's why the Indian, Thor and R. S. have more power for their size than anything built.

rambling harrangue. His remarks were directed principally against the United States "for playing into the hands of his enemies in Venezuela and sending warships to follow his movements."

He declared that Venezuela was lost if the people submitted like slaves to foreign meddling.

Referring to France, Castro said he was astonished that a country which had shed torrents of blood in the cause of liberty should join in the cabal against him. He then declared that the motion of the ship had reopened the wound of the operation performed at Berlin; that his condition was extremely serious and that he must have immediate medical attention.

Says He is a Prisoner of War.

When asked regarding his future plans the deposed president said he had made none, as he considered himself a prisoner of war. When informed that the French government gave him full liberty he replied:

"But I am not free if I desire to return to Fort De France and cannot. France should respect the rights of man proclaimed a century ago."

In spite of his assertion that he did not know what he was going to do, it later became clear that Castro had planned to go to Paris. His baggage was taken ashore and placed on a train and he left at once for the capital.

Passengers on the Versailles said that when Castro was brought on board the steamer at Fort de France, he declared that if he had been allowed to make his way to Venezuela he would soon have raised an army to overthrow his enemies.

MONTPELIER'S LONG DROUTH HAS BEEN BROKEN

By Virtue of High Court Ruling a Quenchery is Opened.

Hartford, City, Ind., April 23.—As a result of the supreme court decision on the city liquor license case in the suit in which County Treasurer Ensley and City Controller Breunig, of Indianapolis, were commanded to accept the $250 fee offered by Peter Brown and to issue to him a city license for Indianapolis, the city council of Montpelier this afternoon granted John Price, who was refused a license on Tuesday, a license to sell intoxicating liquors.

Price's case is identical with that of the Indianapolis case and when Attorney A. M. Waltz went to Montpelier this afternoon and threatened to mandate the city clerk and treasurer and institute a damage suit against each, hasty action was taken.

This gives Price the only saloon in Montpelier.

There is general rejoicing among the Montpelier "wets" this afternoon. Price opened his place at once.

GREAT ADVOCATE OF FREE SILVER IS NO MORE

Death Comes to Venerable Ex-Senator Stewart of Nevada.

Washington, April 23.—Former United States Senator William A. Stewart, of Nevada, died in the Georgetown hospital here today following an operation. The body will be taken to Nevada Sunday.

Mr. Stewart was 82 years old and had been a familiar figure in this city during the better part of the last half century. For twenty-eight years, altogether, he represented Nevada in the senate, a lapse between 1875 and 1887 intervening to prevent a continuous service record from 1865 to 1905.

Author of "Crime of '73."

"Stewart Castle," his former home on Dupont Circle, in this city, was long one of the landmarks of the national capital. Senator Stewart made many notable speeches on the floor of the senate in advocacy of silver and his characterization of the demonitization of silver as "The crime of '73" is a marker in political history. After his retirement from congress he divided his time between Washington, where he had many interests during his life of fluctuating fortune, his farm in nearby Virginia, and the west, where at his old home at Bull Frog, Nev., and elsewhere, he had varied mining interests and experiences.

Was Widely Known.

Almost all of the old residents of Washington and many new know Mr. Stewart either personally or by sight, for his tall figure, topped with a wide-brimmed soft hat, and his long white beard and his complexion as clear as a youth's, were conspicuous on the streets of the city.

Senator Stewart was a native of New York, who went west in the early days of the California gold discoveries and then wielded the pick and shovel as an everyday miner.

Except for the first campaign of Bryan in 1896 when the silver issue was most prominent, Mr. Stewart was a republican. He was, however, a man of independence and often voted contrary to the wishes of the party caucus. He took a prominent part in setting aside the force bill in 1892 and he never failed to cast his vote in the interest of the white metal whatever the attitude of his party on that subject.

AFTER EARLY SLUMP WHEAT AND CORN RECOVERED

Prices are Somewhat Steadier on the Board of Trade Today.

Chicago, April 23.—The recent big slump in wheat prices was checked at least temporarily today on profit taking by shorts and in the absence of particular pressure. May wheat closed 1⅛ and July ¼@⅜ over yesterday.

Corn declined heavily early, but regained most of the loss late in the session.

During the first few minutes of trading July wheat sold off to $1.08⅞, which was ¾c below the low point of the preceding session. Corn for May delivery broke more than four cents from the best mark of the previous day, declining early in the day to 67⅝c per bushel.

At this point there was a moment's hesitation and a fractional recovery. Then July broke further to 66¾c. May corn, which at the best point yesterday sold at 72c declined today to 67⅝c on early trades. May wheat tumbled to $1.20¾. The market was extremely nervous.

PATTEN IN ROLE OF CLLAM.

Trinidad, Col., April 23.—James A. Patten, Chicago's "wheat king," set forth to catch trout this morning and kept right on saying nothing.

When the telephone rang he started slightly and walked precipitately out of the room. The nearest he came to discussing the wheat situation was when he directed that a liberal supply in the shape of bread be packed in his lunch basket.

According to the men at the ranch the broker has not seen a newspaper or received a message from Chicago sonce Tuesday. Mr. Patten slept thirteen hours last night and set about enacting the role of a recluse with apparently as great determination as he would plan a coup in wheat.

BLASTING AT NIAGARA.

Youngstown, N. Y., April 23.—Blasting with dynamite to clear the channel of the lower stretch of Niagara from ice which for nearly a week has threatened destruction to industrial plants and other property for nearly twenty miles was resumed early today. The first charge of 200 pounds started several small icebergs moving off into the lake. The soft ice surrounding a number of large mounds of ice standing above the surface of the lake at the mouth of the river has been worn away by the rapid current.

During yesterday afternoon and evening the general ice level of the river dropped fully twelve feet; new channels were opened here and there and the floe as a whole was gradually disintegrating. Everything tends to sho wthat the tremendous mass of ice show that the tremendous mass of ice river.

ILLINOIS WOMAN IS PRESIDENT OF THE D. A. R.

Mrs. Scott Wins the Honor by a Very Small Margin of the Votes.

Washington, April 23.—For more than half an hour the opening of today's session of the Daughters of the American Revolution was postponed in order that the tellers' report of the election held yesterday might be received as the first order of business.

MRS. MATTHEW SCOTT.

The report showed that Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Illinois, the administration candidate, had been elected president general over her competitor, Mrs. William Cumming Story, of New York, by a vote of 436 to 428.

Rounds of applause greeted the announcement of the vote. Mrs. Story moved to make the election unanimous, but a chorus of delegates refused to join her. Mrs. Story bespoke for Mrs. Scott the support of all members. The total vote cast at the election was 872, but the total legal vote for president was 864.

In a short speech Mrs. Scott voiced her acknowledgment of the honor the convention had conferred on her. The Illinois delegates at the conclusion of her address gathered about her and sang "Illinois."

The congress approved the election of the various state regents. They included the following:

Illinois, Mrs. John C. Ames; Indiana, Mrs. John J. Dinwiddie; Michigan, Mrs. J. P. Brayton.

sionaries Rogers and Maurer are also confirmed, they having been killed in the massacres at Adana Thursday of last week.

Adispatch from Minister Jackson at Teheran, Persia, which was dated at 9 o'clock this morning, caused much alarm. It said that the consul at Tabriz telegraphed the situation there would be desperate if the negotiations following the representations of European powers, which were made yesterday, should fail. These representations touch the general situation in Persia. The results had not become publicly known. The consul felt that a massacre was imminent.

Inflammatory speeches against foreigners were made at the funeral of Baskerville yesterday and foreigners were not permitted to leave the city. The missionaries are much alarmed and the minister says he is powerless to do anything.

THE RIOT AT ADANA.

Tarsus, April 23.—The rioting that originated at Adana broke out here April 16th. Several Armenians were killed, the whole Armenian quarter was burned and the churches were sacked. Over four thousand refugees are still gathered in the yard of the American college. Their condition is pitiable. The missionaries at Tarsus are safe but they are still apprehensive for the refugees.

Massacres are raging today in the neighboring Armenian villages and instant relief is needed.

MOTHER AND SON CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of the Murder of a Rural Sport.

Mount Carmel, Ill., April 23.—"Lib" Lucas, keeper of a river front dive, and her son Jesse, today were found guilty by a jury of the murder of Clyde Showalter, a young farmer who had come to town with a large roll of bills to "have a good time" and whose body was found in the river. Mother and son were sentenced to life imprisonment. Witnesses, including women of the Lucas place, testified that Jesse Lucas struck Showalter down, that he and his mother robbed his body, weighted it and threw it into the river.

The municipal election ccurred in the course of the trial and the community was treated to the unusual spectacle of a deputy sheriff taking a prisoner accused of murder to the polls. The officer entered the booth with Lucas while he marked his ballot.

COLONEL PABST KILLS GIRL.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 23.—Colonel Gustav Pabst, while driving in an automobile today, ran down and killed Lillie Winkler, a fourteen-year-old girl living at 946 Beecher street. The girl alighted from a street car and walked in front of the rapidly moving automobile.

YEGGMEN FAIL TO OPEN BANK.

Peoria, Ill., April 23.—An attempt was made at 1:30 this morning to rob the Merchants' and Farmers' bank at Bath, Ill., nine miles south of Havana. The robbers had blasted their way into the large vault when they were frightened away, without securing any booty. Bloodhounds have been put on the track.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Christie, of 1835 North Clinton street—a daughter.

WAS ONCE STUDENT IN FORT WAYNE INSTITUTION

Miss Lambert, Missionary in Peril, is Known in This City.

Miss Rose Lambert, one of the five American women missionaries in peril from fanatical mobs in Asia Minor, whose appeal for help was told in Associated Press dispatches Thursday, was for a time a student in the Fort Wayne Bible Training school, on South Wayne avenue, and has many acquaintances in this city.

Miss Lambert's home is at Elkhart. She was a deaconess nurse who took up missionary work in the orient, and while in America a few years ago spent some time in the Fort Wayne institution in preparation for her work among the people of Asiatic Turkey. Mrs. H. T. Purfield, of 525 Home avenue, was one of the friends of Miss Lambert, and it was she who made the missionary's outfit of clothing before Miss Lambert's departure for the east. Miss Lambert is in charge of an orphanage at Hadjin, and she, with four other defenseless women, are the only Americans in the village, which dispatches say is infested by nomad tribes who threaten to pillage and burn. Miss Lambert succeeded in getting down the coast a message appealing for immediate help for herself and her companions.

Dispatches today confirm the reported killing of Rev. Henry Maurer, the American missionary, who was formerly pastor of the Mennonite church at Elkhart.

WILL MARCH ON TABRIZ.

Russia Will Enforce Demand for an Armistice.

St. Petersburg, April 23.—It was announced here today that the Shah of Persia, having failed to notify the royalist commander at Tabriz that an armistice had been granted, Russia has ordered the viceroy of the Caucasus to dispatch troops to that point by forced marches.

Sebastopol, April 23.—The active squadron of the Russian Black Sea fleet under the command of Admiral Bostrem, put to sea today. The destination of the vessels is not known.

SPRING FEVER STARTS.

Numerous Reports of Truancy in the Country Schools.

The sunshine, the warm weather and spring fever germs have already begun to tell on the country school pupils and County Truant Officer Work is receiving numerous reports of truancy cases. He visited the No. 5 district in Washington township today.

SENATOR TURPIE BURIED.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 23.—The funeral of former United States Senator David Turpie took place this afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Many prominent members of the bar and other public men of the state were present. Mr. Turpie's body was buried beside that of his wife in Crown Hill cemetery.

CITY BREVITIES.

R. B. Clark, president of the Indiana Merchants' association, whose home is in Anderson, spent a part of yesterday in this city while on his way from Gary to Columbia City. In the former city he had established a merchants' association with sixty-five members and also inaugurated one at Columbia City last night.

Weekly rehearsals are being held by the members of the "Ah Ling Che Man" circle of the Pathfinder lodge preparatory to giving an entertainment about the middle of May.

Sam Menzie, of Pierceton, and Mrs. James A. Grant, of Van Wert, returned to their homes today from the Hope hospital.

Mrs. C. J. Guinn, of Denver, Colo., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Magers, of Thompson avenue.

Imports into Argentina were $268,119,705 and exports $387,429,983, giving the republic a favorable balance of $119,000,000. In ten years imports have increased $150,000,000 and exports $200,000,000, says La Prensa. The total foreign trade of 1908 exceeded that of 1907 by nearly $200,000,000.

LOCAL WHEAT DROPS WITH ITS FUTURE UNCERTAIN

Now Quoted at $1.33—Oats Acreage Heavy and Corn Plowing Taken Up.

feeling the effect of the break in the wheat circles at Chicago yesterday, Fort Wayne millers lowered their quotations two cents today, to $1.33 per bushel. With the prospects that bearish tactics are again to be brought into use on the Chicago markets, there is no way of telling which way the next turn in the local cereal line will be.

Judging from the slight increase in the receipts of the grain locally during the high price, local millers are inclined to believe that this vicinity is pretty well scoured of it. The greater share of the supplies are known to be in the grain centers controlled by the big dealers and there were not many growers around Fort Wayne who profited by the high prices as they might have done.

Oats Acreage is Heavy.

The planting for the oats crops is now practically completed and farmers are turning their attention to the corn land, ploughing it and getting it in shape for a big crop. Reports show that the oats acreage this season is heavy, fully as great as that of last year and some believe even greater. Oats was one of the most profitable grains during the past season and the present price of between 54 and 57 cents per bushel is taken as a partial assurance of another high season.

Just what the corn acreage this year will be is problematical, as it will depend very largely upon the condition of the soil in regard to its dampness and quality. Heavy rains during the next four weeks will have the effect of ret ding the acreage and a number of farmers are already taking advantage of the fair weather.

Hay Shows Advance.

Buyers on the local hay market today were offering as high as $11.00 per ton for the best quality of hay. The receipts have been light for several days but it is hoped they will brace up shortly. Oats at the city scales is selling for 55c per bushel and corn for 75 and 78c.

THE DEATHS.

SCHEELE.

Henry Scheele, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheele, 1302 Barthold street, died at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening from exhaustion at the age of twenty-three days. The little babe was one of triplets.

CRAIG ATTACKS THE AUTHORITY OF MAYOR

Asks That City be Restrained—New of the Courts.

Nelson Craig, whose license to sell milk in the city was revoked yesterday after an all day fight before the mayor, secured a temporary restraining order in the superior court today to prevent the city authorities from putting him out of business. Judge S. M. Hench filed the action, but on the ground that "the document was too weighty to be understood by the ordinary mind," he kept it in his pocket and would not place it on file or allow it to be seen.

Judge Heaton read the complaint, however, and he stated the application is based on the presumption that the mayor went outside of his authority in revoking the license and that Craig now seeks to avoid being arrested when he offers milk for sale in the city limits. The revocation of his license was the outcome of a charge that he is supplying the citizens milk from cows that he will not allow to be subjected to the tuberculin test.

A restraining order was issued that included the mayor, city attorney, members of the health board and the sanitary officers and all are forbidden to interfere with him until Judge Heaton can hear the cause upon its merits.

Resolutions Adopted.

Resolutions adopted upon the death of Judge James E. Rose, of Auburn, were filed in both of the courts today and will be spread upon the records. The committee from the Allen County Bar association consisted of Judge Sol. A. Wood, Judge O. N. Heaton, Hon. Henry Colerick and Judge S. R. Alden.

Court Notes.

The suit of James Neuman against the Fort Wayne Electric works, was argued during the day and went to the jury this afternoon.

Judge Merryman was in the city today to take jurisdiction in a case in which he is special judge.

COURT MUST DECIDE.

Men Who Had Themselves Fined Raise Novel Fight.

Frankfort, Ind., April 23.—A simple but peculiar and novel case of prosecution for intoxication in which Ora and William Long are defendants, has been taken under advisement by Judge Combs, of the Clinton circuit court.

The original prosecution was brought by the Good Citizens' league of Hillisburg before Squire Cosner, in this city. The men learned of the affidavit and went before Squire Earlywine, filed their own complaint, pleaded guilty and were assessed a nominal fine.

Prosecutor Robison proceeded with the prosecution, but a venue was taken to Squire Crane, who heard the case, inflicted a fine and an appeal was taken to the circuit court, the defendants alleging they had been fined for the same offense.

Prosecutor Robison held that the proceedings in Squire Earlywine's court were fraudulent and for the purpose of escaping a heavy penalty. It is said to involve a question that has never been decided by the courts.

CITIZENS RAISE FUND.

Peru's Books to Be Opened to Expert Examination.

Peru, Ind., April 23.—That expert accountants will be employed to examine the books of all the city officials of Peru was determined at a meeting of prominent citizens. Those present were men from both political parties, and a committee was appointed to solicit funds with which to pay for the services of expert accountants. The committee went to work today and is meeting with much success. It is believed that the investigation will soon be commenced.

A local daily paper, with a democratic leaning, after defending the democratic city officials, asked why not examine the books of the county treasurer, Frank Spaulding, who is a republican. Spaulding said that he was ready to have his books examined at any time; in fact, would be glad if such a proceeding should take place, and the sooner the examination was made the better he would be satisfied.

EDITORS AT DINNER; GERMAN ENVOY SPEAKS

Praises Work Done by the Daily Press—Cannon is Scored.

New York, April 23.—Editors and publishers of this country to the number of 600 last night attended the joint banquet of The Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' association at the Waldorf-Astoria. Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador of the United States to Great Britain, were guests of honor and delivered speeches appreciative of the work of the press. Other speakers were Maj. John C. Hemphill of the Charleston News and Courier, Rev. Robert E. Burdette of Los Angeles and former Senator T. M. Patterson of Colorado.

After the dinner President Frank B. Noyes, of the Associated Press, presented Major Hamphill as the toastmaster of the evening. A toast was drank to the president of the United States, the audience rising and drinking the health of the executive, while the orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Hemphill Scores Cannon.

Major Hemphill, in his introductory remarks, spoke of the organizations whose members joined at the festive board, as "The greatest and most powerful newspaper associations in the world. They are American in name and purpose, and here we have the really beautiful spectacle of the publishers who make the money and the editors who spend it, mingling upon apparently friendly terms, while the common people pass by on the outside utterly oblivious of our real importance in the great American economy. Without us much of what is worst in our social life would not be exposed and most of what is best for the state would not be achieved."

In explaining the absence of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, Major Hemphill said that the speaker could not be present on account of pressure of business.

"It will do no harm, however," said the toastmaster, "to say behind his back what would have been said to his face; that he was never right in his life; that he made a bad start. He was born in North Carolina, the home of the Mecklenburg myth, which President Taft is to celebrate next month, I am sorry to say. But as if that were not a sufficient handicap, he emigrated before he had reached the years of discretion which, by the way, he has not attained."

Envoy Praises the Press.

Count von Bernstorff spoke in part as follows:

"We have long learned to look to the newspaper press as not only the quickest but on the whole the most accurate source of intelligence in all matters of public interest. It would be idle to deny that we diplomats sometimes find the press much too quick and that we at other times consider it necessary to correct the information which our respective governments and nations receive through the newspapers. In general, however, one can say that the press has relieved us of the duty of reporting facts. We now confine ourselves to giving appreciations of facts and expressing our views, which are of more or less value according to the confidence the two respective governments and nations place in our judgment.

"The power to give publicity to our views on matters of international interest throws a great responsibility upon us, diplomats as well as journalists, because in spite of all modern facilities of intercourse nations in our days have very little intimate knowledge of one another. This want of mutual knowledge may become the cause of misunderstandings, which are often only based on misconception. Most people chiefly form their opinion on international affairs after having consulted the telegrams of the foreign correspondents of their newspapers. This is why I so highly appreciate the good work done by the Associated Press, whose representatives abroad are impartial and well informed. When I in the morning read some rather erratic telegram concerning Germany I always search in the papers for a Berlin telegram of the Associated Press, as I feel sure that I will then know what to believe. This being so, I can only say that I should like to read more Berlin telegrams of the Associated Press. There can never be too much of a good thing."

NO BACKWARD STEP.

President Taft will take no backward step in matters concerning the conservation of the national resources. The beneficent policy adopted and so steadily pursued by his great predecessor in this phase of regard for the national welfare will be carried forward by Mr. Taft. That much is given authoritative announcement. Restoration to the public domain of lands taken into forest reserves, but which are purely agricultural in character, having started a rumor that the president was reversing or modifying the forest conservation policy of his predecessor, Gifford Pinchot, forester of the department of agriculture, has made the following statement on the subject:

"Any statement that President Taft is not in sympathy with forestry and the conservation movement is without foundation. On the contrary, I am authorized by the president to say that he is in entire sympathy with the forest policy and the conservation policy as already developed and stands behind them. This statement is wholly unnecessary to those acquainted with the real situation. It is made only in answer to a large number of questions asked me during my recent trip through the west and since my return.

"I am also authorized by the president to deny categorically the story that great areas are to be thrown out of the national forests by presidential proclamation. The only possible basis for such a rumor that I have been able to discover lies in certain plans adopted by the forest service months ago, providing for a careful examination and mappings of the boundaries of the national forests and of the character of the lands and the timber."

This is good news, not because there has been any fear that President Taft harbored a purpose to reverse the policy of Mr. Roosevelt, but because it furnishes positive assurance that such policy is to be continued and pressed. The nation has a great present stake in such a policy and future generations for whom we must also have a care have a stake infinitely greater.

"The Dawners" is the name of a new sect with headquarters at Terryville, Conn., who have fixed a date when this old earth and every living thing on it is to be destroyed by fire. They meet twice a week to expound the Scriptures and prepare for the day of vengeance, which is to come in 1914. In some miraculous manner those who come into the fold and avow their faith before the evil day arrives will be protected from the fire. A fertile locality similar to the Garden of Eden will be reserved from destruction, and there with the faithful in charge the millennium will be ushered in. There have been so many dates fixed for this great event that passed without result that millions of people will delay preparation until too late to escape the conflagration.

While it is true the tariff is dividing the democrats in congress the republicans in that body at the same time are also doing the "split." To the republican leaders—or leader, to be more precise—the prospect that democrats, who are practically united on that proposal, and insurgents of the majority may prove strong enough to fasten an income tax provision on the bill before it can be passed is extremely disturbing. There will be no such annex to this tariff bill if Mr. Aldrich can prevent it, but the strength of the proposal holds out fair promise that an income tax will not be long in coming.

Brookline, the wealthiest town in the state of Massachusetts, has a total valuation of $100,796,800, an increase of $4,808,900 over last year. The tax rate is only $11.50 per $1,000 and the town has all modern city improvements. With a population of 26,500 Brookline is of course big enough to be a city, but the people prefer the simpler form of village government. A board of trustees has entire charge of the police, firemen, schools and streets, makes contracts for public works and is responsible for good order and an economical government.

It being Mr. Patten's corner, he seems to have known when he had enough of it. The followers at the tail of the bull cart didn't know and are taking what consolation they may from the reflection that it might have been worse—for some of them. The army of the busted take a different view and express it in a different and more or less unprintable fashion.

Abdul Hamid and Cipriano Castro make a pair of lame ducks who ought to do well in a partnership at something. In another year or so the land of the free may be able to contribute its greatly beloved Uncle Joe to the firm. Other countries—Persia for instance—by that time may have talent to offer.

This being the first time Theodore Roosevelt has had his line of communication cut there is some uncertainty as to just how his bereft country is going to get along.

There is no occasion for King Patten to get sore at newspapers. Publicity was a good thing while the crowd was being led on.

MAY MAKE STATE DRY.

State Prohibition in Florida is Up to Voters.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 23.—The senate yesterday afternoon passed the Hilburn bill for submission of statewide prohibition to the voters by 24 to 7.

Senator McMullen made a plea for prohibition in behalf of the mothers of the country which was of dramatic effect; for while the senator's own mother lay dead in her home he had remained at Tallahassee, at her wish, he said, to fight for prohibition.

Senator Zim rose from a sick bed to speak against the state-wide bill.

When late in the afternoon the senate attempted to adjourn for luncheon the motion was defeated, and women in the galleries supplied luncheon to the prohibition senators. Voting was begun shortly afterward.

ELECTRIC TALKS

No. 89

Our Night Police Deficiencies

Fort Wayne has twenty-six night patrolmen on the register. There is no reserve. So absence of one or more members, from any cause, means a temporary reduction of the force.

One night this month six were reported ill, and for that night the patrol numbered just twenty police.

Had those twenty patrolmen attempted to cover the 207 miles of streets of the city we see where each would have had considerably more than a ten-mile beat.

Some time ago detailed measurements were made to determine the number of miles that his duties would require the patrolman in the Tenth ward to walk during the night and miss none of the doors which it is his duty to try after the tenants are supposed to have locked them for the night. It was found that he would be required to walk over twenty-two miles.

Now all this suggests a positive need of additional night patrolmen, regardless of the relative size of our night police force as compared with those of other cities.

But let us note what the ten other cities of our class, with which we are making comparisons, find necessary in the way of night police.

SOUTH BEND	with 154 miles of streets, has	45
EVANSVILLE	with 149 miles of streets, has	44
TERRE HAUTE	with 225 miles of streets, has	46
HARRISBURG	with 87 miles of streets, has	32
ERIE	with 110 miles of streets, has	39
PEORIA, Ill.	with 151 miles of streets, has	52
KANSAS CITY, KAN.	with 150 miles of streets, has	25
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.	with 153 miles of streets, has	56
PORTLAND, ME.	with 143 miles of streets, has	46
YONKERS	with 118 miles of streets, has	48
The ten cities total, in streets, 1,440 miles and in night police		433

This means that in these ten cities of Fort Wayne's class each policeman is, on the average, apportioned to about every three and a third miles of streets.

In Fort Wayne, by adding to our night patrol one of the detectives and one of the sergeants to make up our night police force, we have a force of twenty-eight night police in a city of 207 miles of streets, which means somewhat more than seven and a third miles to each member of the night force.

If, therefore, Fort Wayne were to be as well policed at night in proportion to its length of streets as are the ten cities named there would be required sixty-four instead of twenty-eight police, or an addition of thirty-six more night police.

As a matter of practical fact, Fort Wayne would require today more than thirty-six additional policemen, inasmuch as the ten other cities, most of whom figures in the statistics given by us in street-lighting, were found to be far better lighted than Fort Wayne. And light is protection.

But assuming the Fort Wayne streets equally well lighted, thirty-six more night police with proportionate station force would probably be adequate. Assuming also that these are all patrolmen at salaries of $780 per year each, we should have an annual additional City expenditure on this account of $28,080.

This additional expenditure added to that required for additional day police as noted in our previous talk, would increase the annual expenditures in the police department by fully $50,000.

But the COMMUNITY would have its MONEY'S WORTH, and it would be for the safety, comfort and convenience OF ALL. Read our next talk.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

OVER FIVE HUNDRED AT FIRST M. E. RECEPTION

Royal Welcome Tendered Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Cecil by the Congregation.

With an attendance of over five hundred people the reception at the First Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening was an eminent success. Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Cecil were given a most royal welcome by the congregation and friends, the function being one of the largest and most enjoyable of its kind ever held in the city. The previously arranged program was carried out in every detail and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent by all attending. The church auditorium and platform were artistically decorated with flags, bunting, palms and flowers and Schlatter's orchestra, under the direction of O. E. Richard, discoursed sweet melodies during the reception hours. The appointed officers were all in the receiving line and hundreds made the acquaintance of the new pastor and wife.

With the opening of the evening's program those seated on the platform were District Superintendent and Mrs. C. U. Wade, Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Cecil, W. J. Robinson, George W. Brackenridge, Mrs. T. R. Spaulding and J. W. Wisehart, chairman of program. Dr. Wade opened the evening's addresses with a talk on the growth of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city and also throughout the state. His effort was replete with interest and lent generous encouragement to his auditors. George Brackenridge reviewed the history of the First Methodist Episcopal church in this city from its inception, when the charter congregation, of which he is a member, numbered but eight and the presiding elder came from Ohio, there being no Fort Wayne conference. To the older members of the congregation his talk brought back memories of bygone days, and to the younger generation the recital of the local growth of their church was equally interesting.

REV. J. K. CECIL,
New Pastor of First M. E. Church,—Congregation Gave Him and Mrs. Cecil Hearty Reception.

In behalf of the Sunday school, the Epworth league, the Brotherhood and the official board of the church, W. J. Robinson welcomed the new pastor, assuring him of the support of all the societies in the work of building up the church in the cause of Christ. Mrs. T. R. Spaulding gave an address in behalf of the ladies. It was a most pleasing effort, full of geniality and good humor. In responding to the addresses Rev. Cecil assured the people that he felt entirely at home from the welcome which he had received, expressed his appreciation of the interest manifested in himself and family and pledged his time and service to the loyal congregation.

A feature of the evening was the serving of refreshments by the members of the Brotherhood, thus relieving the ladies of the work that is always connected with such affairs. They served as members of various committees, however, and assisted in making the evening one to be recalled with genuine pleasure.

LOCAL TALENT SCORES.

Large Audience Witnesses First Performance of Minstrels.

Before a large and appreciative audience the first performance of the Upside Down Minstrels was given at Library hall on Thursday evening. In conformity to the title of the production the olio came first and all efforts were of an inverted order for the rest of the evening. The ten hoboes with troubles of their own opened the program and during their sketch sang a number of the latest popular songs with generous applause. The only and original "Doc" Obenchain introduced several novelty musical numbers and kept the house in a continual uproar as he proceeded to play on everything in sight from a battered horn to the side of a barrel with strings on it like a bass viol. The Sommers trio, introducing Johnny Sommers in twenty minutes of original nonsense, was another mirth-provoker of the evening. It was a clever bit of ventriloquism and the dummy was prepared both to sing and talk.

The second part of the performance disclosed the chorus grouped in three rows. In the first row were the soloists in evening dress, Interlocutor Harry G. Hogan in the center. Twenty schoolboys from the Brothers' school occupied places in the second row while the third row was composed of members of the Hibernian Rifles in full uniform. The end men, "Doc" Obenchain, John Schulthels and Harold F. Hoy with bones, Harry Bailey, Michael Shea and Charles Winbaugh with tambos, had a fund of jokes that were quite original and for the most part had a local application that added to the humor of the situation. As an interlocutor Harry Hogan proved himself capable of handling the position with ability and introduced the vocalists with many witty sallies. Among those who sang were James Ross, Thomas Shovlin, George Geake, Robert J. Travis, Albert J. Gessler, Muriel Welchselfelder, "Doc" Obenchain, Harry Bailey, Michael Shea. "Kiss Your Minstrel Boy Goodnight," as sung by Harold F. Hoy with success, was the grand finale of the evening's performance.

The proceeds of the minstrel, which will be repeated this evening, will be used for defraying the expenses attached to the equipping of the athletic department of Library hall. One of the movements on the part of the young men is to have a swimming pool in the lower part of the edifice. Another large house will doubtless greet the performers in the second presentation of the entertainment tonight.

FIVE WILL GRADUATE.

Tenth Annual Commencement at St. Peter's Next Tuesday.

Next Tuesday evening the tenth annual commencement at St. Peter's Catholic school hall will be held and a class of five will graduate. Rev. Charles Thiele, rector of St. Peter's, will confer diplomas on Miss Marie Aurentz and the Messrs. Frank Koch, Jerome Klingenberger, Edmund Suelzer and Joseph Neumann. The salutatory "Virtus et Scientia" will be given by the last two graduates and the valedictory, "Respice Finem," by the first three mentioned. Vocal and instrumental selections and a drama in one act entitled, "Love Your Enemies," will combine in forming a very enjoyable and carefully prepared program.

HONORS FOR TWENTY-ONE.

Commencement at St. Mary's Attracts Several Hundred.

On a stage beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers and in the presence of an audience of several hundred people, the twelfth annual commencement of St. Mary's Catholic high school was held on Thursday evening. The graduates numbered twenty-one, twelve young men and nine young women, on whom Rt. Rev. Mgr. Oechtering, V. G., conferred diplomas. A feature of the evening was the address given at the conclusion of the program by Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding, who with his secretary, Rev. William C. Miller, attended the exercises. The prelate spoke in most commendatory measure of St. Mary's parish in growth, success and splendid work that is being accomplished there and paid a glowing tribute to Rt. Rev. Mgr. Oechtering, whose untiring efforts have resulted in the upbuilding of one of the finest parishes in the diocese of Fort Wayne. An address was also given by Mgr. Oechtering, who applied his remarks particularly to the young men and women who are just about to enter upon the duties of life. His words of encouragement, his kindly advice and helpful counsels found responsive hearts even in the audience and his address as well as that of Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding was most heartily applauded.

The salutatory, "At the Portals," was given by the Misses Agatha Wiegand and Clara Ankenbruck; the valedictory, "For Value Received We Promise to Pay," Walter Burlage and Raymond Berghoff. The program throughout was well given and reflected great credit not only on the participants but also on the school sisters of Notre Dame who are engaged in teaching at St. Mary's.

BISHOP TO OFFICIATE.

Impressive Ceremonies to Attend Church Dedication at Gary.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding will leave tomorrow for Gary, Ind., where on Sunday afternoon he will officiate at the dedication of Holy Angel's church and school. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Jansen has many friends in this city. In his boyhood days he attended St. Peter's parochial school here, later going to St. Lawrence's college, at Mount Calvary, Wis., where he studied classics. Having completed his classical course he entered Mount St. Mary's seminary, at Cincinnati, where he studied philosophy and theology. He was ordained to the priesthood by his eminence Sebastian Cardinal Martinelli, apostolic delegate to the United States, in the Josephinum at Columbus, O., on July 3, 1900. Father Jansen since his ordination has held three or four charges in the diocese and has been very successful in his labors.

The new building about to be dedicated at Gary is of brick construction and is euipped with school rooms on the first floor and the church proper on the second. It is expected that a number of the neighboring pastors in the vicinity of Gary will attend the dedicatory ceremonies.

REV. R. C. JONES' RECEPTION.

Honors Tendered New Pastor at Simpson M. E. Church.

The reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Jones at Simpson Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening was the occasion of a happy gathering of members and friends, about one hundred and twenty-five being in attendance. The address of welcome in behalf of the congregation was given by Loren Springer, one of the members of the trustee board. Rev. R. C. Jones happily responded expressing his sincere appreciation of the reception and interspersing his talk with humorous anecdotes. A standing vote was taken by the congregation pledging their support to their new pastor for the conference year and assuring him of their co-operation in his labors. A short but entertaining program was given, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward White and Mrs. Minnie Graves Brown are going to Chicago tomorrow to remain over Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Vichert and children returned yesterday from Orlando, Fla., where they had been for several weeks.

Mrs. L. A. Centlivre and children have returned from a three weeks' visit in Chicago with Mrs. Centlivre's mother, Mrs. Cleary. Mr. Centlivre spent Easter with his family.

The Misses Maude and Jeanette Muhler entertained the members of the Saturday Afternoon Bridge club and their invited guests last evening at their home in West Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Riddle, of 707 West Berry street, have rented their home furnished for the summer and have taken a cottage at Clear lake from May until the first of October.

Senator Frank Shields, of Lansing, Mich., is the guest of his brother, James L. Shields, and is here to attend the wedding of Miss Fitzpatrick and Mr. Shields tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Bricker, assisted by Miss Florence Bricker, pleasantly entertained friends at the family home, 1911 Oliver street, on Tuesday evening. There were present Mrs. Alice Nipper, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Densel, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ohlinger, Mrs. C. H. Pillers, Miss Goldie Densel, Miss Vera and Miss Maud Nipper, Miss Teresa Pillers, Miss Evelyn Pillers and Tom Pillers.

Mrs. Mary Rohrer, of Wells street, celebrated the eighty-first anniversary of her birth yesterday by entertaining friends. In the afternoon the members of Rebakah lodge, No. 44, spent the hours with Mrs. Rohrer playing cards and enjoying in addition to the game a fine supper. In the evening Mrs. Rohrer's family called to assist in celebrating the day. The supper table was decorated with carnations and a birthday cake.

Miss Zella Fredrick entertained at cards last evening in an informal way which gave much pleasure to the guests, who were Misses Margaret Barva, Sadie Richmond, Winifred Kimes, Ida Meyer, Allie and Dessie Mitchell, and Messrs. Nat Bendure, Angus McCoy, Herman Kaade, John Koester, Earl Forsythe and Mike Thomson. Prizes were won by Misses Barva and Richmond and Messrs. Bendure and McCoy.

Mrs. John Wort entertained the members of a card club yesterday at her home in West Superior street. The decorations were pink and white and those colors were shown in the menu for a fine supper. The place cards were dainty souvenirs of watercolor drawings. The guests of Mrs. Wort were Mrs. Will Henschen, Mrs. Charles Spanley, Mrs. Bernard Stemen, Mrs. Albert Pape, Mrs. Clement Lamont, Mrs. Clayton Gouty, Mrs. David Eckart, Mrs. George Fuestel, Mrs. Frederick Ranke, Mrs. Joe West, Miss Schilling and Miss Katherine Linker.

Kruse—Weihe.

Miss Bertha Wiehe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wiehe, and Mr. Ernest Kruse were married on Sunday afternoon, April 18, by Rev. H. B. Wurthmann at Bethlehem Lutheran church. The bride had Miss Bertha Kruse and Miss Tillie Kammeyer as bridesmaids and Mr. Theodore Wiehe stood up with the bridegroom. Miss Amelia Dreyer was honor maid. The ushers were Messrs. August and Will Kruse. The bride looked very pretty in her dress of blue silk with a veil of tulle held in place with a wreath of rosebuds and smilax and a bouquet of bride roses and fern. Miss Dreyer wore a white dotted Swiss gown and held an arm bouquet of pink carnations tied with gauze ribbon. The bridesmaids were in white and held bouquets of carnations. The wedding reception and supper was held at the home of the bride's parents and was attended by about fifty relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Kruse have gone to housekeeping on a farm in Lake township which Mr. Kruse owns.

Dainty Set for Infant

480—ONE SIZE

Simplicity is the chief charm in infants' clothes, and this quality is accentuated in the patterns for the set illustrated, that is cut out one size and will fit a child from one week to one year of age. To copy the garments, three and one-eighth yards of material, twenty-seven inches wide, will be needed for the dress; one and seven-eighths yards, thirty-six inches in width, will be required for the petticoat, and two and one-quarter yards, twenty-seven inches wide, for the kimono. For the bands one and one-eighth yards of material, eleven or more inches wide, will be necessary.

The material employed for these clothes should be of the finest quality one can afford, and should be made by hand, if possible. Sewed in this way the seams are softer than when finished by machine, and every possible care should be taken that there are no rough edges or stiff ends left exposed to irritate the tender skin.

For the dress, cambric, fine lawn, India linen, batiste or dimity will make prettily. The daintiest trimming for such materials will be a narrow frill of the goods finished with a buttonhole scalloped edge. This can be placed around the neck and at the lower part of the sleeves. A spray of tiny flowers and leaves worked in fine embroidery cotton should be made to simulate a yoke.

The yoke and armholes of the petticoat can also be finished with a small scallop buttonholed. At the top of the hem and where the waist joins the skirt there may be a row of feather stitching. The little kimono should be of fine flannel or cashmere; white is always pretty, and if trimmed with bands of soft silk in a pale blue shade, the yoke worked with tiny sprays of forget-me-nots, the effect will be charming. When pink is preferred, instead of blue, rosebuds make a pretty substitute for the forget-me-nots.

IN THE THEATERS

The presentation by the Harlequin club of its new play, "The Junior in Command," at the Majestic tonight comes heralded by the accounts of two enthusiastically received performances in Lafayette this week. The show is said to be not only the best of any Purdue performance but its scenery is said to equal in quality that of any show on the road. The strength of the show, according to a Lafayette critic, lies in the work of the cast. Even the feminine roles are said to be carried so well as to make great hits with the audience. The characters are well interpreted and the musical features are taking and the book splendid. George Herbert, of Chicago, who will be remembered in this city for work in staging a number of comic operas done by local people a few summers ago, has charge of the stage directing.

The Stock company of the Majestic is going to produce "The Devil" next week and will open in the play on Monday afternoon instead of Tuesday, as previously announced. Mr. Rice has secured the rights of the Savage production and Mr. Nicholson is working night and day in the title role. Mr. Preston has charge of the production. Photographs of Mr. Nicholson in his role will be souvenirs on Monday afternoon.

"The Great Divide," which will be seen for two performances at the Majestic tomorrow, is a great play which many people who have seen once before are planning to see again on its second presentation in this city. A strong play is always worth seeing and the company coming here, together with the production which is still under the management of Henry Miller, is promised to be wholly first class in every particular. The company will go direct from Fort Wayne to New York and will open there next week.

John Drew, direct from a four months' engagement in "Jack Straw" at the Empire theater, New York, comes to the Majestic Monday, April 26. There have been so many stories printed in the newspapers about the phenomenal success of the new British dramatist, W. Somerset Maugham, that everybody is eager to see "Jack Straw," which is the first example of his extremely interesting writings. In the title role, a Pomeranian prince in disguise, Mr. Drew has a part that suits him exactly. The supporting company includes Miss Rose Coghlan, Miss Mary Boland, Miss Adelaide Prince, Miss Grace Henderson, Edgar L. Davenport, Frank Goldsmith, Mario Majeroni, E. Soldene Powell and Edwin Nicander and there are well drawn characters for each of them. The seat sale has been large.

The Orpheum.

The Orpheum is the name of a new five-cent theater company from Detroit which will open at 1420 Calhoun street with the higher class motion pictures and illustrated songs, besides some other features during the season new to theatergoers of this city. The theater opens tomorrow and Mr. Crane, general manager of the concern is busy rushing the work. New effects, which have just been released from the film service companies, will be shown.

MORNING MUSICAL RECITAL.

Two Chicago Musicians Give Program Before Large Audience.

A large audience heard the closing artist recital for this season given under the auspices of the Morning Musical society in Elks' hall yesterday afternoon. The program was given by Hugo Kortschak, violinist, and Arvid Wallin, pianist, both of Chicago. The program was not heavy and was well calculated to please. That it did so was manifest with the warmth of the applause that greeted each performer and several extra numbers were played. Mr. Kortschak is an artist and his tone, technic and interpretation displayed his merit of that signification. His playing is brilliant technically and there was such evident vitality in tone and joy in playing that Mr. Kortschak imparted some of his own enthusiasm to the audience so that applause was equally spontaneous and hearty. Mr. Wallin gave great pleasure both as accompanist and soloist. He displayed both musicianship and musical taste and feeling. His tone was beautiful and rendition of the Chopin polonaise in A flat major particularly gratifying.

NEWS OF ELOPEMENT HAS JUST COME TO LIGHT

Former Students in Fort Wayne Flee to Michigan and Wed.

The elopement and marriage of Miss Inez McDowell and Ernst Warren Williamson, until recently students at the International Business college in Fort Wayne, has just come to the ears of relatives of the young couple, though inquiry in Fort Wayne elicits the information that the romance has been known to student associates in this city for some time.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Leona McDowell, residing near Briant, Jay county, and the groom's home is near Cleveland. Since the separation of her parents Miss McDowell had been living with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wheat, in Jay county. The young people met and loved while attending business college in Fort Wayne, Miss McDowell entering in June last. Two weeks ago the girl was compelled to remain at home from sickness due to muscular rheumatism, and the elopement was planned. Williamson went to Portland, hired a livery rig, and drove to the Wheat home late at night, and joined by the girl and the two returning to Portland fled to Michigan over the G. R. & I. The grandmother of the girl heard her pass her room to go downstairs the night of the elopement but supposed she was only going to the kitchen to fill a hot water bottle. The elopement was not guessed at until searching the girl's room letters were found from Williamson, told of plans for the elopement. This week the first definite information came to hand, when a card to Mrs. McDowell told her that she and Williamson were at his parents' home near Cleveland. The principal objection of the mother to the marriage was the youth of the couple. The girl is seventeen.

NINETEEN WERE DROWNED.

Norwegian Steamer Sunk in Collision With British Boat.

Christiana, April 23.—Nineteen persons were drowned off Christiana last night by the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Edith, after a collision with the British steamer Oxford. Those who went down with the Edith are the captain and his wife, one passenger, and sixteen members of her crew.

The Edith, a vessel of 867 tons, was last reported at Christiana. The Oxford is of 802 tons and is owned in Hull.

TENTATIVE DATE MAY 6TH.

Bar Association Planning to Play Host to Blackford Club.

May 6th is the tentative date for the banuet at the Anthony ghotel at which the Allen County Bar association will be the host to the members of the Blackford club in return for past favors. Several of those asked to speak at the affair by Messrs. Breen and Shambaugh, comprising the committee, will be unable to attend on that date, however, and it may be changed.

IDEA PROVES POPULAR.

Columbia Street Business Men Like Lighting Proposition.

West Columbia street merchants are taking heartily hold of the proposition to install additional electric lighting along that thoroughfare, and the committee in charge of the work—Messrs. W. H. Dreier, William Hahn and H. A. Wiehke—is meeting with much encouragement.

At the same time business men on the eastern portion of the street are showing activity along the same line, and in all probability a number of arches will be erected there. Columbia street property-owners will hold a meeting tonight at the offices of the DeWald company to discuss plans.

THE GREAT ROOT JUICE WILL BE HERE IN THE MORNING

The Wonderful Health-Creating Discovery Will Be at Bradley Bros.' Drug Store, the Old Wagner Stand.

So much has been published and said about the scientist and his great discovery and so many stories have been told of the wonders accomplished in a very few days with his great health-giving Root Juice that many are getting anxious and would like to see the wonderful remedy that has made many remarkable cures during the past few months. The newspapers of a number of cities have told of hundreds of cures the Root Juice has made, and some of the stories afloat are almost too good to be true. It is said that many people who had given up hope of ever seeing another well day—even some whom the best doctors of the country had pronounced incurable—after taking the juice a short while were restored to perfect health. The remedy seems to remove all soreness from the stomach, bowels and bladder, and soon so heals the kidneys and liver that the blood making and blood filtering organs work in healthy unison. Then all forms of indigestion, belching, heartburn, sick headache and constipation is cured as the cause has been removed. It seems that it cures rheumatism by preventing fermentation in the stomach and bowels and by giving the kidneys the health and the strength to filter all accumulated acid from the blood. The reporter was told that the demonstrations would begin in the morning at Bradley Bros.' drug store, successors to the Wagner drug store.

Root Juice is $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50. It is not a new thing to many people of our city, as many have used it and are praising it very highly.

ALBERTS SIGNS HIS CONTRACT FOR SEASON

Short Session With Manager Brings About An Agreement.

Charlie Alberts signed his name to a contract with the Fort Wayne club this morning, bought himself a brand new pair of baseball shoes, went down to the park and worked all day with the other players and he says he is satisfied and will give the club his best services.

All these things resulted from a short conference between the pitcher and Manager Jack Hendricks this morning. There were a few explanations and the differences were all explained away in a short time and the whole matter closed up. Alberts is young and it will not take him long to get into condition and within a few days after the opening of the season he will be ready to take his turn with the other pitchers.

He has made up his mind that he will be content to work hard this year in the hope of being sold or drafted in the fall and there is little doubt of his advancement as he is not only a good pitcher, but a hard hitting pitcher, which all the owners are looking for. No notice of suspension was served on him and as a matter of fact when he had been closeted fifteen minutes with the manager he agreed that he had listened to some bad advice and that was the real trouble.

This makes the proposition of picking a pitching staff all the more difficult as it will take an awfully good man to beat Alberts out of a berth and all of the men can not be retained. Much depends on the condition of Robertson and Muldowney. Neither of the men has worked yet and they will not be until the weather is warmer as it is not believed wise for them to take chances.

Everybody was at the park early this morning and every player was full of pepper and in a game between teams captained by Hendricks and Johnny Lindsay some excellent practice was obtained. There was not eonugh players and Trainer Sam Murbarger played in right field with a glove on each hand.

Guy Dickey is missing from camp. He went from Van Wert the other day over to Springfield, O., and there are some whisperings. Manager Jack Hendricks said he didn't think it is so, but there were others who thought otherwise, and —well, anyhow cupid works some queer pranks and there is no telling.

WILL RACE AT LEXINGTON.

Season of 1909 for Kentucky and South Opens Tomorrow.

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—Tomorrow the racing season in Kentucky and the south for 1909 will be inaugurated here and one of the best racing meetings ever held at the running course here is expected. More than five hundred horses are stabled at the track and every stall has been reserved by breeders from all over the country. Horses were shipped from Los Angeles and Oakland last Saturday so as to be here to run in the coming meeting. The meeting will continue for seven days. Former famous stakes have been cut out, as betting at Lexington and Louisville is conducted by the Pari-Mutual system. As the machines are being tried for a second time, the meeting is something of an experiment financially. The meeting will be followed by one of eighteen days at Churchill Downs, Louisville, after which the Latonia Jockey club will cut in for a month, according to plans recently announced by the officials of that organization. The fate of Latonia, however, still hangs in the balance, but the court of appeals clerk has fixed May 4th as the date on which arguments in the case of the Latonia against the State Racing Commission will be heard at Frankfort.

ADRIAN C. (CAP) ANSON

OPENED ON SPITTER IN THE FIRST ROUND

Locals Pounded Estes and Copped Game in the First Inning.

Estes, a rotund and fair young spitter with Moyer's celebrated one-ring baseball circus from Van Wert, attempted to deceive the members of the Fort Wayne team yesterday afternoon with his saliva slinging and succeeded so well that the first round of the engagement netted the locals three doubles, a pair of singles and five runs. Channell hit in the sixth and "Philly Kid" McDermott sent him over with a bingle. Score, 6 to 0.

There were a dozen live ones present and probably as many on the free list when the matinee opened. Iowerth "Curly" Blount banged one out to left for as many sacks, Hendricks got one by grace of the first baseman's fumble, Channell hit to left and McDermott got two bases on his rap. Robertson hit for a single, tabbing all told, five runs. Then the locals eased up and played for the exercise. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Mart Cleary, manager of the Shamrocks, was down to look over Van Wert. He has the team booked for the opening game of the independent season here and wanted a peek at the players.

Varnell was satisfied with the performance of his new outfielder whom he had never seen play before. Out of twice up Channell, the new man in question, got two hits and a couple of runs.

Van Wert settled down after the first inning and played pretty fair ball the remainder of the battle.

Corns got into trouble in the fourth when he passed two men and Fremer made a bad throw of Taylor's grounder. The sacks were full but the independents failed to score.

A hit off Corns and one off Hammond represented the net batting output of the visitors.

Burke will have to improve in his throwing or he will have a lot of stolen bases registered against him provided he sticks with Van Wert.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

CLEVELAND LOSES A LONG GAME TO BROWNS

Opening Went Wrong for the Naps—Sox Whip the Tigers.

Cleveland, O., April 23.—Two passes, Lajoie's error and Ferris' sacrifice fly in the fourteenth inning gave St. Louis the postponed opening game of the season on the local grounds by the score of 6 to 4. A small crowd witnessed the contest, owing to the cold weather.

The battle was replete with slugging from start to finish. Addie Joss, usually effective against the Browns, failed to deliver and quit the slab in the fourth after the visitors had secured seven clean hits. The Naps pounded Graham for seven hits in five innings and Powell was ordered out to stop the fusillade. The score:

Cleveland	4	16	2
St. Louis	6	12	2

Batteries—Joss and Rhoades and Clarke; Graham and Powell and Criger.

Hits apportioned—Off Joss, 7 in 4 innings; off Rhoades, 5 in 10 innings; off Graham, 7 in 5 innings; off Powell, 9 in 9 innings. Two-base hits—Clarke, Birmingham, Ferris, Lajoie. Three-base hit—Stone. Sacrifice hits—Rhoades, Lajoie, Jones, Hoffman, Ferris. Stolen base—Wallace. Double play—Perring to Lajoie to Stovall. Bases on balls—Off Rhoades, 8; off Graham, 2. Hit by pitched ball—By Graham, Lord. Struck out—By Rhoades, 5; by Graham, 1; by Powell, 6. Wild pitch—Rhoades. Time of game—3:00. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Kerin.

CHICAGO, 3; DETROIT, 1.

Chicago, Ill., April 23.—Economizing their hits until they saw the white of the Tigers' eyes, the White Sox blasted the top off the American league opening at the South Side park and whipped Detroit. No exertion was wasted by Sullivan's kids. They contented themselves with teasing the Tigers along until they tingled with rage, and then pulled their teeth, the harmony being 3 to 1. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	1	6	0
Chicago	3	7	2

Batteries—Willetts and Schmidt; Smith and Sullivan.

Stolen bases—Isbell (2). Hahn. Schaefer. Sacrifice hits—Schaefer, Cobb, Hahn, Cravath. Double play—Smith to Atz to Isbell. Struck out—By Smith, 7; by Willett, 4. Bases on balls—Off Smith, 3; off Willett, 4. Hit by pitcher—By Willett, 2. Time of game—1:45. Umpire—Perrine.

NEW YORK, 8; WASHINGTON, 1.

New York, April 23.—The New York Americans, making their first home appearance of the season, defeated Washington by a score of 8 to 1. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	1	7	0
New York	8	9	1

Batteries—Smith and Street; Quinn and Kleinow.

Two-base hits—Kleinow, Delehanty, Engle. Home run—Engle. Sacrifice hit—Ganley. Stolen base—Clymer. Double plays—McBride to Freeman; Quinn to McConnell to Elberfeld; Knight to Laporte to McConnell. Struck out—By Quinn, 2; by Smith, 2. Base on balls—Off Quinn, 1; off Smith, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Smith, 1; by Quinn, 1. Umpires—Hurst and Evans. Time of game—1:40.

PHILADELPHIA, 1; BOSTON, 0.

Boston, Mass., April 23.—McConnell's error in the eighth inning, followed by a sacrifice and two timely hits, allowed Philadelphia to score the only run of a pitchers' battle between Coombs and Morgan. The score:

	R.	H.	E.

Batteries—Coombs and Thomas; Morgan and Carrigan.

Three-base hit—Speaker. Sacrifice hits—Morgan, Murphy, Coombs. Stolen bases—Baker, Murphy, Speaker, Davis. Double play—Carrigan to Lord. First base on balls—Off Morgan, 3; off Coombs, 6. Hit by pitcher—By Coombs, 1. Struck out—By Morgan, 7; by Coombs, 3. Time of game—2:06. Umpires—Connolly and Egan.

GRAND OLD MAN OF BASE BALL IS COMING

Cap Anson to Play for the First Time Since Year of 1871.

Captain Adrian C. Anson, nearly sixty years of age and still the grand old man of baseball, will be at league park tomorrow with his team of Colts for an exhibition game against the Fort Wayne league team and the leader himself will play at least part of the game at first base.

When Anson dons the spangles here it will be his first appearance on a local lot since about 1871 when he was a member of the old Chicago team that was playing a championship series with Providence and since that time Fort Wayne has always been prominent in baseball affairs as the battle was a real championship affair with the best players of the country engaged in the scrap.

During his days as a player and manager Anson was too liberal and after serving a term as city clerk at Chicago he came out broke as he generally did in his ventures for the reason that his money was everybody's money and everybody took it without as much as a thought of paying it back. Early in the year he started out with a team of semi-professionals on a barnstorming tour that has taken him all over the east. He asked for booking here, but could not accept the open dates and finally Manager Mart Cleary gave way and let him have tomorrow which was given a long time ago to the Shamrocks.

Aside from the fact that the captain himself will be seen there ought to be interest from a baseball standpoint as he has given all the clubs he has played with a big tussle and is relying as much on the strength of his team as upon his own personality. The following is the line of talk that has been handed out on his trip:

"I'm just a kid at fifty-eight," Anson tells his friends. And really, despite his advanced age, taking an athletic basis for judgment, Anson doesn't seem anything but a big, hearty, well-fed boy. He has been active all his life, and since he quit the baseball diamond some thirteen years ago he has taken a regular daily allowance of exercise that has kept him in fairly good condition. Of course he is pounds and pounds heavier than when he used to smash out those well-remembered long drives against the best pitchers in the National league, but he claims that he can rap 'em out pretty well still with his big stick.

When he obtained a franchise in the Chicago league, it was not his intention to don the spangles, but the inevitable happened. The "old man" couldn't content himself with the role of spectator. The air of the diamond excited him just as the old retired circus horse is sent into spasms by the playing of the old music. He had to be in the thick of the fight. So here he is, right in the thick of it.

The leader of the old Chicago Colts was a star in his day, and from 1876 up to the time he quit, thirteen years ago, had a remarkable batting record. One year he would slump, only to come back the following season with a tremendous mark. In fifteen years he had an average batting mark of .357, really one of the greatest records that ever will be hung up.

Anson may not strike much terror to the heart of the present day pitcher, but he will get many a hit, just the same.

We are doing the $5.00 hat business of the city. The Stetson Exclusive is the best $5.00 stiff hat made. It is very light weight.

BROOKLYN OPENS TO AN ENORMOUS CROWD

25,000 People Saw New York Take Victory—The Scores.

Brooklyn, April 23.—Twenty-five thousand spectators saw the season opened here, New York defeating Brooklyn, 8 to 5, in a game marked by hard hitting and plenty of errors. Ground rules were enforced, owing to the encroachment of the crowd. The home team looked like sure winners until the seventh, when Alperman made two misplays, which, with three hits and two passes, put the visitors in the lead. Murray's home run drive over the right field fence in the eighth clinched the victory. Ames was relieved in the sixth by Wiltse. The score:

New York	8	11	3

Batteries—Ames, Wiltse and Schlei; Wilhelm and Bergen.

Two-base hits — Ohara, Alperman. Home run—Murray. Base hits—Off Ames, 5 in 6 innings. Sacrifice hits—Ohara, Jordan, Lennox (2). Stolen base—Lennox. Double play—Doyle to Bridwell to Tenney. First base on balls—Off Ames, 2; off Wilhelm, 3. Struck out—By Ames, 4; by Wilhelm, 2. Time of game—2:00. Umpires—Rigler and Truby.

BOSTON, 0; PHILADELPHIA, 4.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23.—The Boston team was defeated in the opening game of the local National league season here by 4 to 0 before a large crowd. The score:

CHICAGO, 7; ST. LOUIS, 3.

St. Louis, Mo., April 23.—The Chicago National league team won the inauguration game of the season from St. Louis, 7 to 3. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	7	7	4
St. Louis	3	10	0

Batteries—Sallee and Bresnahan; Overall, Brown and Moran.

Two-base hits—Moran (2). Hits made—Off Overall, 5 in 7 innings; off Brown, 2 in 2 innings. Sacrifice hits—Tinker, Overall. Stolen bases—Steinfeldt, Delehanty. Double play—Evans to Charles. Bases on balls—Off Overall, 5. Struck out—By Sallee, 2; by Brown, 3; by Overall, 7. Wild pitch—Overall. Time of game—1:45. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

CINCINNATI, 7; PITTSBURG, 4.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 23.—The National league season was opened locally, Cincinnati defeating Pittsburg by the score of 7 to 4, thus advancing into first place. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	4	9	3

Batteries—Brandom, Leifield and Gibson; Ewing and McLean.

Two-base hit—Leach. Three-base hits—Wagner, Mitchell, Paskert. Hits made—Off Brandom, 10 in 5 innings; off Leifield, 6 in four innings. Sacrifice fly—Wagner. Stolen bases—W. Miller, Clarke, J. Miller, Huggins (2). Double plays—Leach to Abstein, Ewing (unassisted), McLean to Hoblitzel. Bases on balls—Off Brandom, 2; off Leifield, 3; off Ewing, 2. Hit by pitcher—W. Miller. Struck out—By Brandom, 1; by Ewing, 2. Passed ball—McLean. Time of game—2:15. Umpires—Klem and Kane.

INJUNCTION TO TRY NEW BASE BALL MEASURE

Suit is Entered Against Owner Brotherton at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 23.—Property owners in the vicinity of Loyalty park were yesterday granted a temporary injunction restraining C. F. Brotherton, owner of the Grand Rapids baseball franchise, from using the park until disposition is made of the case. Mr. Brotherton is ordered to appear Monday before the court and show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

The club owner was notified of the granting of the petition yesterday and is expected to leave the club at Newark and be in Grand Rapids Saturday for a consultation with his attorney, W. J. Landman. What his course is to be will not be decided until that time.

When Brotherton left the city a month ago after conference with his own and the property owners' attorney the injunction suit before the opening of the season was the most acceptable plan for both parties. Both agree to abide by the decision without appeal. Only the granting of the license by the council was needed to make the petition in order. This was granted last Monday night by a close vote with the recommendation that Ramona park be used, however, and such a course is suggested by the objecting property owners.

The petitioners for the injunction number thirteen. Frank L. Kirby, Jane Kirby, Charles B. Moxon, Jennie Moxon, Wilbur F. Long, Nancy J. Long, Michael Doyle, Josephine Doyle, Flora Honecker, Mina Session, Lyman Townsend, Addie Townsend and Sena Ter Keurst.

The petition is one long tale of woe and grievance of the property owners, who advance at least a score of reasons why it is not only inadvisable, but entirely wrong to devote Loyalty park to this purpose.

One of the main objections is the allegation that property in that vicinity has depreciated materially in value since the devotion of the park to that purpose. It is difficult to sell property situated near there, they say, and one petitioner quotes an instance where a sale was prevented because of this fact. Rentals are also considerably reduced, it is alleged.

The alleged lawlessness and insolence of the majority of those attending the games in the matter of the wholesale injury and destruction of the property is emphasized in the petition. They aver that while some respectable, law-abiding citizens attend the game, the crowd is for the most part composed of rowdies and ruffians.

The petitioners go so far in their objections as to claim that they positively are forced to stand guard over their homes to prevent their actual invasion. Trees are climbed, while branches and gardens are ruined, windows are broken and havoc is wrought generally, it is said.

American Association

KANSAS CITY, 4; MILWAUKEE, 1.

Six Big Reasons Why Pearson's for May is the Best Magazine of the Month

The men who will soon control our money supply.
The old leaders, Morgan, Rockefeller, Schiff, and others are all old men—long past the usual retiring age—they must soon quit. The names and stories of the men who will take their places—who will soon control this country's money supply—perhaps in their time, that of the world—are told here for the first time by Isaac F. Marcosson, who writes from close observation and knowledge.

The life story of the blind Senator from Oklahoma.
Senator Gore has been blind since eleven years old, determined at sixteen to become a Senator, endured privation to further his purpose—ate peanuts and crackers during his campaign—sat up in hotel offices because he did not have the price of a room—but became Senator. A wonderful story in any guise—James Creelman makes it a masterpiece—an inspiration to every boy in the land.

Why the street railways of New York City are bankrupt
There they have the shortest hauls—by far the greatest income. William J. Gaynor, Justice of the Appellate Division, New York Supreme Court, tells the story. It has been a fine money-making scheme for a few men. The Judge lays bare the whole manipulation. The game has been worked by "tip-top fellows who pray in church and give in charity"—a story to arouse the indignation of every honest man.

The stories and pictures that sent Mr. Roosevelt to Africa
Richard Tjader, who hunted in Africa for the American Museum of Natural History, made the photographs and told the stories that fixed the thought of African hunting in Mr. Roosevelt's mind. The second story—Rhinoceros Hunting—perhaps the best of the lot, appears in this issue, with reproductions of the same photographs that so aroused the enthusiasm of the former President.

Who really made Mr. Taft President of the U. S. If it had not been for a woman, Mr. Taft might not now be President. The surprising story is told by Sloane Gordon with the delightful touch of the born story teller. Also he tells why C. P. Taft retired from the Ohio Senatorial fight.

The sort of men who play professional baseball. A baseball fan—a crank—a rooter, even though she is a girl—tells about them. They are not all rowdies. Most of them are remarkably clean-cut, intelligent young men, who are making baseball the cleanest of professional sports, who play baseball for a living, and do other things for pleasure.

Rupert Hughes explains Telepathy, and John B. Stanton, who knows, tells what Postal Savings Banks will mean to the public. Also there is plenty of good fiction. WAR HAS BEEN DECLARED.

Fight Between Police and Salvation Army Waxes Hot.

South Bend, Ind., April 23.—With the arrival in South Bend yesterday of Maj. William Escott, of Indianapolis, divisional commander of the Salvation Army, interesting developments are expected in the fight between the police and Salvation Army, which so far has resulted in the sentencing of Capt. Nehemiah Brooke to jail for ten days and the driving of his wife and daughters to the shelter of friends.

Following an interview with Mayor Fogarty and the latter's refusal to interfere with the work of the police, Major Escott said:

"We will hold meetings in South Bend and they won't all be in front of the court house, the only place the army can hold them, according to the mayor and the chief of police."

Maj. Escott is firm in his contention the army has a right to hold services on the streets and cites other notable cases in various parts of the country. He said he would keep on sending men here if the authorities continued to put them in jail, even if it was necessary to send a new officer every night and he had to go to jail himself.

HOUSE TO HONOR WASHINGTON.

Will Attend Ceremonies Attending 120th Anniversary of Inauguration.

Washington, April 23.—An invitation extended by the Washington Monument Association of Alexandria, Va., to attend the exercises incident to the celebration of the one hundred and twentieth anniversary of the first inauguration of George Washington as president of the United States on April 30 was accepted by the house yesterday. An invitation to attend the exercises in connection with the removal of the body of Maj. Pierre Charles L'Enfant, the French engineer who planned the city of Washington to a large degree, from its resting place in an unnamed grave on the Riggs farm, Green Hill, Prince George county, Maryland, to the Arlington National cemetery also was accepted.

NERVOUSNESS DUE TO OVERSTUDY

Patient Almost Despaired of Recovery but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her.

Nervous exhaustion early shows itself in the decreased activity of the organs that normally cast out the waste products of the body. The kidneys, skin and bowels are deprived of some of their energy and a part of the poisonous waste materials, which they readily pass off during health, are turned back into the blood.

The tonic treatment for nervous troubles, by building up the blood and supplying it with added oxygen, burns up and casts off the impurities and gives to the nerves the elements they need. In no other way can these elements be conveyed to the nerves except through the blood.

Mrs. Grace W. Glidden, of No. 40 Adams street, Winter Hill, Somerville, Mass., says:

"I was afflicted with nervousness for nearly three years. The trouble began when I was seventeen years old and was due, I think, to overstudy. I tried to get through school too quickly with the result that I broke down a year before I would have graduated. I had severe choking spells when I would turn purple and fall down in a faint. I would be perfectly rigid. These spells would last sometimes for two hours. After these spells I would be very nervous and have to be in bed for a week. The muscles in my face and neck were affected and I was worn out.

"The first doctor I employed said he did not know what caused my sickness, but that it was some kind of nervous trouble. I could not see that he helped me at all. I then went to a specialist in nervous diseases but he also failed to help me. They said I would never fully recover. I had about given up hope when a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was willing to try anything that promised help and am glad I took the advice. The pills helped me and I took them regularly for a long time. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine and I know they cured me. I have been in good health since taking them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

COMPANY KICKS AND DESIRES SOME RELIEF

A Vast Burden is Imposed by Improvements— The Board Routine.

Representing the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company at a meeting of the board of public works last night Hon. J. M. Barrett, in response to questions as to what would be done in the way of repairs this summer, stated that the company had already expended $291,574 and that there has been a demand for $178,500 more and that if all the cities were to treat his company like Fort Wayne does it would be bankrupt in a short time.

The statement grew out of a discussion of repairs to East Lewis street, which have been ordered, but about which the property owners had become a bit impatient. There were present at the meeting General Manager C. D. Emmons, Superintendent of Construction James M. Brennan and Counsel J. M. Barrett for the Wabash Valley; the members of the board and the Messrs. William C. Schwier, William D. Meyer, William H. Blondolt, Henry Hilgeman, William Rodenbeck and C. D. Kaiser.

An agreement was reached under which the company has agreed to go ahead with the street and in conjunction with the expenditure of the amount paid by Hon. S. B. Fleming, of which there is a little over $500, Lewis street will be put into shape.

The board members announced that in conjunction with City Attorney Colerick they will inspect the paving put down by the Metropolitan Engineering and Construction company and will take no action until this has been accomplished.

The board made a ruling that after a general resolution providing for the laying of cement sidewalks on a street has been adopted no permits to do sections of the work under private contract will be granted. This is made necessary in order that the city engineer may get out his plans and specifications without a lot of needless work.

A permit for the erection of a cement retaining wall on two sides of the property of Mr. James H. Harper, at the corner of Washington and Barr streets, was granted by the board.

BEST TREATMENT FOR COLDS.

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free perspirationand an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

We give two pairs of cuffs with $1.50 shirts.

Here is Something Good to Know

That of all the preparations we have to sell, none have proved so beneficial or given such universal satisfaction as

The Nyal Remedies

Each one of the fifty or more are prepared to fit your particular case, just like a doctor's prescription; there are no cure-alls among them.

You will save money as well as avoid much pain and sickness, if you will fortify yourself against disease with these preparations, for they can be depended upon to do all, and often much more than is claimed for them.

One of the most valuable among them is Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy and I want to tell you about it.

For those who are recovering from the effects of grip, pneumonia or fevers, when the system is all run down and inviting further serious trouble, nothing will be found to equal this sterling cure. It builds up the system, purifies and enriches the blood and drives out all the poisonous materials.

The appearance of disagreeable, disfiguring pimples, boils, blotches, rough and scaly skin indicate an unhealthy condition of the blood, which will yield quickly to Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy.

Only those whose veins carry good rich blood enjoy health and the pleasures of life—and no one cares to shorten life with suffering and discomfort when relief is so close at hand.

Do not let one dollar stand between you and health. Begin right, right now—and that means Nyal's Hot Springs Blood Remedy.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Scarlet fever prevails to an alarming extent.

Members of the Madison Square Theater company, announced to play "Hazel Kirke" at the Academy of Music on May 3, include C. W. Couldock, DeWolf Hopper and Annie Russell.

P. J. McDonald and M. J. Houlihan leave for Minneapolis next Saturday night. They will embark in the hardware business in that city, and will certainly make a fortune in their new home.

Councilman Hamilton showed the councilmen last night that the city's debt had been reduced $51,670.56 from April 1 last year to April 1 this year. For the ten years preceding April 1, 1883 the average debt reduction was $21,439.71.

At the meeting last night of the German Lutheran Library association the following officers were elected: President, Joseph Storm; first vice president, Dr. H. Duemling; second vice president, Martin Detzer; secretary, D. Roscher; treasurer, F. Sheiman.

Henry Schane has been appointed election judge in the First precinct of the First ward instead of B. H. Trentman. Thomas Hays will be inspector in the Second precinct of the Sixth ward in place of Patrick Fallahee, and Jacob Racine will be inspector in the First precinct of the Ninth ward instead of John Archer.

The city council held its last regular meeting, as at present constituted, last night. When that body convenes in May one-half the members will be retired or returned; as they or their constituents see fit. Col. C. A. Zollinger was in the chair, and Councilman Boltz, Brames, Doehrman, Hamilton, Kramer, Michael, Mohr, Martin, Pape, Vordermark, Welch, Wessel, Wolf, Woulfe and Yergens were present.

After a venire of 108 men had been called, the jury selected to try the Boyle murder case in the criminal court was composed of J. H. Applegate, Maumee; William Parrish, city; Amos Walter, city; E. F. Tinkham, city; L. O. Hull, city; N. B. Young, city; William Ryse, city; David D. Baxter, Monroe; James Cartwright, city; George Fulmer, Milan; Preston Chapman, Pleasant; Asa King, Pleasant.

WOMAN IS CONVICTED AT HUNTINGTON OF ARSON

Mrs. Cora Grau Must Serve Prison Term for Burning a Barn.

Huntington, Ind., April 23.—Out less than an hour, the jury in the Huntington circuit court Thursday evening returned a verdict finding Mrs. Cora Grau guilty of complicity in the burning of the barn of Adonijah Farmer, in Warren township. The sentence carries with it a term of from two to twenty-one years in the woman's prison and a fine of $500. The woman pleaded not guilty, but did not take the witness stand in her own behalf.

It is the first case on record of the conviction of a woman in Huntington county for a crime of this character. Charles Grau, husband of the woman, is a prisoner in jail awaiting trial on the same charge. A pitiful feature of the conviction of the mother is the fact that she must leave a babe of twenty-six months. Mrs. Grau broke down completely when the verdict was read in court, and when returned to jail she became hysterical.

The arrest of the Graus came about following a long series of incendiary fires in Warren township some weeks ago, and the entire region was badly wrought up over the situation.

ENTER "WHIZ"—EXIT DIRT.

Take the dirtiest, grimiest and greasiest hands that ever happened—rub a little "Whiz" over them—add a little water—see what a creamy lather it makes—see how it gets right down into the cracks and takes out the dirt, and it leaves the hands soft and smooth, too. Nothing like it ever made. Get it at your grocer's.

SUSPECTED OF OLD CRIME.

After Ten Years Man May Face Murder Count Again.

Logansport, Ind., April 23.—James Slagel, now in jail on indictment for forgery, may be retried for the murder of Stephen Whitmore, with which he was charged ten years ago.

Whitmore's body was found in Eel river, Nov. 27, 1899. Slagel was arrested, but discharged for lack of evidence. Now Prosecutor George Custer asserts he has new evidence. When Whitmore was last seen alive it was then alleged Slagel was with him. After a week's disappearance relatives offered a reward and detectives searched in vain for clews.

Nine days after Whitmore disappeared Robert Badabaugh, a restaurant man, told the police he had a "presentiment" that Whitmore's body would be found in Eel river. The river was dragged and the body recovered. Documents found on the victim's body, it is alleged, were not even damp. Both Slagel and his wife were then arrested. Slagel was brought back this week from Edwardsville, Ia., on a charge of forgery.

GETS SHOCK FROM FENCING.

Farmer Knocked Down by Heavy Current in Peculiar Manner.

Tipton, Ind., April 23.—Jesse McColley, a farmer living near Jackson, five miles north of this city, received an electric shock in a peculiar manner and is confined to his bed as a result. He was breaking ground in a field adjacent to the traction line and one of his horses fell in the traces. McColley went to the animal to help it rise, caught hold of a trace chain and encountered a current that took him from his feet and injured him so severely that he had to be carried to the house.

He ascertained later that one of the animals had run into a barb wire fence heavily charged with electricity and that this was the cause of the shock.

AUDITOR OF STAR UNION LINE DIES IN A HOSPITAL

Operation Failed to Save Life of J. T. Denniston —Shop News.

Local Pennsylvania men have been advised of the death of John Thaw Denniston, auditor of the Star Union line, which occurred at Passavant hospital, in Pittsburg, following a surgical operation, aged 66 years. Mr. Denniston was the father of the Union line, which was established in 1866, and has been auditor of the line since 1875. Surviving him are the widow and two sons. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and the funeral services will be conducted by that order. Mr. Denniston was well known all over the Pennsylvania lines, both east and west of Pittsburg.

ENTERTAINED BY LADIES.

B. L. F. & E. Given Pleasant Surprise.

A. P. Kelly, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, was in the city yesterday and last night. In the afternoon he attended a meeting of the Ladies' society and made an address and in the evening he attended a meeting of A. G. Porter lodge, No. 141. While the latter was in progress the Ladies' society sprang a very pleasant surprise on the brotherhood and its visitor. At 10 o'clock a lady knocked and requested permission to enter. She walked directly to the piano and commenced playing a march, which was a signal for the appearance of the ladies with refreshments. Fifteen of them came marching into the hall, each bearing a plate on which was a cup of coffee and a sandwich. When all the men were served with coffee and sandwiches another party of ladies appeared with ice cream and cake and began distributing them among the men. While luncheon was in progress two of the young ladies rendered a musical program of high merit and the affair proved to be most enjoyable to all. Mr. Kelly responded to a call for a speech and complimented the ladies highly for the interest they are taking in the B. L. F. & E., saying that where there are good Ladies' societies, as the auxiliaries are called, there the B. L. F. & E. is most prosperous. Mr. Kelly left this morning, promising to return here in the early summer.

PLEA FOR LOWER ASSESSMENT.

Wabash Attorney Says Road Wants Big Reduction.

When Daniel Simms, of Lafayette, attorney for the Wabash railroad, stated to the state board of tax commissioners yesterday that 35 per cent of the rolling stock and equipment of most of the systems of the country is idle, representatives of other companies present nodded their heads in assent.

That the roads have not recovered from the panic was the statement of Simms and other railroad attorneys and tax agents who are pleading for a reduction in the valuation of their property.

Representatives of the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Chicago and Indiana Southern, Grand Rapids and Indiana, the Midland and the Indianapolis Belt, appeared before the board yesterday.

GAS MACHINERY FOR DENVER.

Western Gas Company Starts Big Shipment Today.

The Western Gas Construction company today started the shipment of a large gas holder to Denver, Col., where the company is putting in a big gas plant. This holder is an immense affair and the parts which go to make it will make eight car loads. All have been completed, but the work of adjusting the sections and riveting them is quite a task and will keep several men busy for some time.

EXPECT BIG CROWD.

Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate Ready for Excursion.

Advance information from the agents along the line of the Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate indicate a big business tomorrow on the week-end excursion to Chicago. Each road is getting ample equipment on the grounds and will be ready to handle all the business offered it. The Pennsylvania has forty to fifty extra cars on hand for the occasion.

KELLY AT THE Y. M. C. A.

"Australia, New Zealand and Ocean Travel" as depicted tonight at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. rooms by P. J. Kelly, of Melbourne, will be full of interest to all classes of people and should attract a big crowd. Mr. Kelly will pay considerable attention to government and municipal matters in his native country, where government control of railway, telegraph, express and telephone business is in full force. Such questions are of special interest in Fort Wayne at present. The lecture will be free and open to ladies.

O. R. C. DANCE TONIGHT.

The ladies and gentlemen who have in hand the annual ball of the O. R. C. and the Auxiliary tonight are feeling rather jubilant over the prospects. Indications point to one of the best dances and pedro games the societies ever gave and this is saying a good deal, for all were good. The entertainment takes place at Minuet hall, on East Washington street.

WHITEWASHING SHOPS.

The house cleaning work which has been in progress at the Wabash shops all week will be completed tomorrow. The whitewashers are now at work in the main maching shop today, having completed the work in the other departments, and in order that they may have full sway, the shop was closed to operations all day. Business will be resumed Monday.

BROWN WILL SPEAK.

President W. C. Brown, of the New York Central lines, will be one of the speakers at the big banquet on the opening night of the thirteenth international conference of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at St. Louis, May 27-30 inclusive. Other prominent railway men will attend and deliver addresses and the conference will be one of the best held.

SEDGWICK GOES WEST.

Charles E. Sedgwick has resigned a position in the sales department of the Fort Wayne Electric works and will leave next Tuesday for Portland, Ore., where he has accepted employment with the Portland Machinery company. Mr. Sedgwick has been with the Electric company about three years.

SHOPMEN TO HAVE PARTY.

Tomorrow evening about fifteen of the young men employed in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop and as many young ladies will enoy a 'bus ride to the Schoppman farm, three miles north of the city, where they will have a dance. E. W. Hans and Raymond Haushach will act as chaperons to the party.

TO EXAMINE FIREMEN.

Next week Road Foreman of Engines C. R. Colmey and Assistant R. J. Lyons will commence the annual examination of the firemen on the Western division of the Pennsylvania. There will be two classes daily, one at 9 o'clock in the morning and another at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. There are 186 men to be examined.

INVENTORY AT THE SHOPS.

Tomorrow morning the semi-annual inventory at the Pennsylvania shops will commence and be pushed along to completion by Monday morning. The shops will run until noon as usual tomorrow.

HAD HAND CRUSHED.

James Weaver, a Wabash brakeman, had his left hand badly mashed Wednesday afternoon while coupling cars at Montpelier. He was taken to the company's hospital at Peru, where an effort will be made to save the member. Mr. Weaver has been in the employ of the company for some time.

BOILERMAKERS VERY BUSY.

The boiler department of the Western Gas works is busy, having on hand a big lot of work. The department is working the largest force in its history full time. Other parts of the works are running only eight hours a day and with a small force at that.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

S. F. Bowser has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

R. W. Birch, a Wabash shopman, has gone to Lafayette, Ind., to visit his folks over Sunday.

Engineer John Mooney and Fireman H. E. Nestle, of the Pennsylvania, are sick and off duty.

Louis Jaap, of the air brake room at the Wabash shops, is off duty on account of sickness.

Harry Walpka, T. A. Speck and R. A. Parrett resigned positions at the Wabash shops this morning.

J. J. Rosenberger and A. J. Hirshfelder are sick and absent from the Pennsylvania shops today.

Ed Galbraith, of the Lake Shore, is here today inspecting a number of car wheels at the Bass foundry.

C. H. Philley, a clerk at the Bowser offices, is attending the Red Men's convention at Warsaw.

Machinist Earl Brake has been appointed foreman of the drill press department of the Wayne Oil Tank factory.

Machinist William Lang, of the Wabash shops, went to Crooked Lake this afternoon to remain until Sunday evening.

Jasper Metzner, of the Eagle laundry, has purchased a new touring car and was on the streets today with it for the first time.

R. E. Bennett, a truckman at the Pennsylvania freight house, is off duty as the result of an accident yesterday. He is not badly hurt.

August Binder, an employe at the Pennsylvania round house, is a severe sufferer from brass poisoning. One of his hands is affected and is very painful.

The Wabash will furnish a special train to carry the Purdue students home tonight after the performance at the Majestic. The train will leave the depot at 12 o'clock.

W. R. Hance, of Toronto, is here to consult the management of S. F. Bowser & Company on matters of business. Mr. Hance is manager of the Toronto branch of the Bowser company.

Pedro playing will commence promptly at 8 o'clock and dancing at 10. The grand march will be led by Conductor and Mrs. Owen Owens and Conductor and Mrs. C. W. Bushey.

J. B. Olinger, of the east car shops, was the recipient of innumerable postcards on his recent birthday anniversary, the "shower" being exceedingly amusing to both himself and his friends.

Engines 2031, 346, 655, 827 and 902 left the Wabash shops today, each having received general repairs. The big steam derrick which was damaged in a wreck a few days ago, also left the shops today.

George Smith, a construction man, has completed the installation of an immense switchboard system in the electric light power plant at Wabash and has returned to the city after an absence of two months.

Mrs. William Smith had a most painful and dangerous abscess removed from her face at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday and it is believed that she will fully recover. Mr. Smith, the husband of the patient, is a machinist in the wheel department of the Pennsylvania erecting shops.

William C. Braun, of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, will go to Rockland tonight to do some expert work in locating some trouble in the operation of dynamos in the power plant of the Richardson Paper company. Rockland is fifteen miles out from Cincinnati.

Ed J. Preston, car foreman at Montpelier for the Wabash, and Steam Derrick Engineer W. L. Thorne, also of Montpelier, were in the city yesterday on business for the company. Mr. Preston was chief car inspector here several years and has a wide acquaintance in railway circles in the city.

E. J. Bryant, representing the Lake Shore road, called to see the excursion committee of the Fort Wayne Electric works' Relief union this morning relative to the annual excursion in June. Mr. Bryant guaranteed the delivery of the excursion party at Cedar Point in three hours and thirty minutes after the departure from Fort Wayne. He also agreed upon a fare which the committee consider reasonable. This does not settle the matter, however, as the Nickel Plate is after the business also.

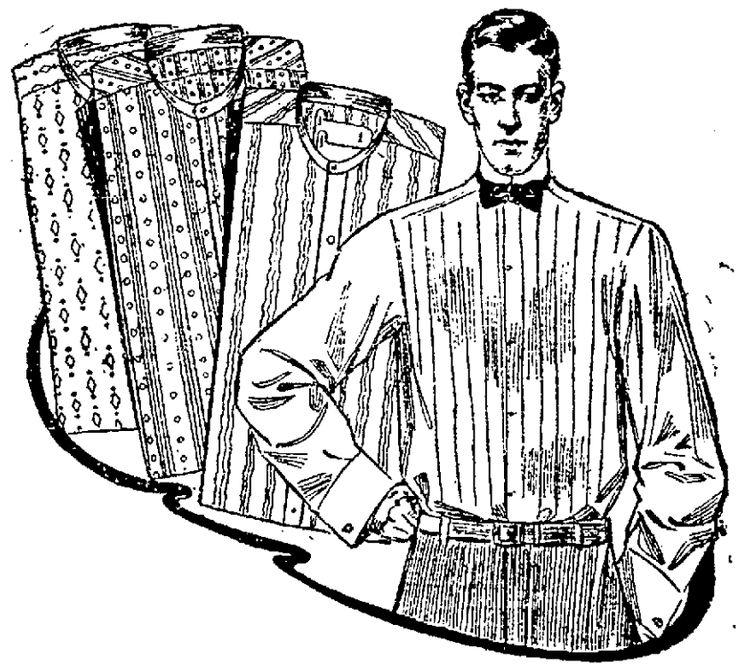

The clerks in the Wabash freight office are organizing a ball club for the purpose of playing the Lake Shore freight clerks Sunday morning. George Baker is manager of the Wabash clerks' team and will also pitch for them at the game. This game will be followed by others until the matter of supremacy has been decided. The Wabash team will include such old-time players as Sammy Stocks and C. P. Cherry, while George E. Campbell, an old-time player, will take a prominent position with the Lake Shore team.

Prince of Samos, Reported to Have Been Murdered.

PRINCE KOPASSIS

A telegram received in Vienna from Smyrna, Asiatic Turkey, declares that Andre Kopassis Effendi, Prince of Samos, has been murdered. Samos is a Greek island off the west coast of Asia Minor. It pays an annual tribute to Turkey and Turkey maintains a garrison there. It has been under the protection of France, England and Russia since 1832. The Prince of Samos is nominated by the sultan. He was appointed to office in 1897. There arose a serious movement against him in May of last year, when he was seized by the malcontents and beaten. He made his escape to the palace and was besieged there several days before the troops restored order.

The Anxious Soul's Question

A Sermon by REV. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, D. D.

Text—Acts 16: 30-31.

[From The Christian Herald.]

The Apostle Paul lived in a perpetual state of revival. He had only to come into Philippi, the principal city of Macedonia, and to sit by the river bank, and Lydia, the seller of purple straightway believed and was baptized. He had only to walk along the streets to the place of prayer, and there was so much of power about him that "a certain damsel, possessed with the spirit of divination," followed him and cried, saying, "These men are the servants of the most high God," and "Paul being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour. And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, drew them into the market place," tore off their clothes, beat them with many stripes and cast them into an inner prison, fastening their feet in the stocks. But this did not in any way affect these servants of God. It was doubtless true in their case, as one of the modern poets has expressed it, that "stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage," for at midnight, in the midst of all the darkness, "they sang praises unto God and the prisoners heard them." What a strange sound it must have been in the old jail, where ordinarily only curses had been heard! But suddenly there came a great earthquake; the foundations of the prison began to shake and the doors were thrown open and "every one's bands were loosed." In the midst of all this confusion, the jailer sprang into their presence, and was ready to kill himself, thinking the prisoners had escaped, when Paul exclaimed, "Do thyself no harm, for we are all here."

"Conviction" the First Step.

There is just in this connection a clear distinction drawn between men of influence and men of power. Ordinarily we say, what the church needs today is men of influence, meaning by this men of position. And so it does; but from this illustration I think we may argue, the greater demand is for men of power. Paul and Silas had not influence enough to keep themselves out of jail, but they had a power sufficient to pray down the prison walls and throw wide open its doors. There is also in the whole incident given to us a true and striking picture of what it means for one to be saved.

If I were an artist, I should like to draw upon a blackboard a great letter "C," then fill out from that one letter four words. These four words would present to us a picture of this Philippian jailer not only, but also of the one who really and truly comes to Christ. The first word would be "Conviction." This we surely find in the jailer, for w eare told "he came trembling." It is not possible for any one to be saved without first of all experiencing real conviction; however, it may manifest itself in different ways.

First. Sometimes it is evidenced in great need. One would display his ignorance if he were to assert that Nicodemus, for example, was the chief of sinners; for he was a ruler of his people, an honored member of the Sanhedrin, a most circumspect man in every way; but in his heart there was a great sense of his need, which his position had never satisfied; and this compelled him, I imagine, to seek out the Great Teacher.

Second. Not infrequently it may assume the form of complete unworthiness, such as the poor publican had when he said, "God be merciful to me a sinner;" but the article there in the Greek was a definite one, and what he really said was this: "God be merciful to me the sinner," as if he were the only one in the world. This is a most hopeful condition.

Third. As a rule, it is the consciousness that we have sinned and are, therefore, under condemnation that disturbs us; and in the unregenerate state, it is the fearfulness that the penalty of the broken law may fall upon us; yet I am quite clear in my own mind that there may be a deeper conviction of one's sins after one's regeneration than before.

Stanley tells us that he found men in Africa who never knew that they were black until they looked upon a white man. So many a man can never know what sin is until he sees it in the presence of Jesus Christ. But whatever the form of conviction, it must surely be experienced before the light will dawn. Come to him just as you are, for he can satisfy your longings by filling you with himself and he is able to blot out all your transgressions and forgive all your sins.

"Contrition" the Next Essential.

The second word starting with the letter "C" would be "Contrition." This the Philippian jailer had, for he "fell down before them." It is certainly true that one cannot come to God unless, first of all, he be possessed of the broken and contrite heart. Why should this not be true? We have sinned against God and there must be contrition for it if we are to be forgiven. God may be ever so willing to forgive, still he does not do it without contrition.

In the state prison of Iowa there is a young man held as a convict, against whom the charge of arson stands, and also the attempt to kill. Very recently, the party whose building was fired circulated a petition asking that the young man be pardoned; the man whose life was attempted followed his example, and succeeded in securing the names of the judge by whom he was sentenced, the attorney who prosecuted him and the entire jury which found him guilty. This petition was carried to the governor. In the face of it, strong as it was, he said, "No, the man cannot be pardoned; for," said he, "his crime was not committed against the individual, but against the commonwealth of Iowa, and he must serve his sentence." And it ought to be remembered by the sinner that these words are true, "against thee and thee only have I sinned." So there must be contrition or there cannot be salvation; and yet what a marvelous thing it is that, if one be ever so great a sinner, the moment this spirit is manifest God blots out all his transgressions.

It is stated that, in St. Petersburg, a father's heart was well-night broken because of the prodigality of his son, who was addicted to the habit of gambling, and with that came the accompanying vices. At last the old father conceived the idea that what the boy needed was better surroundings, and he set out to secure them. What a mistake this is and how many have made it! That is not what you need. This father of whom I speak secured his son's appointment in the army, but he went from bad to worse until he had reached the end of it all. Completely discouraged, he was casting up his accounts and, when the overwhelming sum was known, in great desperation he wrote at the bottom of the column these words, "Who is to pay all this?"

Then Follows "Conversion."

The emperor of Russia, going through barracks to inspect the soldiers, passed this young man, who, with his head in his arms, had fallen asleep. The emperor, glancing at the figures before him on the table, read the question, and then bending over wrote one word, "Nicholas." And the story goes that that one man was free. I do not know whether this story is true, but I do know that if you enumerate all of your sins from the earliest recollection to the present moment, and beneath the sum of them all write this question, "Who is to pay all this?" there will be one name written in answer to it,

Sweetest name on mortal tongue,
Sweetest note in seraph song,
Sweetest carol ever sung,
Jesus, blessed Jesus.

The third word starting from the letter "C" would be "Conversion," and this we find in the Philippian jailer, for we are told "he washed their stripes." This was surely a great change in the man. At first he exultingly fastened their feet in the stocks, and now I can imagine him tearfully stooping down with cooling touch to ease their pain. There must be conversion if we are ever to be saved.

I am speaking of the new birth, that is, God's part of it; but I am emphasizing the thing man must do if he is ever to see the light. In one way it is "Right about face!" or it is following the example of the blind men who "put themselves in the way of Jesus;" or it is the obedience of the lepers who, as they went, were cleansed. Indeed, to sum it all up, it is for the unsaved man to have "the willing mind." (Isa. 1:19.)

God never saved any man until, first of all, he was willing to be saved; so whether one kneels at the altar, or bows in prayer in his own home, or stands in the crowded audience, or signs the inquirer's card, the end of all these things must be the submission of the will to God; and then he does his own work, and we are born again, or from above.

Confessing Christ Before Men.

The fourth and last word to be completed from the letter "C" is "Confession," and this is clearly found in the experience of the jailer; for we are told "he was baptized." What a mistake it is for a man to believe in his heart and fail to confess with his lips! Such a position is never satisfactory, and never brings real joy. It is not being obedient, to say the least. If your physician should write a prescription for you in your sickness, and you should have it filled in a peculiar way, putting in two parts and leaving out two parts, he would have the right to find fault with you and tell you that you would never get well until you took the whole prescription. It is true with the Great Physician in our sin sickness; he has written the prescription that assures us of life—it is composed of two parts (Rom. 10:9, 10):

First. Believe in your heart that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and acknowledge him as Lord.

Second. Confess with your lips that you have appropriated him, not as a Saviour, but as your Saviour, for if one desires to be fully saved he must commit himself. It is not walking with the army that constitutes one a soldier; it is not the wearing of the garment of a soldier that makes him such, for this may be hired or stolen; but it is the definite enlistment, and this comes to one who would be a soldier of Jesus Christ when he definitely and clearly confesses him. This is his enlistment.

The Query of the Unsaved.

"What, therefore, must I do to be saved?" This seems to be the unsaved man's first query. Philosophy has never answered this question yet. Infidelity has tried it, and made it a mockery. God's answer is clear and simple. The Bible says, "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God." "Not of works, lest any man should boast." It is very easy to receive a gift; the first step in salvation is not to give something, but rather to receive; then receiving eternal life, you may give yourself unto him for service.

Man would naturally say, if you would be a son of God, try to walk as a son and you will eventually become such. But God makes it very clear that there can be no real life until there is a step taken, first of all, by faith; then he reveals himself. The things of God are spiritually discerned, and God is a revelation, not an explanation. To make it very clear, the best answer is the one given to the Philippian jailer: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." There is something very significant in the way the names of Jesus Christ are used. For example, when he is called Lord, it is to emphasize his kingly office, or his reigning power; and what can the meaning be but this, when we are told to believe on him as Lord? We must reach the place where we are willing to let him rule and reign in our life. Can you submit to this? He will never make a failure of it. Give him absolute control; never take a step without his guidance—this is the secret of grace and joy.

Jesus is the earthly name, and we are told that "thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." It must be necessary, then, for one to get a conception of him as he hangs upon the cross; and certainly we known he was there for just one purpose, namely, "That he might die in our stead."

As Christ Died.

Major Whittle tells the story of a company of bushwhackers, arrested in Missouri during the days of the civil war. They were sentenced to be shot, when a young boy touched the commanding officer on the arm and said, "Won't you allow me to take the place of the man standing yonder? He has a family, and he will be greatly missed; no one will miss me. May I take his place?" When the officer had given his consent, the young boy stepped forward, drew the man out of line and stepped in his place. When the command was given to fire, the boy fell dead; his grave is still to be found in the little Missouri town, and on the little stone that marks it are cut these words, "Sacred to the memory of Willie Lear; he took my place." The commanding officer's name was John McNeill, and the story was vouched for recently by one of the officer's personal friends in Evansville, Ind.

This is true of Jesus Christ; he died that we might live, but we must accept him. There is no life except in him, and the idea of substitution is found in all the bible. He is also called Christ, but this is his resurrection name, and as Christ he stands this moment at the right hand of God, making intercession for us. Can you accept him there?

It does seem to me that this makes the whole Christian life very plain. He is my Lord, because he rules me; he is Jesus because he died to save me; and he is Christ because, whenever the mistakes of life overtake me, he stands at God's right hand to make explanation and intercession. Do you thus receive him?

It is also to be remembered that, in the case of the Philippian jailer, light came in all its clearness when "they spake unto him the word of the Lord." I have very little confidence in that man who is not founded upon God's Word for assurance of his salvation. I have all the hope imaginable for that one who will receive it with meekness. I do not mean that he should be able at once to explain it; I only ask that by faith he receive it (John 5: 24). His Word is sometimes spoken of under the figure of the hammer, and as such it can break our stubborn wills. It is sometimes said to be the light, and as such it will penetrate the darkness. It is frequently called the water, and water always cleanses by displacement. I am persuaded that, if we could only persuade men to receive the Word of God, it would mean a joy unspeakable and a peace which the world cannot give, neither take away. One could not live in the promise and declaration of John's third chapter and sixteenth verse without rejoicing in hope. Say it over and over to yourself this way, and thus make it your own verse: "God so loved 'me' that he gave his only begotten Son that 'I' might believe in him and should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Baptism a Command.

I would not have you forget, in this interesting story of the jailer, that he was baptized. Baptism is inseparably connected with believing and is as certainly a command of God's as that we believe. We may differ as to the mode, but too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the command itself; it is, of course, true that one may be without it, as, for example, the thief on the cross; as for him, it was impossible; but I should be afraid to run the risk when Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, and he that believeth not shall be damned." At least, when we stand before him, we could not but say that we had neglected to do as he commanded. It is the experience of Christians everywhere that this one of the sacraments brings upon the believer a marvelous blessing, and leads him out into an experience which can never be described in words.

It is not to be forgotten that when all these steps had been taken by the Philippian jailer he rejoiced, believing in God, with all his house. That word is certainly true that "in his presence is fulness of joy, and at his right hand there are pleasures for evermore." And why should it not be so?

One of my friends, a Scotchman, told me that some time ago he was going through his native land and stopped at a little cottage by the wayside to rest; when he entered the room his first inclination was to be seated in a very comfortable chair, which occupied a prominent place in the room; but just as he made the attempt an old Scotchwoman sprang to the chair and, lifting her hand, exclaimed, "Nay, nay, man; don't sit there," and then she pointed to the scarlet cord fastened around the chair, which he had not noticed before, and explained, "One day her majesty the queen, a sudden storm coming upon her, left her carriage and came into this house." And, with a look of great reverence, this venerable woman added: "She sat in this chair, and when she went away we fastened this scarlet cord about it, and I said, 'We will give it to John, and he can keep it in his family,' for was it not wonderful that her majesty the queen had used it?" But I have a greater cause for rejoicing: Jesus Christ the King of kings has counted it a joy to take up his abode in my heart. He has cast around me the scarlet cord which marks me as his own. It is a great thing for me to say that he is mine, but it is greater far for me to declare that I am his, and with the Philippian jailer therefore I rejoice with exceeding great joy.

Sluggish Minds.

Well Nourished Brains Make a Well Balanced Mind—Starved Brains a Treacherous, Melancholy Mind. It's All In the Nourishment.

A healthy brain is composed of phosphorus, albumen, ozmazome, fat and water in proper proportions. When the proportions change, the mind weakens, the victim becomes forgetful, gloomy, distrustful and auspicious, is constantly expecting trouble and is cast into melancholy and despair.

The success of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer in curing such cases has given it great fame. By supplying the brain with the missing elements that have been worn out and burned up, it makes the mind useful, active and full of hope, ambition and cheer.

The effect of the first dose is gratifying and each succeeding one adds little by little the essential parts until every brain and nerve fibre is thoroughly renewed and becomes competent to perform all natural functions.

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer contains neither Alcohol, Chloral, Morphine or other harmful or habit forming drug, therefore may be taken without fear of harm resulting.

My nervous system had been severely shocked. Doctors pronounced it nervous prostration. I suffered extremely from nervous chills, and the least excitement would cause an uncontrollable terror, as though a strong hand had seized my heart and I would die in a minute. Noise was torture; add to this sleeplessness, and my condition may be imagined. The use of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer completely cured me of this trouble, and today I am absolutely well. Mrs. G. K. What It Is to Be a Christian:

The Gospel in Antioch.

Lesson Text—Acts 11:19-30; 12:25. Golden Text—Acts 11:26: "The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch."

International Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, April 25, 1909, by Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts.

[From The Christian Herald.]

In the Golden Text, Acts 11:26, we read that the disciples were first called Christians at Antioch. Who called them so? Not themselves, not their friends, but their opposers, in mockery. It was the very name which God would have them bear, the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, by which the family on earth and in heaven is named (Eph. 3:15.)

O Antioch, thou teacher of the world!
From out thy portals passed the feet of those
Who banished and despised have made thy name
The next in rank to proud Jerusalem.
Within thy gates the persecuted few,
Who dared to rally round the holy cross,
And worship him whose sacred form it bore,
Were first called Christians; in thy sad conceit
Thou madst a stigma of reproach and shame
This noblest title of the sons of earth;
While, save for this, thy name were scarcely known,
Except among the mouldering vestiges of dim antiquity. —J. L. Chester.

Alexander the Great said to one who had been named after him, but was unworthy, "Either change your character or your name." Let us beware of that guilty hypocrisy that accepts the name, but refuses to accept the nature, of Christ. A jewelry salesman, noticing his hands to be somewhat soiled, said, "This is very trying to me; of all persons, I should have soft, clean hands. It is awful to offer diamonds or pearls, or jewelry of any sort, to a possible customers when my hands are not perfectly white and tidy. It makes a repulsive background for the piece of jewelry." What kind of a background does your life and mine furnish for the pearl of greatest price?

What Is It to Be a Christian?

It has been said by Dr. Henry Van Dyke that "to be a Christian is not to invent a little system of self-denials, which are often foolish and may be altogether selfish; not to carve out a little cross for ourselves, and wear it as much for ornament as for sacrifice; but to cut loose from self altogether, as a ship must lift her anchor before she can move with the tides; to take up the burden that He appoints for us, sure that it cannot be unnecessary or useless, and to go after Him wherever he may lead us. We must follow him in thought, submitting our minds to his instruction and believing him implicitly. We must follow him in feeling, learning to sympathize with him in all desires and purposes which he revealed to us in his ministry of love. We must follow him in action, trying to live as we think he would live if he were on earth and in our place today.

The Christians of Antioch were like wind-wafted seeds. Many a volcanic or coral island in the sea has been covered with trees and shrubbery by wind-wafted seeds, and has had its barrenness changed into beauty and fruitfulness. The storms of persecution carried some of the Christians in Jerusalem to Antioch, three hundred miles away to the north. Antioch was magnificent in its fortifications, its immense public buildings and its beautiful statues. It has been said of Antioch that it was "foremost in refinement and culture, and foremost also in luxury and vice." We may well wonder why such a place should have been selected by Christian refugees. But we are told "that the hand of the Lord was with them." And they began to grow in their new environment by preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ and teaching in his name; but they at first confined their efforts to the Jews whom they found there, and then some of their number began to preach to the Gentiles. And both Jews and Gentiles received the Lord Jesus as their Saviour. Those refugees have been called "the first missionaries of the Cross." The disciples who had been with Jesus had remained in Jerusalem, and constituted, with some who had not fled on account of persecution, what we might call the mother church, of which James, the brother of our Lord, was the pastor, or so-called "bishop." Word reached the mother church of the gospel work being done in Antioch and Barnabas, as the best beloved of their number, was sent there to investigate and direct the Christian movement. And we are told that when he had come he was glad, and as a result of his coming much people were added unto the Lord! A wonderful reinforcement was Barnabas at such a time as that, for we are told that he was "a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith."

The Successors of Barnabas.

These have been many; some have gone to follow the gospel work begun by others, and some have gone to do the planting.

An African woman once asked a sad question about missions. It ought to be asked in every missionary meeting. The question was this: "Why do not more come to tell us? Is it because they do not love us, or because they do not love Jesus very much?"

The Difference Between Being a Heathen and Being a Christian.

A black-eyed baby lay moaning its young life away on the brick bed of a dreary mud house in Peking, China. The young mother gazed in despair upon her dying child. She longed to press it to her aching heart, but she had been taught that demons are all around the dying, waiting to snatch the soul away, and so because it was dying she was afraid of her own baby! "The cart will soon pass," said the mother-in-law, "and then we shall have to keep it in the house all night. There is no help for it; the gods are angry with you." And saying so, she snatched up the helpless babe. The mother shrieked, "My baby is not dead! My baby is not dead yet!" But the baby was carried from her sight, and she never saw it again. An old black cart, drawn by a black cow, soon came along, and the baby, not yet dead, was laid on the heap of dead ones. The carter drove on through the city gate, and cast his load into a pit, which he filled up with lime. The desolate mother wails, "My baby is lost! My baby is lost! I can never find him again!"

Turn your gaze upon another picture: a blue-eyed baby lay moaning on the downy pillow if its dainty crib, in a missionary family in Peking. "Our baby is going home," said the mother; and, though her voice trembled, she smiled bravely and sweetly upon the little sufferer. "We gave her to the Lord when she came to us, and now he has but come for his own," said the father, reverently. As we watched through our tears the little life slipping away, some one began to sing:

Jesus lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly.

The blue eyes opened for the last time and with a loving look and gentle sigh the sweet child passed through the gate to the heavenly fold.

"Let us pray," said a low voice. We knelt together, and heaven came so near we could almost see the white-robed ones and hear their songs of welcome.

There are no baby coffins to be bought in Peking, so a box was made; we lined it with soft, white silk. We dressed baby in her snowy robes and laid her lovingly in her last resting place. We decked the room with flowers and strewed them over the little one. The next day we followed the tiny coffin to the cemetery. Now a white stone marks the sacred spot where we laid her, and flowers blossom on the grave, which is visited often and tended with loving care. The sweet mother says, "Our baby is safe; we shall have her again some glad day."

The blue-eyed baby's mother is a Christian. (This story is told by Clara M. Cushman, in The Gospel in All Lands.)

James Chalmers, in addressing a large meeting in London, composed of the friends and supporters of missions, said: "I have had twenty-one years' experience among natives. I have seen the semi-civilized and the uncivilized; I have lived with the Christian native, and I have lived, dined and slept with the cannibal. I have visited the islands of the New Hebrides, I have visited the Loyalty group, I have seen the work of missions in the Samoan group, I know all the islands of the Society group, I have lived for ten years in the Harvey group, I know a few of the groups close on the line, and for at least nine years of my life I have lived with the savages of New Guinea; but I have never yet met with a single man or woman, or a single people, that your civilization without Christianity has civilized. Wherever there has been the slightest spark of civilized life in the southern seas it has been because the gospel has been preached there, and wherever you find in the island of New Guinea a friendly people, or a people that will welcome you, there the missionaries of the cross have been preaching Christ."

As to Boy Christians.

A boy who is going to make a noble Christian man out of himself must begin his Christian life while he is still a boy. Some one has said that in these days there must be "armor-plated boys," boys who are iron-clad on:

Their lips, against the first taste of liquor.
Their ears, against impure words.
Their hands, against wrongdoing.
Their feet, against going with bad company.
Their pockets, against dishonest money.
Their tongues, against evil speaking.

This Christian armor, thus worn by her citizens, gives more security to the nation than all the armor-plate on her ships.

In the family of the German emperor are seven sons. Many interesting things concerning their boyhood have from time to time appeared in print, but nothing more so than a letter which the kingly father wrote to his sons, the Princes August Wilhelm and Oscar, on the day of their confirmation. From this we quote in part:

"My Dear Sons: At the present time, when we are about to express our congratulations that you have joined us in the congregation of the Lord, as men who have a fervid desire to work therein, I should like, as your father, to make a few remarks to you as to the attainment of this aim. This day, in a spiritual sense, is for you similar to the day on which the officer or the soldier takes the oath of loyalty to his colors. As princes of the royal house, you have the privilege of wearing a uniform from the tenth year of your age. To this I desire to compare your confirmation. You are selected as fighters for Christ. With the present day, so to speak, you come of age in your faith. The defense and weapons, as well as the armor, which you will have to use have been taught you and prepared for you by a skilled hand. Their use in all the situations of life is left to you from now on. * * * Now, when I look back on my personal experience, I can only assure you—and your experience will be the same—that the cardinal and main object of human life, and principally that of a life full of responsibility and activity, lies solely and alone in the position we take regarding our Lord and Saviour. * * * There is only one thing I can advise you with all my heart, regarding the life that lies before you: toil and work without intermission; this is the essential part of the Christian life. It was thus He lived before us. Glance at the Scriptures, and read the parables of our Saviour. The severest punishment is for the one who does nothing, who sits idle, or floats with the stream, and allows others to do the work, as in the parable of the talents. Whatsoever be your possessions, or your gifts, every one should try to do the best in his power and in his province to become a personality, to grow into his duties, to toil in them, and to further them in accordance with the example of our Saviour."

Early Christians Were Generous Givers

It is said of them that "every man according to his ability determined to send relief unto the brethren that dwelt in Judea." The occasion for this was the famine which existed there. These gifts were not sent separately, but put together and given to Barnabas and Saul to carry to the Christians in Judea (Saul had been working with Barnabas for at least a year, teaching and preaching both to Jews and Gentiles). Note it was not an assessment made upon the Christians in Antioch; but, learning of the distress among the Judean Christians, each one determined what he was able to give and gave accordingly, with gladness of heart.

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten.

Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore, nothing has been said in these columns about poslam, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. Its publicity and sales have been confined almost exclusively to its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of poslam after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, roughness, and severe scrapings what it does for all manner of skin difficulties—heals and cures in a few hours. It is the only article possessing real antiseptic and curative value that has ever been exploited for this purpose, and will sooth and tone up the skin as no toilet preparation could possibly do.

Poslam can be had for fifty cents at any reliable druggist's, particularly Meyer Brothers, who make a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th Street, New York City, will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in 24 hours.

OBJECT TO STRONG MEDICINE.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all druggists.

OUR FAITH IN THE

Melville Clark Player-Piano

For many years we have trusted our musical standing to a great extent to the Kranich & Bach Piano and the Apollo Player-Piano. We have given these instruments not only our personal guarantee, but our unqualified endorsement.

We have advised our closest friends and our most valued patrons to purchase a Kranich & Bach Piano or a Melville Clark Player-Piano if possible. And now, after test of time, after years of constant usage, after the sales of hundreds of these wonderful instruments, we are proud to concede to them much of the credit for our success and standing among the musical people.

Every Kranich & Bach and every Apollo we have ever sold has given satisfaction. Every purchaser has remained a friend of the house, because every instrument has proven its worth by the service it renders and has backed up in every detail the splendid recommendation given it by our house.

Although the Kranich & Bach and the Apollo cost a little more than other pianos or player-pianos, they cost less to keep, for the expense in the care of the making is paid back tenfold in the wear and in the pleasure of ownership.

Today we recommend the Kranich & Bach and the Apollo, if possible, with greater confidence than ever, for every day of Kranich & Bach and Apollo history adds just so much more to their wonderful reputation.

ANTI-SALOON FIGHT IN DELAWARE AT FEVER HEAT

Muncie, Largest City Yet to Vote, a Hotbed of Option War.

Muncie, Ind., April 23.—With the special election four days away interest and excitement in Delaware county over the momentous question, "wet" or "dry," is fast approaching fever heat. Both of the big organizations of taxpayers carrying on the fight are turning every resource at their command toward victory at the polls, and the decision in the largest city of Indiana yet to vote on the saloon question promises to be close.

Leaders on both sides said today they expected to win. The "wets" organization men estimte the majority by which Delaware county will remain as it is in regard to saloons at 1,500 votes. On the other hand the "dry" organization predicts victory in the county by a majority of 2,000 or 2,500. The latter estimate, it is said, is based on the latest poll taken. Despite the forecasts of the "wets," however, there is no money being waged in Muncie.

"Dry" money goes begging when offered at odds, and there is plenty of it in sight. Muncie in the past has always borne a reputation as the home of men of sporting tendencies, and the absence of betting in local barrooms and cigar stores is unusual at an election time.

Mayor Rose Speaks for "Wets."

Wednesday evening at the Wysor Grand Opera house Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee, was heard by an audience which filled the house. The visitor spoke on the temperance question from the business standpoint and as a factor in the prosperity of the community.

He was not introduced by Mayor Guthrie, republican, of Muncie, who was waited upon by a committee of the "wets" organization and was asked to extend that courtesy to the visitor. Mayor Guthrie is "dry" and he gave this frankly as his reason for refusing to introduce Mayor Rose.

Saturday afternoon the biggest event of the campaign will take place when there will be a parade over the principal business and residence streets of the city. In the line will be a delegation representing all Sunday schools with the exception of but two within a radius of ten miles around Muncie.

Surprises in Parade Promised.

The "dry" organization promises surprises and sensations galore in this parade. Frank C. Ball, millionaire glass manufacturer, will act as grand marshal and he will have fifty aids, among whom will be the leading business men and manufacturers of the city and some of the richest farmers of eastern Indiana.

A decided effort is being made by the leaders of the "dry" organization to keep local politics out of the fight. So far they have been successful. Democratic and republican leaders are working enthusiastically together on both sides of the fight.

ALBERT MOORE HELD FOR A LUNACY COURT

Queer Talk and Actions Lead to Belief He is Insane.

Albert Moore, arrested on a charge of drunkenness preferred by Patrolman Ben Elliott, was held by Judge Skelton in the city court today until next Wednesday and in the meantime it is probable that the lunacy commission will investigate his mental condition. Yesterday he went to the home of George Evarts and had to be thrown out and was picked up later at the Pennsylvania station.

For twenty-five years Moore was employed on the Grand Rapids road and last September he was let out on account of his mental condition. Since then he has been asking people to sign a petition for reinstatement to make him right with the government, he says. He had a blackjack in his pocket and carried a pair of handcuffs when he was arrested.

Wednesday night he was ejected from a train at Rome City because he would not pay his fair and he went to the sanatarium there and got hold of an old patient and placed a handcuff on one of his wrists. He threatened to handcuff the old fellow to the rail and scared him most to death. He was rescued by a conductor. Moore took the stand this morning and his rambling talk indicated that he was unbalanced. He has a sister and other relatives living in Fort Wayne.

Schisler Held Over.

The case against Charles Schisler, arrested yesterday on the charge of offering for sale a lot of hides that had been stolen was continued a week. An affidavit was filed by Capt. Henry Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police department charging grand larceny. Schisler insisted that he ought not to be held and demanded an immediate trial. He said he never had the hides in his possession and knew nothing of them.

Capt. Stoll wanted him held and said he could show the man had offered them for sale at four or five places and a continuance was granted under a bond of $200.

The regular round up of the bawdy houses netted $1,385 as the quarterly levy.

HAS TALK WITH PRESIDENT.

Librarian Commission, Soon to Depart for Africa, Confers With Taft.

Washington, April 23.—The three members of the librarian commission, who are to sail from New York for Africa tomorrow to study conditions in the negro republic, had a final conference with President Taft yesterday.

The committee is made up of Roland P. Falkner, Dr. George Sale and Emmett J. Scott, with George A. Finch as secretary. Besides reporting to the president upon the social, political and industrial conditions in the republic, the commission also will spend some time looking into the foreign relations of Liberia. The members of the commission will make the voyage on board the scout cruisers Birmingham and Chester.

MEYER BROS. CO. SUCCESSFUL.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence Meyer Bros. Co., the popular druggists, have succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half-price introductory offer on the regular fifty cent size of the celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles, that Meyer Bros. Co. are willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

So great is the demand for this specific that Meyer Bros. Co. have been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon them at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price offer with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Our agents are instructed to sell Dr. Howard's Specific under the guarantee of money back if not satisfactory. The Dr. Howard Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid, an irritating, inflammatory accumulation, which gets into the circulation because of weak kidneys, constipation, indigestion, and other physical irregularities which are usually considered of no importance. Nothing applied externally can ever reach the seat of this trouble; the most such treatment can do is soothe the pains temporarily; while potash and other mineral medicines really add to the acidity of the blood, and this fluid therefore continually grows more acrid and vitiated. Then instead of nourishing the different muscles and joints, keeping them in a normally supple and elastic condition, it gradually hardens and stiffens them by drying up the natural oils and fluids. Rheumatism can never be cured until the blood is purified. S. S. S. thoroughly cleanses and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and driving the cause from the system. It strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a sour, weak stream, depositing acrid and painful corrosive matter in the muscles, joints and bones, it nourishes the entire body with pure, rich blood and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. contains no potash, alkali or other harmful mineral, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of great purifying and tonic properties. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE MARKETS

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., April 23.—After rebounding sharply from yesterday's closing figures wheat prices today broke to a level considerably below the lowest point touched during the severe slump in the previous session, the July delivery selling off to $1.08⅝. The more distant deliveries were also subjected to heavy selling pressure under which the December option declined to the dollar mark. The market opened irregular with prices ⅛c lower to 3½c higher, the latter being in the May delivery, which sold at the start at $1.23 to $1.24½. July opened at $1.10½ to $1.11. After the opening bulge the market quickly developed a decidedly weak tone and prices again started downward. Within the first half hour May had declined to $1.21, while at the same time July had sold off to $1.08⅝.

The wheat market quieted down materially during the last half of the day and a much steadier feeling developed after prices had rallied from 1 to 2 cents. The close was fairly steady with July up ¼@⅜c at $1.10¼. May was 1⅜c higher at $1.22½ and September a shade higher at $1.02¼.

The market then rallied a trifle on covering by shorts. With the exception of a compartively firm market at Liverpool, the news of the day was bearish.

Corn prices slumped severely early in the session, under a flood of selling orders, the May delivery declining 4⅜ from the best mark of the preceding day and the July option breaking 3c. The selling was chiefly by leading holders who were anxious to secure profits. At the opening prices were ⅛c to ⅜@½c higher, May being at 70⅜@70⅞c. July opened at 68⅛c to 68¾c. Before the decline was checked May had dropped to 67⅜c, while July had sold off to 66¼c.

The low point for May corn was reached at 67⅜c. The market then rallied on buying by cash houses and regained a large part of the early loss. The close was steady with May at 1@1¼c lower at 69½c. July was off ⅜@⅞c at 67½c.

Oats shared in the general liquidation, but prices experienced less severe declines. May after opening a shade higher at 56⅛c, declined to 55¼c.

Trade in provisions was dull and the market was bearishly affected by the weakness of grain. Prices at the start were 2½c lower to 2½c higher.

The Close.

Prices at the close were as follows:

Wheat—May, $1.22⅛; July, $1.10¼; September, $1.02¼; December, $1.01.

Corn—April, 68⅝c; May, 69⅛c; July, 67½c; September, 66⅝c@66¾c; December, 57½c.

Oats—May, 55½c; July, 53¾@53⅝c; September, 41⅜@41½c; December, 41⅞c.

Pork—May, $17.85; July, $18.02½@18.05; September, $18.00.

Lard—May, $10.30; July, $10.52½@10.45; September, $10.57½.

Ribs—May, $9.60@9.62½; July, $9.70; September, $9.82½.

Rye—Cash, 86@87c; May, 81½c.

Barley—Cash, 65@68c.

Timothy—April $3.80.

Clover—April, $9.50.

Car Lot Receipts.

Wheat—Receipts today were 4 cars, with 2 of contract grade.

Corn—Receipts today were 56 cars, with 16 of contract grade.

Oats—Receipts today were 121 cars.

Total receipts of wheat at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth today were 123 cars, compared with 187 cars last week and 131 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

Chicago Cash Grain.

Chicago, Ill., April 23.—Cash prices: Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.40½; No. 3 red, $1.30¾@1.87½; No. 2 hard, $1.20¾@1.30; No. 3 hard, $1.15¾@1.24½; No. 1 northern, $1.21¾@1.26½; No. 2 northern, $1.19¾@1.24½; No. 3 northern, $1.17¾@1.24½.

Corn—No. 2, 71½c; No. 3, 69c; No. 3 white, 71¼c; No. 3 yellow, 70½c.

Oats—No. 2 white, 56¾c; No. 3 white, 54½@56c; No. 4 white, 54@54¾c.

New York Grain and Provisions.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, April 23.—Active opening dealings today carried prices of stocks upwards in uniform small fractions. There was a sprinkling of declines, including a number of the principal active stocks. Exceptional gains were shown by New York, Chicago & St. Louis, which rose 2⅜, and American Locomotive 1.

The market showed indecision for a while, some of the leaders reacting while others held their own or advanced. Subsequently the list moved upward, but the principal stocks did not get much away from yesterday's final prices. The industrials were unusually prominent.

Profit taking sales caused prices to sag. Here and there stocks sold lower than last night. Trading became very dull at that stage. Hocking Coal, Corn Products preferred and American Cotton Oil preferred rose 1½, Distillers Securities 1¼, and Union Bag preferred 1. American Beet Sugar dropped. Bonds were steady.

Buying of a few leaders failed to stimulate the general market, and when Reading and American Smelting began to weaken, the list yielded sympathetically. Trading increased considerably on the decline. Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred sagged 2, Reading 1¼ and Iowa Central preferred, American Smelting and American Sugar 1. Northwestern preferred rose 3. American Linseed preferred 1½, Rock Island preferred 1⅜ and Amalgamated Copper and Corn Products 1.

Concerted buying of the metal stocks which lifted National Lead 1½ above yesterday's price and wiped out the point loss in American Smelting had an only momentary steadying effect on the general market, which afterwards became very weak.

Reading and other dividend paying railroad stocks were sold freely. Wisconsin Central lost 2¼. Reading 2. American Smelting 1⅝. Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Baltimore & Ohio, Denver & Rio Grande, Pennsylvania, Missouri Pacific, Kansas & Texas, Southern Pacific, American Telephone and Telegraph and International Paper preferred 1 point.

The market closed generally weak and unsettled. There was extensive covering of shorts in the final hour, which worked a substantial rally. At the higher level stocks poured out again and prices receded to a lower point than before. There were some renewed rallies in the final dealings.

LOCAL MARKET EPITOME.

As stated elsewhere, the desire of the farmers to get busy on their soils kept the local produce market down today with buyers everywhere in evidence. Eggs strengthened on the Barr street market and chickens continue in about the same amount of receipts as has been the case for the past three weeks. In this line it is not expected that the receipts will be very heavy for some time to come. The laying season will be over about the first of June and that will be time enough for the farmers to get rid of their supplies. Butter also continued the same today.

Said G. H. Crouse, of the commission house of G. H. Crouse & Co., this morning: "We are not looking for anything very heavy in the way of receipts tomorrow, as many of the farmers chose yesterday for their weekly market day. This will certainly be the case should the weather continue fair. Demands will of course be heavy and the markets may show a slight advance."

The drop in wheat to $1.33 per bushel and the change in the hay market were the only other features today.

MILLINERY

Our Millinery Department shows pretty conceits in Trimmed Hats to be found nowhere else. Hats that embody all the newest style features. Hats that will fit your face becomingly and suit your purse at the same time. If you admire novelty and originality our millinery has that artistic touch inspired in Paris that makes it different, yet carefully following the trend of fashion. Charming Hats for $4, $6, $8, $10 and up to the most exquisite creations from $20 to $50.

Redfern Whalebone Corsets

Certainly these Redfern models are handsome, every line and curve bespeaking grace and easy adaptation to the form.

Long, artistic lines result from the shaping of these models, so we are daily putting Redfern models on all types of forms.

You can repeat your purchase of your satisfactory model of last season, but if you prefer the latest model there is surely one here that will prove satisfactory and eminently comfortable. The very latest models have the long, straight back and comparatively flat effect in hip shaping.

CITY BREVITIES.

M. F. Long, of Butler, is in the city.

The Fort Wayne Consistory will meet this evening.

Mrs. Anna Runser, 1620 High street underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday.

Kenneth L. Hendricks, operator at the Western Union ffices, is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. B. C. Martin, who has been a patient at Hope hospital, has returned to her home at Bourbon.

The Hilker hall at New Haven will be the scene of a reception and dance to be given by the N. B. O. N. club on May 22nd.

Philip Tremmel, of Jackson, Mich., has returned to his home after attending the funeral of his father, Conrad Tremmel.

Directors and officers of the Tri-State Loan and Trust company will enjoy a banquet on Saturday evening, May 1.

J. C. Peltier, who has been seriously ill for some time, is greatly improved and was able to be at his place of business today.

The dramatic section of the Turnverein Vorwaerts has disbanded for the spring and will re-organize in the fall, when plans will be made to give several plays both in English and German.

The adoption degree was given to a large class of candidates by the local drill team at the district meeting of the Red Men in Warsaw yesterday. A large part of the local membership attended the meeting.

George L. Griley has given the contract to erect three houses on the corner of Third and Barthold streets to Samuel Henline. Tompkinson & Son have obtained the plumbing and gas fitting contracts.

The deputy enumerators have completed their work in Wayne township outside of Fort Wayne, and their reports show that there is a total of 765 school children, an increase of 85 over the enumeration of last year. All those between the ages of six and twenty-one years are considered school children.

A handsome and costly watch charm, bearing the emblem of the order, was presented to Past Worthy President John W. Eggeman by the Fort Wayne Lodge of Eagles at its meeting last evening. Frank Deck in the presentation talk spoke very highly of Mr. Eggeman's efforts during his term in office and the recipient responded in words of deep appreciation.

Paint That Lasts

Cheap Paints are expensive because they do not last. Our BOYDELL'S READY-MIXED PAINTS are the best, because they last the longest, look the best and give entire satisfaction. The test of time proves this. They are made of the purest linseed oil, white lead, zinc and color. An honest painter prefers our READY-MIXED PAINTS because he knows it's to HIS interest to do a good job. It is to YOUR interest to see that he does use them. They are made to last, whether used for house, floor, carriage, enamel, interior or roof.

A gallon of the best ready-mixed paint for $1.50.
